Al Schnitzer, Douglas sportsman, has laid claim to the season's record for bagging a deer at long range. Using a 30-30 rifle Mr. Schnitzer killed a buck deer at 800 yards in Horseshoe Canyon, fifty-five miles from here, he reported in claiming the long-distance title. The buck had six points and dressed 229 pounds. It is of the black-tail species and is said to be the largest of that kind ever killed in Cochise county.

FILM GROUP WILL HAVE TRIAL SET

Representatives Appear Producing and Exhibiting Today in Antitrust Case

Representatives of West Coast Theaters, Inc., and other motion-picture producing and exhibiting companies, as well as Harold B. Franklin, president and general manager of the West Coast company, are scheduled to appear in the court of United States District Judge James today to have their case set for trial. The companies and Mr. Franklin are accused of conspiracy to violate the Sherman Antitrust Act by discrimination against theaters giving two features on one program, or prizes, or having an admission fee of less than 10 cents.

In addition to West Coast, the companies involved are Fox Film Corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation, First National Pictures, Inc.; Universal Film Exchange, Inc.; Vitagraph, Inc.; Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., of California; Pathe Exchange, Inc.; Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation and United Artists' Corporation.

It is expected that about fifteen attorneys, representing the various companies, will make appearance today to discuss the setting of the case for trial.

Metal Aircraft Test Scheduled

The all-metal airship that is expected to slip through the air in a vacuum, the City of Glendale, will be launched within two weeks, officials of the Slate Aircraft Corporation, announced last night.

For several years Capt. Thomas Slate has been at work on a dirigible that will make headway by means of a blower in its nose and he believes his ship will prove this principle.

Instead of steam power for the blower, as originally planned, the City of Glendale is being equipped with a gasoline motor to run the blower and an auxiliary pusher-power plant astern the cabin.

The giant bag is in its hangar at Grand Central Air Terminal and will start its maiden flight from there.

GRAVES COURT ORDER

ver buried in the park, to some other burying place.

The order just signed by the court ends the last bit of litigation over the cemetery, a suit begun in 1927 by McCaskill against the Bank of Italy and others for an interpretation of and declaration of rights under a declaration of trust and for termination of trust.

McCaskill was the original owner of the property. It was sold by him to Clyde Paine and others, who attempted to promote a cemetery out of it. It was during this period the bodies from the County Farm were buried there. The venture did not succeed, it is asserted, because the promoters failed to obtain enough signatures of adjoining property owners permitting the establishment of a cemetery there. The business of the concern and property was taken over in trust by the Marine Trust and Savings Bank, which institution was later taken over by the Bank of Italy.

Three Short Days in Week and Closed Saturday Decided Upon

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Trading in the New York securities markets returned to nearly normal proportions today after a brief flurry of selling, representing the execution of a vast accumulation of orders over the week-end, took place at the opening of the exchanges. Prices fell off $1 to $12 a share at the opening, rallied moderately before the end of the first hour and then extended their initial declines in a [illegible] selling movement, which carried nearly two score issues down $5 to $25 a share below last week's final quotations. Closing quotations generally were around the low levels of the day.

For the first time in about a fortnight, the stock exchange ticker caught up with the market in the early afternoon trading and printed the final quotation within an hour after the close. Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange were 6,202,930 shares, as against 7,149,360 in last Thursday's abbreviated session and 16,410,030 shares in the record-breaking session last Tuesday.

SHORTER SESSIONS

Governors of the New York Stock Exchange voted before the opening of the market to shorten the daily sessions on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from five to three hours, opening at 10 a.m. and closing at 1 p.m., and to suspend business all day Saturday. Similar action was taken by the New York Curb Exchange and the securities division of the Produce Exchange. All exchanges and banks also are closed tomorrow, election day, a legal holiday in New York.

Despite the fact that the exchanges were closed last Friday and Saturday, this further suspension of trading was deemed necessary because brokerage concerns found it impossible to catch up with the tremendous accumulation of work that piled up last week and to give their staffs sufficient rest. Most of the brokerage houses were manned by full staffs, not only on Friday and Saturday of last week, but on Sunday as well in a strenuous effort to straighten out the many tangles that had developed.

MUCH STILL UNDONE

Evidence that much still remains to be done was apparent from the call of the stock and curb exchanges requiring all specialists to have an authorized representative on the floor not later than 8:45 a.m. at the closing business sessions of the week, and calling on telephone

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 4. [To the Editor of The Times:] Went to see one of the modern football games and the thing that struck an old timer was that on every play there would be twenty-two different men facing each other. They could go in, and come out, go in and come out; in fact, that's what tired 'em out, going in and so much.

Imagine baseball if every time you wanted a hit you could send in Ruth. Every time you wanted a fly ball caught you could send in Speaker. Ruth could go telephone and come back and bat again. The good pitcher could stay out till they got three men on bases then come in and strike 'em out, and then go eat hot dogs till three more got on, then could come back in again.

Football don't need referees; they need United States census takers, and that's what is drawing the crowds. People want to see how many boys attend each college.

An old alumni—

FORD PLANT ANTISTRIKE VOTE WINS

Mexico City Factory May Get Federal Protection as Result of Poll

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Federal protection for Henry Ford's plant here seems probable tonight following a poll of the strikers which showed that a majority of the workers do not approve of the walkout last Wednesday.

A poll of employees was taken today by the Federal Board of Arbitration in an effort to determine how many workers really approved the strike. The results showed that the group which did not favor the walkout had a majority of eight.

Immediately upon an announcement of the result of the poll, strike leaders protested the legality of the number of antistrike voters.

The board of arbitration, pending the outcome of the poll, had delayed its decision to furnish the Ford management with police protection and allow nonunion labor to be employed. Now, however, it is presumed a decision will be rendered immediately permitting the plant to resume operations.

Jail Burns at Angels Camp

French Jury's Verdict Draws Cheers and Sobs from Crowd in Court

Slayer Pleading Own Cause Tells of Killing Parent Tortured by Cancer

DRAGUIGNAN (France) Nov. 4. (AP)—Amid exhibitions of the wildest enthusiasm, Richard Corbett, son of an English father and a French mother, was acquitted today by a jury of charges of murdering his mother to put her out of pain.

Corbett, who would accept no lawyer and spoke in his own defense, frankly admitted that he had shot his mother last May to relieve her sufferings from an incurable case of cancer. He made a dramatic plea to the jury, declaring he felt he had done right, even though he had broken the law.

PROSECUTOR ELOQUENT

The Public Prosecutor, in a brief and impassioned speech, demanded a verdict establishing Corbett's guilt.

"I am not asking for excessive punishment. But this startling case develops the tremendously vital question whether society can permit one human being to take the life of another and remain unpunished," he said. He demanded the minimum sentence of five years' solitary confinement.

When the jurors, after an hour's deliberation, returned to the crowded and excited courtroom and announced their verdict of "not guilty," men and women rose as one mass of cheering and sobbing humanity.

JUDGE SYMPATHETIC

The judge, whose attitude was sympathetic to the defendant throughout the trial, ordered the courtroom cleared immediately, but the police had a difficult job doing it. There were hundreds of persons massed in front of the building.

Corbett, who sat with head bowed during the proceedings and took little interest in them, killed his mother in May and then shot himself. He recovered in a hospital.

In one concession to the tensity of emotion he was experiencing, Corbett summed up his own case to the jury today.

"Gentlemen, my mother was suffering tortures. The doctors agreed she could not recover. I feel that, though I broke the law, I did right. I'm willing to pay any penalty you think just. My action would not have been necessary if the state would pass a law enabling doctors to end the suffering of incurables."

REPORTERS DECIDE THEY WILL SERVE

Three Washington Men Go Back to Jail as Appeal Appears to be Hopeless

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Three reporters, released on bail last week after being sentenced to forty-five days for contempt of court, today voluntarily re-entered prison to begin serving their sentences.

The men, Gorman M. Hendricks, Linton Burkett and John E. Nevin, Jr., all employees of the Washington Times, decided to go back to jail after their attorney had informed them it was almost a certainty their sentence will be confirmed by the Court of Appeals. They then requested Justice Siddons of the District of Columbia Supreme Court to dismiss habeas corpus proceedings and remand them to prison.

The three were sentenced after they had refused to give the grand jury the names and addresses from whom they said they purchased liquor for the purpose of gathering material for a crime conditions survey in Washington.

Canadian Plane Party Safe

Eight Men Lost Two Months Reported by Ship on Hudson Bay

Inclement Weather Will Make Rescue Work Dangerous

WINNIPEG (Man.) Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—"The MacAlpine party is safe and well."

This brief radio message, received by two radio stations, one at The Pas and one at Ottawa, brought relief to thousands in Canada today who have been following with apprehension for the last eight weeks the story of the greatest air search in the history of Canada.

The radio report was sent from a Hudson Bay steamer, the Fort St. James, which is moored in Cambridge Bay, on the south shore of Victoria Island. Whether the eight missing men were found by the crew of the steamer or by the air patrol of four planes under command of Capt. Blanchette is not yet known.

THOSE IN PARTY

In the plane with Col. C. D. H. MacAlpine, president of the Dominion Explorers Company, were Pilot Stanley MacMillan, California boy who flew with serum to Nome, Alaska, when an epidemic raged there; Chief Mechanic A. G. Milne, and Geologist A. D. Boadway, all of the Dominion Explorers.

In the same party, but in another plane, were Pilot C. A. Thompson, Maj. Baker, Mechanic Goodwin and Richard Pearce, editor of the Northern Miner, representing the Western Canadian Airways. The design of the eight men was to explore the barren lands for minerals.

On September 8, last, they took off from Baker Lake on a short dash to Aklaik and had not been heard from until today.

The work of rescue will be arduous and dangerous because of the inclement weather of what is known here as the in-between-seasons, that is, the season between the summer and winter freeze-up. It may be weeks before the men are brought out to Bathurst.

AVIATION EPIC

Skis can not be used in landing at the point where they are reported to be, and the rescue flyers can make only short, desperate flights on those few days when weather permits.

Nevertheless four of Canada's crack pilots succeeded in writing an epic in aviation when they literally crashed their way through to the Arctic circle.

Victoria Island, where the party is reported to have been found, is 200 miles immediately north of Bathurst Inlet, the headquarters of the flyers who were conducting the search for the missing men. Bathurst Inlet is separated from the mainland by Coronation Gulf.

Cambridge Bay is to the east of the mouth of the inlet and it is in the same general direction—though across the gulf—in which the search planes have been scouting for the last week.

Friends of Detroit Man Convinced He Has Met With Misfortune

DETROIT, Nov. 4. (AP)—Definite fear for the safety of William J. Scripps, 24-year-old president of the Gliders, Inc., manufacturers of gliders, and son of W. E. Scripps, publisher of the Detroit News, became manifest today as a police search for the young man, missing since October 23, last, continues to be fruitless. He was last seen in Windsor, Ont. His associates now believe that he has met with an accident which prevents him from communicating with his home or that he is being detained by force.

Business trips took Scripps across the river frequently to Windsor and the Walkerville Airport, and private investigation by the family revealed that he went to Windsor two weeks ago to meet Oscar Kuhn of his country.

AID RUSHED TO VICTIMS OF VOLCANO

GUATEMALA CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—The government and the Red Cross tonight redoubled efforts to give relief to the 300 victims of the violent eruption of the volcano Santa Maria, seventy miles northwest of this city. The official death list today stood at twenty-one.

The volcano suddenly began violent eruption of sand and lava yesterday which continued today, although with somewhat diminished force. A stream of lava ran down the course of the Samalea River causing suffocating heat in the district around Quezaltenango, Retalhuleu, and Macaltenango. Property damage in the El Palmar area was estimated at $1,000,000.

Special trains were chartered to carry the relief workers to the scene of destruction and hospitals at Retalhuleu and Quezaltenago cared for any burned cases.

Several tales of heroism were told, among them the case of David Rodriquez, who remained at his telegraph key summoning aid until the glowing lava reached the door of the office.

The opening of a new crater on the mountain is believed to have prevented still greater damage by earthquakes by releasing the pent-up energies.

TUBE STUCK IN OWN HEART

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times]

Applying a local anaesthetic only, Dr. Forssmann inserted a highly sterilized and well-lubricated rubber catheter, 65 centimeters (about two feet, one and one-half inches) long, into the vein directly above the left elbow. Carefully manipulating it upward and under the collarbone, he succeeded in locating the stump of an artery through which he passed the catheter into his heart.

The course and location of the probe were carefully registered by means of X-ray apparatus, which enabled Dr. Forssmann to observe minutely the progress of his experiment. It lasted less than a minute and produced no ill effects on him.

Dr. Forssmann is an assistant surgeon at the Augusta Victoria Hospital, where the experiment was carried out in the presence of his professional colleagues and nurses.

The young surgeon says he now proposes to investigate the practical possibilities of treating heart ailments by injecting drugs through the medium of a catheter propelled through the veins directly into the heart.

Court Refuses to Call Hoover Election Void

BOSTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Federal Court here has rejected a petition to set aside the last Presidential election which placed Herbert Hoover in the White House, it became known today.

The author of the petition was Countess Ida Von Claussen whose suit against the late President Theodore Roosevelt brought her into prominence several years ago.

The Countess set forth that while in Italy her passport was seized by the Italian government, thus preventing her return to this country to vote for Alfred E. Smith. Had she been able to return and tell her story of the political situation, she averred, Smith would have been elected.

The court ruled that it was without jurisdiction.

REBUKE FOR BINGHAM

Senate Condemns Act by Vote

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Taking the first action of its kind it has deemed necessary in twenty-seven years, the Senate this afternoon adopted a resolution by a vote of 54 to 22, censuring and condemning the conduct of Senator Bingham, Republican of Connecticut, in hiring a paid official of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association as a government "clerk" to aid in the Finance Committee writing of the tariff bill.

The action was taken after a dramatic debate, in which Bingham sought to defend himself on the ground he meant no wrong, and amid floor and gallery excitement unusual in Capitol history.

APOLOGY REFUSED

The tall Connecticut Senator, war-time flyer and commandant of the famous pursuit school at Issoudon, France, maintained to the last that his employment of Charles A. Eyanson of the tariff lobby was proper and above reproach. He refused absolutely to apologize so that the resolution of censure would be dropped. And when the announcement was made that the resolution had passed, he only [illegible] to Senator Gould of Maine, sitting in the next seat, and grinned.

Later, he said, he had no intention of resigning from the Senate or of even relinquishing his place on the Finance Committee, where he got into all the trouble.

Senators Johnson and Shortridge of California both voted against the resolution of censure.

Before it was passed the resolution was softened somewhat so that in its final form it relieved Senator Bingham of the stigma of intending anything improper, and denouncing the action rather than the man. It said in effect, that while the employment of Eyanson was not the result of corrupt intentions on Bingham's part, it was contrary to Senate morals and ethics and tended to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute and therefore was to be "condemned."

THE RESOLUTION

The resolution was offered by Senator Norris of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. As adopted, it read as follows:

"Resolved, that the action of the Senator from Connecticut, Mr. Bingham, in placing Mr. Charles A. Eyanson upon the official rolls of the Senate and his use by Senator Bingham at the time and in the manner set forth in the report of the subcommittee of the Committee on the Judiciary (report No. 43, Seventy-first Congress, first session) while not the result of corrupt motives on the part of the Senator from Connecticut, is contrary to good morals and Senatorial ethics and tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute, and such conduct is hereby condemned."

Ten of the twenty-two votes cast against the resolution came from New England. The roll call follows:

FOREST FIRE RAZES TOWN

Hartmill Reported Destroyed and Bidwell's Bar in Path of Blaze Which Baffles Fighters

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—One small town in the upper end of the Sacramento Valley is reported to have been razed and another, the historic old mining settlement of Bidwell's Bar, is reported in the path of unstemmed flames tonight in a new outbreak of forest and brush fires. The town said to have been destroyed is Hartmill, on the Oroville-Quincy highway. The blaze is one of eight which burned over the week-end.

That portion of it declared bearing down on Bidwell's Bar is reported to have been thought under control once, but burst forth in much more serious proportion than originally when a high north wind caught burning embers, flicked them into tree tops and then bore flaming clumps from tree to tree, defying the efforts of 200 fire fighters and resulting in calls for additional help.

At last reports, its front was said to have been stretched to twenty miles, with from 8000 to 10,000 acres already burned over and other thousands in danger.

Another blaze, declared incendiary, nearly destroyed the foresters' lookout station at Mt. Zion, Amador county.

Seventy fire fighters from Oroville rapidly erected barriers in succession, but as fast as they did, the flames are said to have leaped them and pushed on. Driven steadily back, fire fighters at length turned their attention to Hartmill, but found, by that time, the flames were far beyond control.

The situation is considered so serious Robert Dearing, assistant United States district ranger, and Jacob Price, forest inspector for the California district, joined forces with John C. Gray, Federal forest ranger, and Miles H. Young State ranger, in directing combative efforts.

Elsewhere the fire menace was declared well in hand.

In the east bay district, Oakland and Berkeley police began a search for a pyromaniac whom they believe responsible for not less than twenty-five fires which have caused much property loss and intermittent fear in various communities for the last several days.

They said they have received several telephone calls from purported witnesses to incendiarism. The reports, in many instances, told of an automobile load of men stopping alongside highways where brush clumps offered fodder, dropped lighted cigarettes in them and waited until a blaze sprang up before driving away.

CENSURE VOTE GIVEN BINGHAM

Senate Condemns Member's Hiring of Lobbyist

Connecticut Man Refuses to Voice Apology

Norris Bitterly Denounces Softening of Rebuke

Senator Bingham voted "present."

The amendment which absolved Bingham from any corrupt motive was offered by Glenn, Republican, of Illinois, after previous attempts to more radically lighten the censure and even to head it off altogether, had been voted down by large majorities. In its final form it was reminiscent of the famous Newberry resolution of seven years ago, which denounced Newberry's methods in gaining a Senate seat, but nevertheless declared him entitled to the seat.

Norris accepted the change, but not without showing disgust. He turned to Bingham and said:

"We are going to tell you, Senator Bingham, that we condemn this action of yours, but that you are the greatest genius under the sun. We laud you, but condemn your action."

NORRIS BITTER

In this statement Norris began to lose the judicial manner that had characterized his attitude in the matter up to that point and displayed what appeared to observers as a bit too much animus. Then, when Bingham smiled a little under the direct attack, forbidden by Senate rules, Norris became completely exasperated and fortified by the knowledge he had the majority of the Senate behind him in the proceedings, lashed Bingham even more severely for his failure to realize that he had offended the Senate.

"He hasn't yet reached the point where he knows that the country condemns this thing," Norris told the Senate.

"He has not yet grasped the situation. He doesn't know yet what the Senate is doing. He does not know yet that by his action he did something injurious to the honor and dignity of the Senate."

Breathless and crowded galleries watched the proceedings. Such a spectacle is not provided every day in the Senate. Such emotions as those running a wide range this afternoon are seldom bared. Such a personal encounter involving the reputation of an individual Senator, is not often imparted to the deliberations. The last time a censure resolution was voted was when Senator Tillman and Senator McLaurin of South Carolina were reproved back in 1902 for engaging in a fist fight on the floor.

GILLETT DEFENDS

Particular tenseness was supplied when the veteran Gillett of Massachusetts, former Speaker of the House, sought to stave off formal censure of Bingham, while not condoning the latter's conduct, and dwelt on other Senatorial offenses which might be punishable if the Senate felt inclined to start in on a real purity campaign.

He told some unpleasant truths about putting wives and sisters and aunts and sons on the Senate pay roll and about drinking. He said that many times when he was in the House he had seen men legislating while under the influence of liquor.

Bingham's most vigorous ally was Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, a fellow-member of the Finance Committee. He recalled Bingham's war record, telling how the latter despite being over age had picked out the most dangerous branch of the service in the World War and how his patriotism had carried him into the role of an aviator and found him finally in command of the great American pursuit school in France. In the midst of Reed's speech as in derision there came a low hum of the "Star Spangled Banner" from the gallery, as if to show that the onlookers were against Bingham and in no mood for flag waving.

Senator Norris started things by announcing as soon as the Senate met that he was ready for a vote on his resolution. Bingham at once took the floor.

BINGHAM'S DEFENSE

He declared, after citing the words of the Norris resolution, that he was innocent on all its counts; that there was nothing dishonorable or corrupt in his employment of Eyanson; that no government money stuck to their fingers; that he got Eyanson because he personally knew nothing about the tariff and Eyanson knew a lot. He said he had not violated ethics or good morals. He pointed out that the President in his message had said that certain industries are in need of additional protection.

"In order that I might know clearly and definitely what those industries were," he added, "I felt it my duty to secure the services of the best posted man I could find."

Only once did Bingham approach a confession.

"Whatever mistakes of judgment I have made, however, indiscreet or overzealous I may have been, the fact remains that whatever I did was done in an effort to secure the most complete information regarding the needs of those whose present conditions and whose prospects brought them within the bounds of the President's message."

This was the nearest to an admission he made and it was far from enough for Norris and his colleagues whom Bingham denounced as "packing" the lobby investigating committee in order to "cover with political slime a friend of the administration."

To Senator Dill of Washington, Democrat, who later said the Republican leadership should remove Bingham from the Finance Committee the Connecticut man admitted he "probably was wrong" in not telling his committee colleagues of Eyanson's connections.

BINGHAM DENIES WRONG MOTIVE

Defends Eyanson Affair in Senate Speech

Pleads Not Guilty to All Three Charges

Says He Sought Only to Aid Tariff Problem

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Employment of Charles L. Eyanson, assistant to the president of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association, as his secretary during consideration of the tariff by the Senate Finance Committee was defended in the Senate today by Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut. His statement defending this course follows in part:

"The resolution asks for the condemnation of my having placed Mr. Eyanson, secretary to the president of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association on the Senate rolls on three grounds: First, that it is contrary to good morals; second, that it is contrary to Senatorial ethics; and, third, that it tends to damage the honor and reputation of the Senate. . . .

"I desire to be heard briefly in regard to the three charges which have been brought against me.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

"In the first place, it is claimed that the employment of Mr. Eyanson was contrary to good morals. It is difficult, Mr. President, to know exactly what is meant by this expression, 'contrary to good morals,' but if it means anything at all it must mean that there was something in this employment which was immoral in the sense of being dishonorable or corrupt. To this charge, Mr. President, I plead not guilty.

"There was nothing in his employment which was dishonorable or corrupt. Not one dollar of the public money was wasted. Not a single taxpayer's dollar was employed for any sinister purpose.

"I did not profit to the extent of one dollar by any part of this transaction. It happens that I have not a single dollar invested in any of the Connecticut companies seeking an increase in tariff rates, which might be presumed to be represented by an official of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association.

"Not a penny of the public money stuck to my fingers, nor to the fingers of Mr. Eyanson. On the contrary, whatever he received while on the government pay roll was turned over to the clerk who continued to perform the same functions in my office as he had done previously, and as he has continued to do since.

SOUGHT "BEST POSTED"

"There was nothing about the transaction that was dishonorable or corrupt. The Connecticut Manufacturers' Association did not seek any unfair advantage. In loaning me one of their highly paid officials they did so at my request in order that I might secure that person in Connecticut who was best posted on all sides of the tariff problem

"Mr. Eyanson behaved throughout in an exemplary manner, endeavoring his best to present to me the facts as to why certain increases or certain decreases in the tariff schedules were necessary. In no case did he attempt to deceive me. In all cases did he make an effort to bring facts to my attention. There is no evidence whatsoever that he misrepresented the facts or attempted to becloud the issue or in any way whatsoever attempted to gain any unfair advantage for the Connecticut manufacturers by a misconstruction of the facts or a faulty presentation of them.

"He is a highly trained business executive. He had a splendid war record and has a splendid record in business. Of all my constituents I believed him to be the best posted on the bill passed by the House of Representatives. In all his relations with me there was nothing dishonorable or corrupt in the slightest degree. There was nothing contrary to good morals.

THE SECOND POINT

"Now let us take the second point. It is claimed that his being placed in the rolls of the Senate was contrary to Senatorial ethics. It is fair to assume, Mr. President, that the expression Senatorial ethics relates to what is considered by Senatorial practice to be right or wrong. . . . Again, Mr. President, I plead not guilty.

"Everyone in the Senate knows that to each Senator, no matter what sihpostiion, whether he be chairman of a committee or the newest arrival with few duties, there are assigned four clerkships. If he is the chairman of a committee they bear the title which relates to that committee. If he is not a chairman of a committee then they bear a title as being related directly to him. If he is chairman of a very important committee with a large amount of work to be done, more than four clerkships are allotted to him. In any event, Mr. President, every Senator has an allowance of four personal clerkships.

"Every Senator knows that these clerkships are allotted to each Senator for such use as he chooses to make of them, it being taken for granted that he is the best judge of such employment and that they are given him to enable him the better to serve his constituents, to take care of his correspondence, to attend to business of his office. In a word, to enable him the better to carry out his duties as a Senator from the State which sent him there.

NO RESTRICTIONS

"There is no restriction on who should be appointed or how he or she will be employed. That is the custom of the Senate. That is the nature of Senatorial ethics so far as those positions are concerned.

"According to Senatorial ethics no Senator is to be criticised if he chooses to place members of his family in these clerical positions. He is not to be accused of nepotism if he appoints cousins, nephews, nieces or sons or daughters in these positions. He is not accused of doing something contrary to Senatorial ethics if he uses one of these positions to pay a salary to the wife of his chief clerk, who herself does nothing directly for the government, but indirectly serves the Senator and his constituents by helping to keep her husband well and happy and enabling him to give better service to the Senator and his constituents.

"According to business ethics such employment might be regarded with askance, but it should be remembered that according to Senatorial ethics those four clerical positions have always been considered to be part of the prerequisites of a Senator to be used by him in whatever manner he deems to be best for the interest of his constituents.

"So far as I have been able to learn, according to Senatorial ethics, no official of the government, no official of the Senate, no committee of the Senate has ever held that a Senator was answerable as to whom he appointed or as to how the clerk was used. In view of this fact, Mr. President, I do not see how my placing of Mr. Eyanson on the rolls as one of my four clerks can possibly be held to be contrary to Senatorial ethics.

THIRD CHARGE

"The third charge is that my action tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute, Mr. President. In order for this action to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute, it must have had some sinister motive and must have been directed against the interest of the people of the United States.

"Obviously, it is felt by those who favor this resolution that my motives in this action were evil or else that the action itself had resulted in some public calamity or was adverse to the public interest. Mr. President, I do not believe that those who have done me the honor of listening to or of reading my previous statements will accuse me of having had dishonorable or unpatriotic motives. My sole desire was to secure the best possible information on a difficult and intricate subject, particularly as it related to the people who elected me to the United States Senate. Since this episode occurred I have learned that four or five Senators have had tariff experts assigned to their offices by the Tariff Commission.

"I have learned that it is considered entirely proper and ethical to take government employees away from their regular employment and off the desks which they ordinarily fill and bring them down to the Senate office building and give them desks in the private offices of Senators, where they can furnish statistics to be used in arguments against a high protective tariff.

LOAN OF BEST MAN

"Had I known that this practice was considered proper, it is possible that I should have asked the Tariff Commission to assign a similar expert to me to work in my office at public expense, furnishing me with facts and information to be used in arguments in favor of a high protective tariff. Not realizing, however, Mr. President, that that was considered a normal procedure, I asked that association in my State which is most intimately concerned with the process of manufacture, with the problems of employment and unemployment, with the actual costs of production, to lend me the best man they had who knew these facts . . ."

Bingham said if he had not obtained the services of a tariff expert to help him he might be willing to admit "that my action would bring the Senate into disrepute."

He asserts his sole purpose in placing Mr. Eyanson on the official rolls of the Senate was to be better prepared to assist his constituents in Connecticut.

"My judgment in the way in which I endeavored to use this tariff expert may have been at fault," he said. "On the other hand, my motives in doing so were basesd on my wholehearted zeal for a protective tariff."

Harbin Consuls Confer on Safety Measures

American Envoy Arranges to Protect Nationals

Japanese Will Raise Men for City's Defense

HARBIN (Manchuria) Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The threatened soviet military advance on Harbin is advertised to begin Thursday.

The foreign consular body met today to discuss the situation but deferred decisions on all but precautionary measures until another meeting next Monday.

Several of the consuls expressed doubt that the advance will be carried out this week, believing that it will wait until the Sungari River is sufficiently frozen over to bear up troops and artillery, as well as to provide landing places for airplanes.

United States Consul Hanson said he had prepared a map of the city showing the homes of American citizens. In the event of serious trouble he will designate the consulate as a refuge, since it has a stone and concrete cellar, which will provide protection against stray air bombs.

The Japanese population presents the chief problem, since it consists of nearly 4000 Japanese as well as 1500 Koreans. According to Consul Yagi the Japanese community has mapped out definite plans for concentration at various parts of the city, and they will possibly raise a local defense of 600 men.

The consuls decided that the first safety measure in the event of invasion will be the evacuation of women and children to Darien. They believe that a real Red advance on Harbin will be likely to create an indescribable panic due to the large population of 100,000 Russians, half of whom are White Russians and who likely will be the chief object of Red animosity.

INSTITUTE SPEAKER TELLS MOVE JAPANESE MISSED

KYOTO (Japan) Nov. 5. (AP) (Tuesday)—Yosuke Matsuoka, until recently vice-president of the South Manchurian Railway, told the round table of the Institute of Pacific Relations today that if Japan had known at the end of the Russian war in 1905 that a secret alliance against Japan then existed between China and Russia, she would have annexed all of South Manchuria and today the South Manchurian question between Japan and China would be nonexistent.

The conference yesterday opened a three-day debate on the Manchurian question. The press was barred from the sessions.

Matsuoka's speech was aimed as a refutation of the assertions of several Chinese speakers that Japan had exacted too high a price for maintenance of order and promotion of prosperity in Manchuria. The delegates applauded Matsuoka's speech heartily.

The New York banking group held no meetings or conferences today and issued no statements. Spokesmen for the group expressed pleasure at the apparent passing of the hysteria which characterized many of the recent markets, but indicated that the organization will be maintained for the time being, although no further meetings have been called or are contemplated.

SILENT ON RUMORS

Spokesmen for the group declined to affirm or deny rumors that stock bought for supporting purposes last week had been sold.

With the market open only half a day last Thursday and closed altogether on Friday and Saturday, today's opening was awaited with unusual interest because of widely published reports that there had been a tremendous accumulation of buying orders over the week-end. Instead of the expected rally, however, prices sold off sharply as blocks of 10,000 to 50,000 shares of the leading issues were thrown into the market.

RECEIVERSHIP PETITION AFTERMATH OF SLUMP

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—A petition for the appointment of an equity receiver for the Bankers' Capital Corporation, incorporated in Delaware, with head office at 44 Wall street, was filed late today with Federal Judge Bondy. The petitioner is the Superior Credit Corporation of Worcester, Mass.

Attorneys for the defendant company, which joined in the petition for a receivership, said that "the financial furore," in Wall street was the cause of the petition being filed as the sudden lowering in values of securities held by the defendant corporation had lessened its ability to obtain working capital on loans based on collateral.

RASKOB DENIES BEING "STOCK PLUNGER"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Denial that he is a "stock-market plunger," was made today by John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in a letter received by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, and read to the Senate. The letter is in reply to a charge by Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, that Mr. Raskob had encouraged speculation, even by those of small means.

"Senator Robinson's speech is so manifestly a political attack that I fee not only Democrats, but all citizens regardless of political affiliations have a right to expect me to reply to this false, vicious and wholly unwarranted attack," says Mr. Raskob. "The answer is that I do not gamble in the stock market. I always have purchased stocks outright, investing in the securities of those companies that I thought had an attractive future and have held the stocks until such time as I felt they were selling for all they were worth."

CHARGES FLUNG ON EVE OF VOTE

New York Foes Lambaste Each Other Wickedly

Tammany Men Ordered to Bring Home Bacon

Walker Confident Despite Italian-Democrats

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Cries of fraud to be practiced in the election tomorrow; charges that Tammany is attempting colonizing on the largest scale in recent years; another broadside from the Republican camps accusing the Walker administration of nearly every political crime known, and a hurried and rather surprising last-minute clash of the organizations for the big negro vote in Harlem feature the closing hours of the municipal campaign.

"Carry every Assembly District in Manhattan and elect every Democrat running for office" was the final word from John F. Curry, new chief of Tammany, now managing his first city campaign and seeking in this contest to cement his grip and establish himself firmly in his leadership.

SURE OF RESULTS

Although the outcome tomorrow seems generally discounted and there appears on the surface no upset at the finish to make necessary revision of the predictions that Walker and the Democrats will clean up in the election, there seems to be feverish activity in certain quarters to hold the voters in line.

The Democrats concede that F. H. La Guardia is holding his own with the Italian voters and it is estimated that he will poll more than 100,000 Italian-Democratic votes. The Republicans say it will pass 150,000. Yet in spite of that loss the Walker managers adhere to their figure that he will have more than 500,000 plurality.

That loss will be more than made up by an increased Jewish vote in the uptown sections and the small shopkeepers plus the Republicans who are bolting the La Guardia ticket. The poll taken in forty-four leading motion-picture houses in the city showed that in the strictly Italian districts the vote was as high as five to one for La Guardia.

Keyes Winter, Republican-Fusion campaign manager, repeated his prediction that La Guardia will win by 200,000. This is the plurality the Republican Congressman fixed for himself some days ago.

SOCIALISTS CONFIDENT

Norman Thomas and his Socialist party managers are satisfied that he will end the contest on the top of the wave. He sensed a strong movement in his favor about two weeks ago. In the closing hours the Socialists see Thomas picking up again and credit this to the evidence they have that thousands of Republicans who have been wavering finally have decided to go to Thomas as the best means of rebuking both the old organizations.

Richard E. Enright, whose candidacy seems to have faded out of the political picture, said his campaign had cost $50,000 and he regards the money as well spent if it has served only to arouse the independent voters. If the city is ever to be redeemed it will be done by independent votes represented in a movement like this, the former Police Commissioner said.

California Man Wins Court Tilt on Federal Land

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner-General of the Land Office lost their appeal today from a decision of the District of Columbia Supreme Court that Eric Lyders is entitled to an injunction to prevent the issuance of a patent for Whaler Island in the harbor at Crescent City, Cal., to Del Norte county.

The District of Columbia Court of Appeals affirmed the injunction of the theory that Whaler Island, having been selected under a Valentine scrip, became a vested right in Lyders's name which can not be affected by executive withdrawal order, or by an act of Congress directing the Secretary of the Interior to patent land to Del Norte county.

Supreme Court of State Upholds Judge's Sentence in Queer Contempt Case

PHOENIX, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Arizona Supreme Court today upheld the sentence of Judge Phelps against Loranzo Wright, superintendent of the State prison, imposing a $1000 fine or a six months' jail term for contempt of court. The higher court ruled Wright was not entitled to an appeal or admission to bail.

Wright was cited for contempt of Superior Court on grounds that he had allowed a prisoner, William Brown, to live outside the penitentiary in violation of the court's sentence.

Shortly after he was cited, Wright obtained bail on habeas corpus proceedings. The Supreme Court ordered that he "surrender himself back into the custody of the Sheriff of Maricopa county."

At the hearing it was shown that Brown, who had been sentenced to a term of five to six years for robbery, had been permitted to leave the prison and go to Phoenix, where he was married.

Wright attempted to appeal the case after he had been granted bail, but the higher court decided that under the Arizona statutes the unusual phases of the case provided no opportunity for an appeal.

POLICE RAID UNIVERSITY FOR LIQUOR

Three Michigan Students Said to Have Been Selling Rum to Other Boys

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Nov. 4. (AP) The charge that three students were playing their way through the University of Michigan by selling liquor to other students was made by police today after a raid Saturday night in which they asserted a case of wine and a case of whisky were confiscated in a men's dormitory.

Harold McKee, 24 years of age, of Pittsburgh, is being held in the County Jail and two others whose names were withheld are being sought. The liquor, police said, was brought from Canada and smuggled into the dormitory under overcoats. Sergt. Fohey and Detective West declared that a number of telephone calls ordering liquor were received while they were raiding the room in the dormitory. The officers answered the calls.

The raid was part of a drive begun by local officers after five fraternities had been placed on probation by the university for tolerating intoxication at dances.

United States Wins $7,560,000 Ship-Suit Award

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Judgment for $7,560,000 was handed down today by United States Circuit Court in favor of Federal government against Skinner & Eddy Corporation, Seattle, one of the nation's largest shipbuilders during the World War.

The decision today is another chapter in the suit over contracts let by the Emergency Fleet Corporation for twenty-five vessels to be constructed by the Washington concern, and for which $150,000,000 was to have been paid.

Double-Murder Suspect Sought

INDEPENDENCE (Mo.) Nov. 4. (AP)—George Hostetter, who previously was freed of a charge of murder, today was sought by Sheriff's deputies in connection with the killing last night of Albert Weddle and Weddle's wife.

On September 10, 1928, Hostetter was arrested by deputies on an eight-year-old charge of having murdered James Dollard, a prospector, near Elko, Nev. He waived extradition, returned to Nevada, and a month later returned to Missouri, saying he was free and had convinced Nevada officials that he was innocent of the slaying.

Plunge in Hot Springs Fatal

ALTURAS, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—R. H. Anklin, wealthy stockman of this section, died today of burns suffered when he accidentally fell into the Kelly Hot Springs, near here, Saturday night.

Anklin was preparing coffee for a party of friends who were having a dance when he fell into the springs. Before friends could rescue him, Anklin's body virtually was cooked from the waist down.

He leaves his widow and four children.

Exploratory Work of Party at Last Begins

Geologists Start Ninety-Day Trek to Mountains

Sledge Dogs Wild With Joy at Taking Trail

BY RUSSELL OWEN

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The geological party of the Byrd expedition started this afternoon on their sledging journey of more than 400 miles to the Queen Maud Mountains at the edge of the polar plateau. They will be away three months and nearly a month will be spent in surveying and collecting geological data in this important and little-known part of the Antarctic.

They will travel with light sledges for at least 100 miles and possibly forty or fifty miles farther if the snowmobile has been able to haul their loads forward from the point where they were left on the former trip. They also will meet the supporting party returning and should be able to obtain from them valuable information as to the deeply crevassed area over which they must travel before again reaching the solid barrier.

DOGS EXCITED

The teams were harnessed after lunch to a chorus of howls and barks, the dogs straining at their picket ropes, snapping at each other and plunging in their traces in mad excitement. When two could get near enough there was a momentary squabble and a fight until they were pulled apart. Getting ready to go on the trail is the best fun they know. The last litter of pups, little fellows, sniffed at the bigger dogs' noses and were tolerated. They were like a lot of small boys wishing they could be grown up, too.

When the last team was harnessed and everyone in camp had shaken hands with the six men in the party and Commander Byrd had wished them good luck, team after team rushed down the slope to the inlet and out to the bay, where they turned south toward the barrier.

PARTY DESCRIBED

The leader of the party is Dr. Laurence M. Gould, geologist of the expedition, whose face reflected all the delight he felt at getting away at last to a place that should be a geologist's paradise. The others are Norman Vaughan, a powerfully built man muffled in a woolen parka under a windproof until he looked even bigger than he is. Eddie Goodale, tall, thin and serious; Fred Crockett, youngest of the drivers, smiling a broad grin, goggles fastened over his green-knitted helmet; Mike Thorne, lithe and hard and with remarkable stamina despite his smaller stature, and Jack O'Brien, with the trim lines of an athlete in a snugly fitting garb and wearing a shade over his eyes which makes him resemble a jockey.

They intend to travel about twenty miles a day, even though their loads are light, so as not to tire the dogs on the first stage of the journey and expect to reach the mountains about the end of this month.

AID PLANNED FOR HOOVER LAND POLICY

Resolution Aims to Give Rights to Withdraw Vast Areas from Entry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—The President will be authorized to withdraw from right of entry and grazing privileges, all areas of public lands within the watersheds of reclamation projects, under a resolution introduced today by Representative French, Republican, Idaho.

French's proposed measure will grant this authority to the Chief Executive pending the passage of an act defining the policy of the administration of the public domain of the nation.

Under provisions of the resolution, withdrawal of areas from entry rights will be made by Presidential proclamation.

Representative French's resolution is a step to aid President Hoover's Public Land Commission in its drafting of a program for the administration of the public domain. The resolution, however, provides that the President may grant special permits for grazing or other uses of areas within the reclamation project watersheds where conditions are construed to be in harmony with the government's public domain policy.

A Test Every Man Past 40 Should Make

Medical authorities agree that 65 per cent of all men past middle age (many much younger) are afflicted with a disorder of the prostate gland. Aches in feet, legs and back, frequent nightly risings, sciatic pains are some of the signs—and now a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science has written a remarkably interesting free book that tells of other symptoms and just what they mean. No longer should a man approaching or past the prime of life be content to regard these pains and conditions as inevitable signs of approaching age. Already more than 50,000 men have used the amazing method described in this book to restore their health and vigor—and to restore the prostate gland to its proper functioning. Arrange immediately for this book. Call in person if possible, otherwise mail your request to the Electro Thermal Company, Dept. PERU NAPOLEON REDEEMS RACE

Dynamic President Leguia Leads Progress

Downtrodden Decendants of Incas See Light

Tunnels Andes to Irrigate Vast Coastal Plain

(This is the third of a series of letters descriptive of the South American tour, now in progress under the auspices of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, written especially for The Times by Mr. Clum, one of the passengers.)

BY WOODWORTH CLUM

ABOARD THE S.S. CITY OF LOS ANGELES (Off the coast of Peru) Oct. 17.—"Difficulties do not discourage me. I have overcome them in the past and I will overcome them in the present."

And later, this:

"The United States is Peru's greatest friend among the nations of the world. We will continue to deserve that friendship."

Ambitious words, these. Nothing equivocal—nothing doubtful about those statements which came swiftly—convincingly—last evening from the charming President of Peru, Augusto Leguia. Words one might expect to come from a man of large stature, of loud voice, and of large ego.

But instead they came from a man not over 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighing certainly not more than 110 or 115 pounds, with a soft and cultured voice, and a smile of friendly welcome that lingered on his lips and in his steel-gray eyes, throughout the fifteen minutes of our interview.

HIS THIRD TERM

And of ego—no a bit. Assurance, self-confidence, yes; but no ego.

President Leguia was very busy yesterday. He was inaugurated for his third term last Saturday, October 12. The government palace was filled all day with official delegations. But the President found time to receive a small party of us from the good-will cruiser City of Los Angeles, including Gen. M. H. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Crane of Honolulu, Robert P. Cullen of Glendale, Carlos Ariza of Los Angeles, Mrs. Clum and your correspondent. Gen. Sherman congratulated President Leguia on the remarkable achievements of his administration, particularly during the past ten years. He assured him of the increasing interest of the United States in the progress and prosperity of Peru, particularly of the good will of California and Los Angeles.

While Gen. Sherman was talking I glanced around the room. There was a small bust of Napoleon on President Leguia's desk. And why not? Napoleon, too, was small in stature, but great in achievement. And in one corner of the room a bronze bust of Gen. Pershing. On the walls were paintings depicting heroic episodes in the troublous history of Peru.

And then I heard Gen. Sherman in closing his greeting refer to the difficulties, political and economic, with which Leguia had to contend. As if he had been waiting for his cue, the President's eyes flashed, his smile broadened, showing white teeth below a well-croppey gray mustache, and he said, in perfect English:

REDEEM BO.:TSMEN

"Difficulties do not discourage me. I have overcome them in the past and I will overcome them in the present. My government is redeeming the aboriginal from the triple bondage of ignorance, misery and pessimism."

You who are living so comfortably in Southern California, consider the complexity of this man's problem. Peru was the domain of the Incas. A thousand years ago the aboriginals of whom Leguia speaks were the most enlightened people in this Western Hemisphere. There was no ignorance, no misery, no pessimism among the Incas, beyond that which may be normal in progressive peoples. Then came Pizarro and his Spanish adventurers—in 1535. The reign of the Incas ceased. And now the descendants of this proud race are being "redeemed" from their bondage by a man who was born among them in the mountains of Northern Peru; who was schooled in the universities of England and who looks for his inspiration to San Martin, to Napoleon and to Pershing.

To hear this man speak in rapid, epigrammatic English is fascinating, as, for instance:

"My government is undertaking irrigation projects that involve millions of dollars. We are tunneling the Andes to bring water from the east slope to the lowlands on the west slope. Where we have water our soil is fertile to the point of hostility. Both desert and jungle, you know, constantly defy man's dominion."

THE DISADVANTAGES

Much truth in that. We in the United States have conquered the jungle—at Panama—and we are rapidly conquering the desert with our vast irrigation projects. But in Peru the jungle and desert are separated by the lofty crests of the Andes; of its 5,000,000 population 4,500,000 are illiterate, discouraged, and speak no common tongue; the wealth of the nation is owned by 3 per cent of its population; the great haciendas are entailed, a feudal system; four centuries of literal slavery have robbed the masses of ambition and optimism; 5 per cent of the children attend school.

These are some of Leguia's difficulties—but he is overcoming them. Lima today reminds one somewhat of Los Angeles during 1921 and 1922. Streets are being paved, sewer and water service has been and is being installed; new business buildings are under construction in the downtown district; new and beautiful homes are being built.

I asked the taxi driver: "Who is doing all this?" and his answer was: "Leguia, el gran Presidente."

ENGINEERS APPROVE MONTEREY PROJECT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—A favorable report on the Monterey breakwater project was filed with the House Rivers and Harbors Committee today by the Board of Army Engineers. The report recommends a breakwater 1300 feet long at an estimated cost of $610,000.

BAY CITY GLAD-HANDERS CAUGHT NAPPING BY SHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—"The city that knows how" (the boast which Mayor Rolph always inserts right after the quip about the height of the City Hall dome,) had everything all set today to give Capt. H. A. T. Candy a rousing welcome to San Francisco when he came in on the bridge of the electric liner Pennsylvania, largest vessel ever built in an American shipyard, arriving on its maiden voyage to the west coast.

But "the city that knows how" did not get up quite early enough. The Pennsylvania docked an hour ahead of schedule and by the time the official delegation arrived Capt. Candy was ashore. So the bouquets had to be presented to Chief Officer Iverson while the Municipal Band struggled bravely to get enthusiasm into its welcoming toots.

The present area is slightly larger than that of 1928, when the aggregate net area was 159,480,856 acres.

DUTY CUTS AND BOOSTS VOTED

Senate Takes Up Earth and Chemical List

Principal Arguments Center on Synthetic Camphor

California Representatives to Fight Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Determined to reduce wrangling over changes to a minimum, the Senate returned to consideration of the tariff bill today after devoting four hours to the Bingham case and approved both increases and decreases in commodities in the chemicals and earths schedules.

Informal conferences looking to speeding action on the measure continued, but no definite future program was forthcoming. All sides reiterated determination to hasten debate, however, in the hope of passing a bill before the special session ends with this month.

CAMPHOR CUT FOUGHT

Principal arguments today revolved around the proposal of the Finance Committee majority to retain the existing 6 cents a pound duty on synthetic camphor, a product used in the manufacture of pyroxylin, or nonshattering glass. The House bill provided a cut in this rate to 1 cent, and after considerable debate the Senate adopted an amendment by Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, a Republican independent, providing a 1-cent duty.

Opposing the reduction, Senator Edge, Republican, of New Jersey, a member of the Finance Committee, said a group of men in his State had spent $500,000 to produce synthetic camphor on the basis of the present tariff, and were prepared to turn out 500 pounds daily after December 1.

La Follette contended the question was whether the Senate was going to extend a "tariff in advance, thereby taxing the American consumer before the American producer is ready to supply American needs."

The Finance Committee Republicans also lost an attempt to keep the existing rate of 50 cents a pound on menthol, which the House raised to 75 cents. An amendment by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the committee, cutting the levy to 30 cents was approved.

GYPSUM DUTY BOOSTED

Three amendments sponsored by the Republican tariff framers were approved, two proving for increases and one a decrease.

The duty on vanillin, an aromatic chemical used in the manufacture of perfumes and flavoring extracts, was raised from 45 per cent ad valorem based on foreign valuation to 7 cents a pound and 45 per cent based on American valuation.

The rate of 7 cents a pound and 45 per cent based on American valuation of synthetic indigo and sulphur black, chemicals used in the production of dyes that are now on a heavy exporting basis, was cut to 3 cents a pound and 20 per cent with the same valuation retained.

An increase from $1.40 to $3 a ton in the existing rate on ground or calcined gypsum, used in the manufacture of wall plaster, tiles, building blocks and pottery, also was approved. Several Democrats announced they would attempt at a later date to place crude gypsum, now free, on the duitable list.

The controversy over the bill's retention of the American valuation bases for coal tar was postponed, Senator La Follette announcing he is preparing a lengthy speech in opposition to this formula.

CALIFORNIANS TURN AGAINST BILL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Despite the great stake their State has in the tariff revision there is a growing feeling among California members of the House that they should vote against the bill if it comes back from the Senate in its present form carrying the debenture farm plan and with the flexible provision eliminated.

Repersentatives Evans of Glendale, Free of San Jose and Kahn of San Francisco said today they would stand with President Hoover against changes, even if it meant that no bill at all would be passed.

"I intend to vote against the tariff bill as long as I live, if that is necessary, so long as the debenture is left in and the flexible provision is left out," Evans declared. "There are others in the delegation who will do likewise. We won't stand for the debenture, and we insist upon the President being given a way to raise or lower rates in emergencies, and as much as we desire a tariff bill we will not support it if it is brought to us in its present form."

Free and Mrs. Kahn expressed similar views. Other delegations in the House are lining up in support of the President, indicating all the more that the conservative lower branch of Congress will not approve the bill as it is being rewritten by the Democratic-insurgent coalition in the Senate.

NEW WET DATA FOR SENATE

Brookhart Promises More Revelations Today; Gillett Tells of Intoxication in House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—More and more the attention of Senators is being attracted by charges of liquor drinking by those who write the laws of the country.

Senator Brookhart of Iowa, who startled his colleagues in September with an account of a dinner to Senators at which liquor was served, gave notice in the crowded chamber today that he will "discuss prohibition enforcement in general and Wall-street booze parties in particular" soon after the gavel bangs tomorrow. A Republican dry, he has been subpoenaed to tell a grand jury Wednesday what he knows about the alcoholic propensities of Washington.

Hardly had the Brookhart flurry subsided before Senator Gillett, Republican, Massachusetts, informed the Senate he frequently has seen Representatives legislating in the House "under the influence of liquor." For three terms he was Speaker of the House.

INTOXICATION HELD OBVIOUS

Gillett's remarks occurred during debate on the resolution to censure Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut. He observed it would keep Congress busy to attempt to censure all indiscretions by members, and said the asserted intoxication of House members has been obvious to those present—although unknown "to the great American public."

Long reputed to be a bootlegger for Congressmen, "the man with the green hat" recently was arrested on liquor charges near the Senate office building entrance. He is at liberty on bond now.

Senator Blease, Democrat, South Carolina, has been among those demanding a police clean-up of conditions in the vicinity of the Capitol. He charges that liquor and narcotics have been peddled openly there, and that whisky has been sold in the Capitol itself.

HOWELL INVESTIGATING

Meanwhile, Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, has been collecting information about enforcement conditions in Washington. Several weeks ago he was asked by President Hoover to produce evidence to support his charges of lax enforcement in the capital. Howell said he probably will have nothing to say tomorrow.

"I'm going to listen to the Senator from Iowa and hear what he has to say," he added.

GANGSTERS KILL CHICAGOAN

By this gripping, appealing New-Type music.

By a new discovery called "supersensitizing," Stewart-Warner engineers have perfected an amazing new-type radio. Now, people formerly unresponsive, hear their favorite selections with powerful new effect. This new way catches something in the music utterly different.

Our research scientists perfected a new power transformer that could carry double its rated voltage without causing the slightest whisper of A.C. hum. They supersensitized every point of contact, put precision workmanship into every minute detail of its construction. Gave it super power that results in deep, crystal-clear reception and tone. In the way it brings in distant stations as powerful as locals.

That's why people call this radio "The Set with the Punch." It has the "punch" that banishes all noise and hum. The "punch" that gives power, volume, selectivity and realism of tone.

Such advancements in radio as a PLUG-IN FOR TELEVISION make this set an instrument for the future that can be possessed today! Only in the new Stewart-Warner can you find such features! The new Stewart-Warner gives you your choice of Screen Grid or Balanced Bridge Circuits.

Go to your nearest Stewart-Warner Dealer today. Only an actual demonstration can bring home the amazing performance of this world's champion set! A small down payment will put one in your home today.

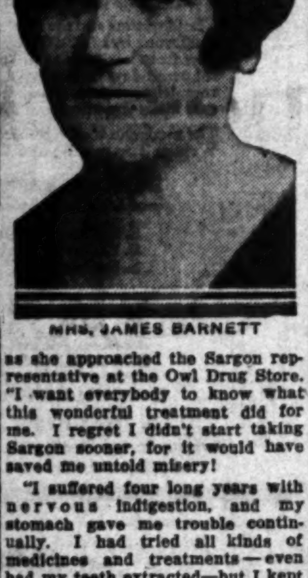
White King costs less because it takes so little

You'll find White King extremely economical because a little goes such a long way. One spoonful in a basin of water ... or a cupful in the washing ... does the trick in place of two or three of most other soaps. Make the comparison yourself the next time you have any washing to do.

White King Granulated Soap is safe. It will not harm the daintiest fabrics, sheerest hosiery or lingerie. It brings out the lustre of sheer silks, the softness of blankets and woolens.

You will find White King Granulated Soap ideal for all your household washing. It is highly recommended by leading department stores and garment manufacturers as the finest, most economical soap you can buy. Ask for White King at your grocer's today and test its splendid washing qualities yourself.



Is Sorry She Didn't Have It Four Years Ago

"I made a special trip down town this morning to let you see for yourself what Sargon has done for me," said Mrs. James Barnett, 1169½ East 51st St., Los Angeles, as she approached the Sargon representative at the Owl Drug Store. "I want everybody to know what this wonderful treatment did for me. I regret I didn't start taking Sargon sooner, for it would have saved me untold misery!

MRS. JAMES BARNETT

"I suffered four long years with nervous indigestion, and my stomach gave me trouble continually. I had tried all kinds of medicines and treatments—even had my teeth extracted—but I kept getting worse. My appetite was poor and the little I ate disagreed with me, and at times I was so nauseated I couldn't keep anything on my stomach. I don't know how much soda I've taken after meals, trying to get a little relief. I took calomel and other purgatives to stimulate my liver, but I couldn't get any noticeable results. Almost every day my head ached and sometimes I had such dizzy spells I'd get right limp and faint. Many nights I'd toss and roll until almost daylight, and I've taken pounds of tablets trying to settle my nerves. I'd get up mornings as tired as I was on going to bed. I suffered from a kind of rheumatic condition in both of my arms, and I lost weight and was so weak, I was unable to look after my housework.

"Sargon had brought so many of my neighbors back to health I decided to try it. I began to feel better right from the start. My stomach is in wonderful condition and I eat anything I like without any bad after-effect. I go to bed and sleep all night long now, and it's a pleasure to look after my housework, for it's a rare thing that I ever get tired. My liver is active as nature intended, my headaches are a thing of the past, the rheumatic pains in my arms have entirely disappeared, and I feel wonderfully strengthened and invigorated. I'll be more than glad to tell anyone who asks me about Sargon."

The Sargon Man is at the Owl Drug Store, 6th & Broadway, meeting the public and giving the facts about this remarkable new scientific discovery. He cites case after case of Sargon's wonderful powers at work; personal instances of health renewed and happiness restored, right here in this city. Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

BRITISH HOUSE IN BUSY SESSION

Premier MacDonald Given Hearty Welcome

Unemployment Issue First to be Brought Up

Efforts to Solve Problems Recounted on Floor

LONDON, Nov. 4. (AP)—With Prime Minister MacDonald and the full array of the Labor Cabinet on the government benches, the House of Commons today began a week of important deliberations with a speech from J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment, on the all-important question of unemployment.

The blight of unemployment in England will not be wiped out by any magic cure, Mr. Thomas said in a review of the Labor government's efforts to reduce the number of more than 1,000,000 jobless during four months of office.

After Mr. MacDonald had received an enthusiastic welcome, Mr. Thomas brought a hush in the House with his outspoken admission that in "some districts of the country there is no hope whatever of work for thousands and hundreds of thousands of our fellowmen, no matter what is done."

CAUSE FOR OPTIMISM

Nevertheless, he asserted, trade is improving and there is in the long run cause for optimism.

The Prime Minister's mission in America, Chancellor Snowden's achievements at The Hague reparations conference, and Foreign Secretary Henderson's work at Geneva, were real contributions to the solution of the unemployment problem, he said.

"In fact, anything that substitutes peace for war is a contribution," he said.

He warned the English people against "silly and extravagant expenditures" and dwelt on the development of England's export trade as the soundest method for reducing the number of unemployed.

OBSTACLES EXPLAINED

In connection with the latter he explained the difficulties met with in British-Canadian trade. He said that although Britain is Canada's best customer for wheat the Dominion spends $25 in the United States for every pound in the mother country. He cited the Canadian wheat pool as a hindrance to the regularity of cargoes across the Atlantic.

He outlined schemes of the Labor government for spending £42,000,000 ($210,000,000) on unemployment grants and improvements in railways and roads.

Bridges over the River Thames and tunnels under it, together with other schemes under consideration, called for the expenditure of many more millions.

Frightened by a Stubborn Spreading Rash

Los Angeles, Cal.—"My husband had a rash on his body and after using the usual remedies all but one of the spots healed, but that one was very stubborn. We used every kind of a salve we ever heard of, even prescribed treatments, but still the spot spread. I heard of Resinol, and in desperation started to use the soap and ointment faithfully as directed. After using one-quarter of a small jar the spot was completely healed." (Signed)— Mrs. C. E. Cramer.

The quickness with which Resinol acts in most cases of skin disorder, amazes many people. Itching is usually stopped at once. To adopt Resinol Soap for every day toilet use is to keep the skin clear and soft. At all druggists.

WOUNDED TRAPPER OWES LIFE TO FAITHFUL DOG

NAKINA, (Ont.) Nov. 4. (AP)—A young Canadian trapper, who accidentally shot himself, owed his life today to his dog.

Andrew Zyvitski, 22 years of age, wounded when his pistol discharged as he drew it from its holster, fastened a note to the dog's collar and headed him in the direction of the nearest camp.

The dog ran through three miles of bush, swam a river, and at last reached a camp occupied by Thomas Hughes. Hughes followed the dog back, gave Zyvitski first aid and took him to his own camp. From there the wounded man came to Nakina by train and later was sent to Port Arthur.

OHIO PRISON PAIR ESCAPE AMID SHOTS

One Companion Wounded as Three Beat Guard and Then Drop Over Wall

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Two Ohio penitentiary prisoners made a successful break for liberty early today after beating a guard, while a third, Arthur Brooker, is in a critical condition in the prison hospital, a bullet wound in his abdomen.

The trio, Brooker serving a life sentence for murder; Guy Tennent, serving ten to twenty-five years for robbery, and William Miller, robber, got away from the "escape proof" cell block where they were housed, scaled the wall, beat Guard John Montgomery who was in the tower, and swung over the wall on an improvised ladder. The men in escaping took a sub machine gun from Montgomery, officials said.

Three drills are three pieces of the steel reinfocements in the cell block were found in the prisoners' cells. Prison officials were unable to explain how they came into possession of the men.

Brooker, who was captured in a building immediately across the street from the institution, is believed to have been wounded in an exchange of shots between the prisoners on the wall and guards in the prison yard who were rushing to Montgomery's aid.

Montgomery shot twice before he was felled from behind. After beating the guard, the convicts took his rifle and swung down a rope ladder to the street. Montgomery suffered fourteen scalp lacerations.

JURY SEES HOLES MADE BY BULLETS

Victim's Suit Examined in Texas Trial of Hamilton for Son-in-Law's Slaying

WEATHERFORD (Tex.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Sitting forward on the edge of his chair, R. H. Hamilton today watched the jury in his murder trial examine the tan herringbone suit his son-in-law, Tom Walton, Jr., was wearing last May 4, when four bullets ended his life in Hamilton's Amarillo law office. The suit of clothing was introduced while Dist. Atty. Edward Thomerson was on the stand as a State rebuttal witness.

Powder burns on the clothing first entered the testimony today when Steve Ridings, colonel in the Texas National Guard and a police court judge at the time of the shooting, qualified as an expert. He said he judged all bullets which pierced the clothing save one had been fired from a distance or three or four feet. Four bullets struck the coat, one through the neck, two through the right shoulder, and one through the lower right side.

The defense through two eyewitnesses, and the defendant, had contended all shots were fired while Hamilton and the husband of his then 17-year-old daughter, Theresa, a student in the University of Texas, were in a hand-to-hand struggle, or, as Hamilton described it from the stand, "a mortal battle."

Los Angeles Boy Pianist to Give Concerts in West

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Ezra Rachlin, the 12-year-old Los Angeles pianist who made his American debut last night at Carnegie Hall, today made plans for a fall concert tour of the West, which will include appearances in the city where he was born.

He was greeted last night by a large and attentive audience, who received with applause his program consisting chiefly of numbers by Bach, Beethoven and Liszt.

Comment of New York music critics was restrained, but mostly favorable.

Wales Planning African Jaunt

LONDON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The Prince of Wales has decided to resume his African tour, which was cut short last year by King George's illness.

According to present arrangements he will depart in January and will stay in Africa six weeks. First he will go to Capetown, where he will stay at Government House. Later the Prince hopes to visit parts of the country which were included in the itinerary of his previous tour and which he was compelled to miss owing to his hurried return.

CAN COMPANY TAX REFUSAL UPHELD

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today unanimously upheld the verdict of Federal Judge Goddard denying the American Can Company and three subsidiaries the right to recover $3,902,936 and interest from Frank F. Bowers, collector of internal revenue. The money was paid under protest for income tax in 1917, and the interest now due on it brings the total to about $6,500,000.

Mail Fraud Charges Stand Up on Appeal

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—The convictions of and sentences imposed upon George Graham Rice, Walter K. Yorston, the Idaho Copper Corporation and the Wall Street Iconclast, Inc., under a ten-count indictment charging mail frauds were today upheld unanimously by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Under the sentences Rice is faced with a term of four years in Atlanta penitentiary, Yorston with a nine months' term and the Wall-street Iconclast with a $10,000 fine. Sentence as to the Idaho Copper Corporation was suspended by Judge Knox, who presided at the trial.

ARABS PROPOSE CONFEDERATION

Ultimate Hope Outlined by Executive Secretary

Oppose Jewish Political State in Palestine

Danger of Further Trouble Clearly Indicated

JERUSALEM, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Arab viewpoint toward Jewish aims in Palestine was outlined for the Associated Press tonight by Mogannam Elias, secretary of the Arab executive. Not only do the Arabs oppose a Jewish political state in Palestine, but they hold the hope of an ultimate Arab confederation in the Near East, including much of Northern Africa.

"British troops may prevent disturbances temporarily," the secretary said, "but anything is likely to kindle a fiery people whose movements aim at an independent Arab federation from Suez to the Persian gulf, from Taurus to the Indian Ocean, composed of an independent Palestine, Syria, Transjordania, Irak and other countries of the Arab peninsula."

When You Have No Appetite

It is hard to eat the right foods unless you enjoy them, and often the very foods you need most are those you have no appetite for.

If you are losing weight; feeling tired and under par; particularly if you are just recovering from some illness, the right kinds and quantities of foods daily are needed to restore and maintain your normal health.

In recent years medical science has discovered the importance of vitamin in food. Vitamin B is the one which stimulates the appetite and regulates the stomach and bowels, at the same time promoting growth, strength and resistance to disease. Vitamin B is a food element, not a medicine.

There is a widespread deficiency of Vitamin B in the average person's diet, and when the appetite is below normal this shortage of Vitamin B is likely to become acute and bring on a rundown condition or a serious stomach or bowel disorder.

To preserve or restore normal health an ample supply of Vitamin B is needed daily. Vegex is the richest known food in Vitamin B. One teaspoonful of Vegex daily, added to other foods you like, supplies all the Vitamin B needed in the average person's diet.

Vegex may be added as a flavoring to soups, sauces and gravies or taken in hot water as an appetizing broth. There are many attractive ways of serving it. Fresh or canned vegetables become more appetizing when flavored with Vegex and a better vitamin balance is thus assured.

The regular daily use of Vegex not only supplies the much needed Vitamin B so deficient in the diet of most Americans, but it stimulates the appetite for milk, vegetables and other healthful foods. Get a jar today from your druggist or grocer, and see for yourself how it improves your appetite and the way you feel. Trial jars 15c. Ask for free cook book when you buy.

BOOTH FAMILY'S TROUBLES AIRED

Widow of Salvation Army's Ex-Chief Talks Out

Screed Against Gen. Higgins Given Newspapers

(Copyright 1929 by Chicago Tribune)

LONDON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Bramwell Booth supplied today's Salvation Army sensation in a double measure. She addressed a letter to one paper describing the discrimination against the members of the Booth family which Gen. Edward J. Higgins, head of the army, denies exists. At the same time another journal printed a circular accusing Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the United States branch of the army, of being one of the causes of her brother's breakdown. This, it is asserted, was printed by Mrs. Booth and distributed by the army's field offices.

While regretting the publicity given the dissension in her family, using the word "vendetta" in describing the action the high council is taking toward the Booths, Mrs. Booth nevertheless makes it quite plain that she believes the persecution of her family is a fact, despite official denials.

"If a small section of the officers could act toward my beloved husband in the manner they did when he lay dying," she writes, "one cannot wonder that some of them should be anxious to justify their action by persecuting his children and others who have openly sympathized with them.

"I deeply grieve that I have failed in my effort to induce Gen. Higgins to mitigate his treatment of my husband's widowed sister, Commissioner Lucy Booth of Hellberg. The breaking up of her home, separation from her only child and going forth at the age of 61 alone in a strange land, the language of whose people she does not speak, makes her the most pathetic figure in the Salvation Army field today and in her behalf I feel justified in lifting up my voice in strongest protest."

Clemenceau Calls Effort "Grandeur and Misery of a Victory"

PARIS, Nov. 4. (AP)—The title of the forthcoming book of Georges Clemenceau, former French Premier, on which he has worked so assiduously during his recent illness is "Grandeur and Misery of a Victory."

The author today informed a friend, Marcel Hutin, of the Echo De Paris, that he had finished the last chapter, but he admitted that in correcting proofs of other chapters he has modified them considerably and consequently did not know when it will be ready for the printers.

WARSAW, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The most dramatic show Poland has staged since the gory 1926 revolution is scheduled to take place at noon tomorrow when the badly scared members of Parliament are due to make a second attempt to reopen the Polish Diet for better or for worse.

As a result of the rapid-fire series of verbal clashes over the week-end, the political drama has been reduced to an open fight between the Pilsudski government and the present Parliament and the heroes of tomorrow's show will be a pair of dictators—Josef Pilsudski, who is the country's actual military dictator, and Ignaz Daszynski, Socialist Speaker of the Diet, who has been forced to assume the role of Parliamentary dictator in order to retain his job. The two stars in tomorrow's show will be supported, respectively, by the entire Polish army and by a personal bodyguard of twelve tried and trusty soldiers.

TAKES NO CHANCES

No chances will be taken to allow a repetition of Thursday's melodrama "Director" Daszynski today held a dress rehearsal for his part in tomorrow's spectacle and his trusty dozen personal guards went through gestures of protecting him and his ministry from a new invasion of uninvited armed officers who might possibly "drop in" again in order to greet Marshal Pilsudski.

The play's plot, as mapped out by Daszynski, will be foolproof and will not provide room for slapstick tactics, regardless of the steps taken by Pilsudski. Instead of permitting all to enter the Parliament building through the main entrance as heretofore, Daszynski has decided that only Deputies will be allowed this honor and in order that the show may proceed without a hitch he has mobilized a flock of Warsaw newspaper men to act as dummy Deputies during dress rehearsal. The astonished journalists marched into the Parliament this afternoon between scanty rows of bodyguards and took their places in the benches without a mishap, whereupon Daszynski declared himself satisfied and ready for tomorrow's performance.

DOUBLE PRECAUTION

The sudden move of Daszynski in convoking the Deputies by telegram for noon tomorrow instead of the usual hour of 4 o'clock is seen as a double precaution against a possible roughhouse, for 4 o'clock is the officers' quitting time while at noon they are obliged to remain at their garrisons.

As for Marshal Pilsudki's part in the show nobody will know what it is to be in advance, for the taciturn dictator's motto is "If two people know a secret it is no longer a secret." Consequently he is not confiding his plans even to his closest associates.

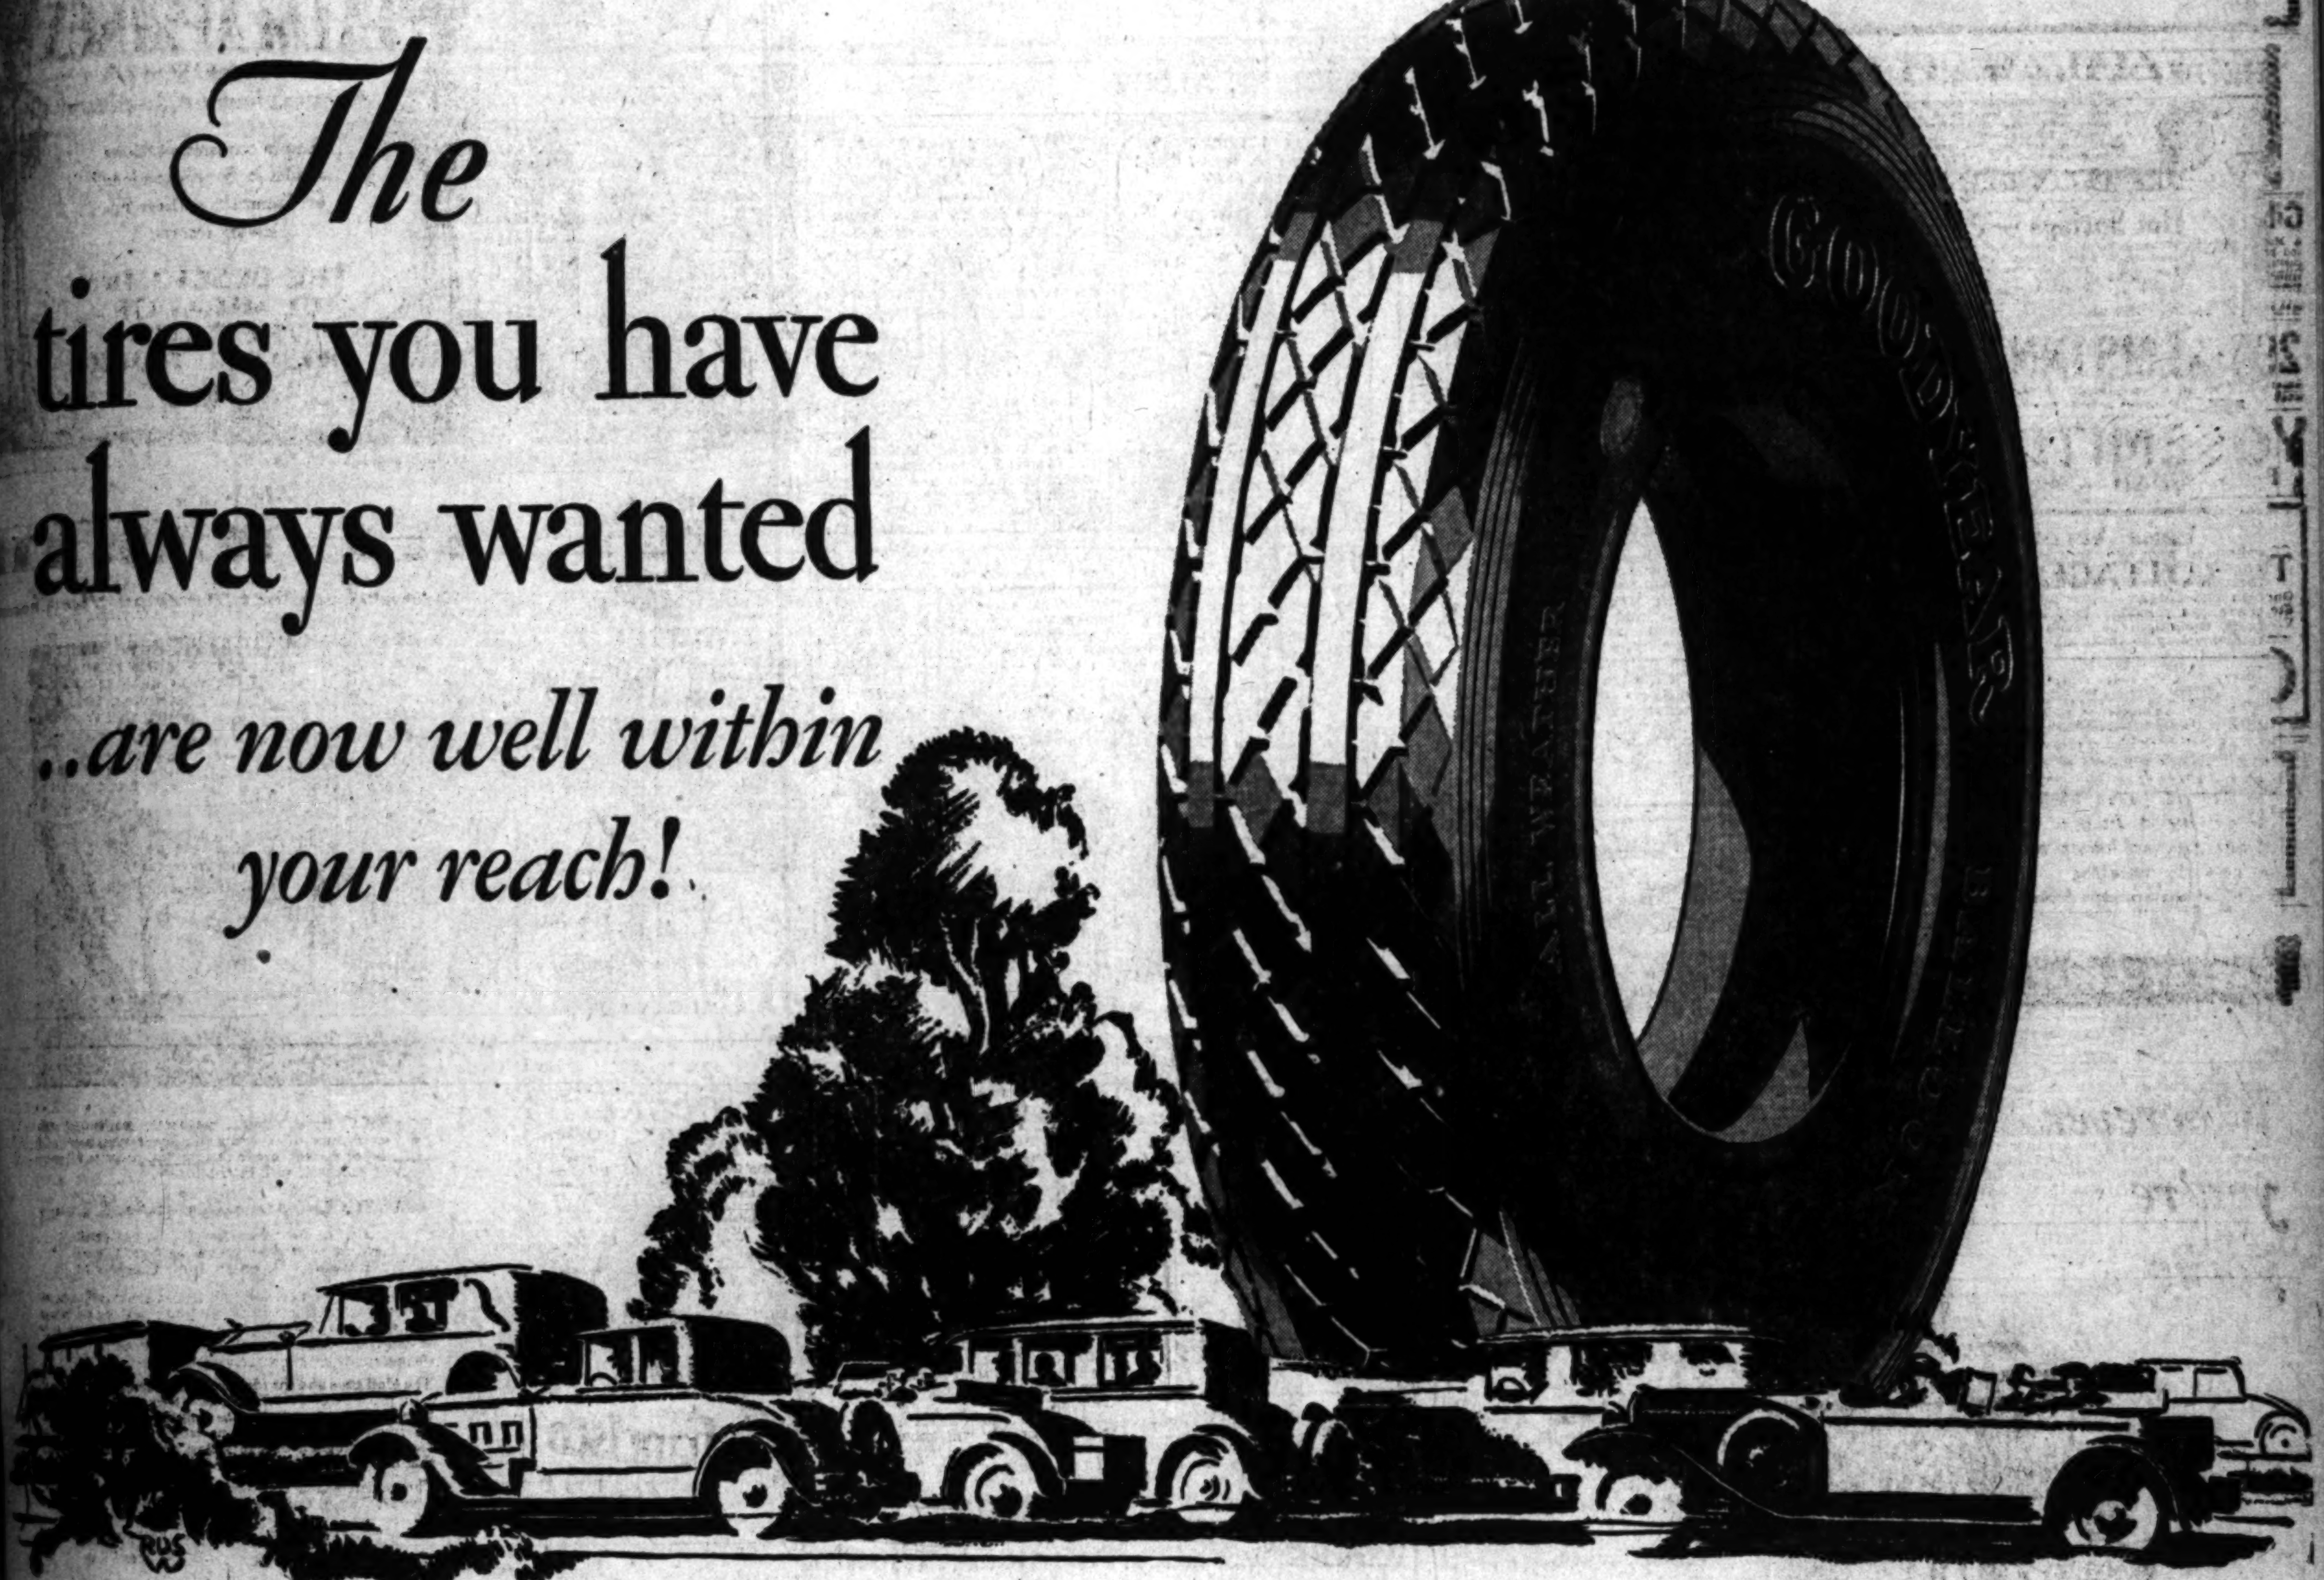
The tires you have always wanted

..are now well within your reach!



SOME years ago it was true that the higher quality of Goodyear Tires could be had only at a somewhat higher price.

But that barrier of extra cost between you and the enjoyment of Goodyear advantages no longer exists today.

Steadily the advancing science of Goodyear manufacture, fortified by the economies of Goodyear's unparalleled production, have sweated costs down to the bone . . . That is why you can now enjoy the special satisfaction and the superior values of Goodyear performance at no higher prices than you pay for inferior tires.

People in Los Angeles, as throughout the world, soon responded to Goodyear's success in giving greater and greater tire goodness at lower and lower costs.

Therefore it is true in Los Angeles today as over all the earth that "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

If Goodyear Tires did not definitely give you more for your money, if they did not regularly deliver you greater mileage, security and freedom from trouble, they certainly would not enjoy this outstanding preference.

But they do give you more—and at no premium in price—which is the simple and all-powerful reason you should say, "Goodyears and nothing else!" the first time you need a tire.

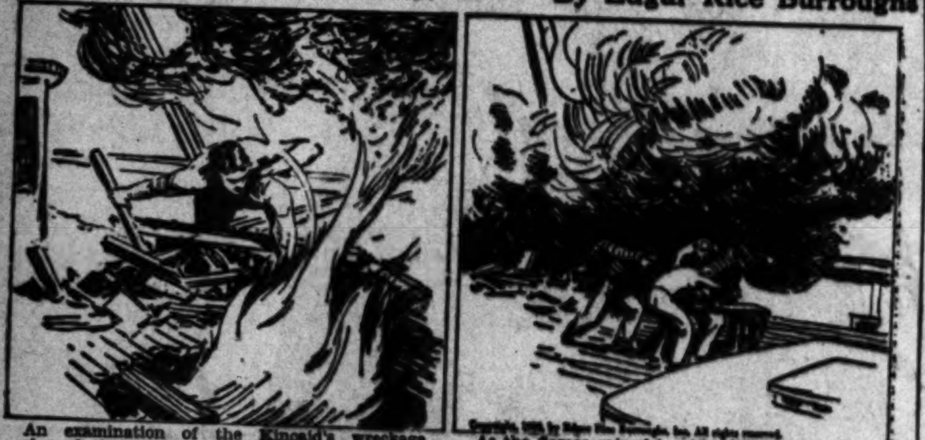
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

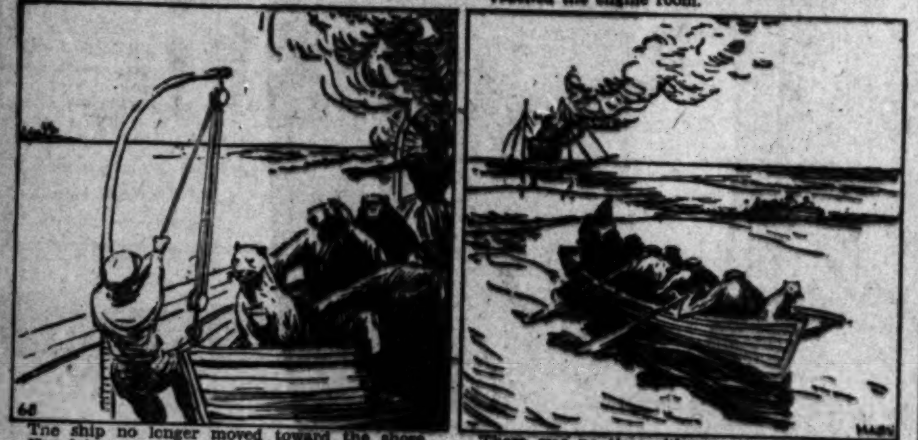
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1929, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

An examination of the Kincaid's wreckage showed that their greatest danger, now, lay in fire, for the flames were licking hungrily at the splintered wood of the wrecked cabin, and had already found a foothold upon the lower deck through a great jagged hole which the explosion had opened. By a miracle no member of the ship's company had been injured by the blast, the origin of which remained forever a total mystery to them all.

As the flames gained headway it became apparent to Tarzan that whatever had caused the explosion had scattered some highly inflammable substance upon the surrounding woodwork. The water which all hands poured in from the pump seemed rather to spread than to extinguish the blaze. Fifteen minutes after the explosion, great black clouds of smoke were rising from the hold of the doomed vessel and the flames had reached the engine room.



The ship no longer moved toward the shore. Her fate was as certain as though the waters already had closed above her charred and smoking remains. "It is useless to remain aboard her any longer," Tarzan said to the mate. "There's no telling when there'll be another explosion. We can't save her, so the safest thing to do is to take to the boats without further loss of time and make for land." Nor was there other alternative.

There was no time either to bring away even their few belongings. Two boats were lowered into the smooth sea, and the loading was made without mishap. Eager and anxious, the beasts of Tarzan sniffed the familiar air of their native island as the boats drew in toward the beach, and scarce had their keels grated upon the sand than Sheeta and the apes of Akut were over the bows and racing like mad toward the jungle.

CHICAGO OPENS OPERA TEMPLE

Wolves Bayed on Site of Theater 100 Years Ago

Rosa Raisa Sings Lead of "Aida," First Offering

List of Attendants Reads Like Social Register

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—The shining dream of Chicago music lovers became triumphant reality tonight in the gala opening of the Civic Opera in its monumental $20,000,000 skyscraping home on Wacker Drive.

On a site where less than a century ago wolves bayed at the moon on the marshy flats along a lonely little stream cutting windswept prairies incredibly, has appeared this forty-five-story tower of marble, gold, steel and bronze to provide the youthful city by the inland sea with the world's most luxurious and sophisticated home of song.

Every tradition and tie with the past was broken tonight, save one—the selection of Verdi's melodious and gorgeous operatic pageant, "Aida," as the premiere musical fare. "Aida" was the opening opera to be presented by Chicago's first permanent opera company in 1910, again it was the first offering of the present Civic Opera Company in 1922, and sentiment ruled when the dedicatory work was chosen for tonight.

ROSA RAISA SINGS

On a huge stage facing the most brilliant first-night audience that ever assembled in Chicago Rosa Raisa, dramatic soprano, sang the title role, recalling to opera patrons her appearance in the same part in the 1922 opening.

Others in the 1922 cast likewise were there, including Charles Marshall, American tenor as Rhadames. Cyrena Van Gordon took the part of Amneris and Giorgio Polacco, musical director and former husband of Edith Mason, held the baton. While it was a debut for the building, there were no debuts among the principals.

For society the opera opening was an event of major importance, in which for weeks there had run a crescendo of anticipation and interest. The list of box holders for tonight read like the social register and included the Samuel Insulls, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, the Arthur Meekers, Mrs. Edward Hines, the John F. Jelkes, junior and senior; Mrs. Jacob Baur, the Marin A. Ryersons and the Cyrus Hall McCormicks. Not only was Chicago society represented, however, for from many points in the East and Middle West came representatives of the social order.

DRESS RECALLS 1899

For society likewise there was a new setting in the old rose and gold interior of the opera auditorium. Gone was the golden horseshoe of the old Auditorium Theater, which was silent tonight after forty years of opera openings. The new preserve of the elite already had been termed the golden crescent as it reaches only across the back of the main floor and not around the sides. In fact, there are no side boxes whatever in this modern operatic interior, each of the 3500 seats on the first floor, dress circle and balconies, facing the full stage.

Incidentally the feminine contingent appeared in trailing draperies, long gloves and high waistlines, reminiscent of the night in 1899 when the old auditorium, splendid in gold and marble, began its historic career.

RECONSIDERATION REFUSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Supreme Court today refused to reconsider its recent action declining to pass on the merits of a case brought by the Royal Baking Powder Company seeking to prevent the Federal Trade Commission from reopening proceedings against it begun in 1920.

NAVAL QUIZ SET FOR PARLEY EVE

Officers Connections With Shearer to Be Studied

Relations With Ship Builders Believed Fully Exposed

Shortridge Reported to Have Startling Information

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The reopening of the Senate investigation of William B. Shearer, the super-propagandist, who fought naval reduction at Geneva in 1927 for patriotism, for shipbuilders and for $25,000, will be delayed until the eve of the London naval conference in January, it is believed in informed Washington quarters.

Then it will plunge headlong into a phase of the inquiry heretofore touched upon but lightly, the relationship between American naval officers and this sleek and highly successful self-styled distributor of "poison."

While there is no announcement from Chairman Shortridge, of California, or any member of the investigating committee of any definite time for the renewal of the inquiry, it is quite definitely accepted that the possible salutary effect of opening the investigation just before the naval conference starts are so striking that the committee will be unable to resist them.

NAVY MEN ACCUSED

Charges have already been made that some of the naval advisers accompanying the American delegation at Geneva were not sincere in their efforts to reach an agreement which would bring any naval reduction.

It is pointed out that the effects of the first phase of the investigation were such that there was no evidence of any antiagreement propaganda about Washington during the visit of Premier Ramsay MacDonald.

The shipbuilders have been silenced. Before the next conference opens the committee intends to make sure that any naval officers sent as attaches to the delegation will work hard and sincerely for an agreement, or if they do not will at least keep such a discreet silence that there will be no adverse effects from their presence.

The committee is understood to have little further interest in the relations of Shearer with the ship builders. That they believe to have been quite fully exposed, and public opinion quite definitely expressed.

When the hearings reopen it is understood that ten or a dozen naval officers will be called. Their activities at Geneva in 1927 will be searched and probed. Shearer will be recalled to tell what he knew of them. They will be asked whether they were ever entertained at the pretentious Shearer villa and, if so, how often. The intimacy of their acquaintance with Shearer will be eagerly studied.

REEVES FACES QUIZ

The supposition has existed in some quarters that the civilian delegations from both Great Britain and the United States at Geneva were working hard for an agreement at that unhappy conference, but that the naval delegates with a few noteworthy exceptions were less enthusiastic in their efforts.

The committee, it is expected, will go as far as it can to establish the facts on this point. Admiral Reeves will certainl be recalled and will be thoroughly cross-examined upon his denial of testimony of Drew Pearson, Washington newspaper man, that he was heard most frequently to express the hope the conference would fail.

The day he entered his denial the committee made no cross-examination at all. At least one member of the committee was understood to have been ready then to proceed with a lengthy examination, but was requested to wait until later because the committee was not ready to press that particular line of thought at the time.

The apparent lassitude of the committee toward reopening the investigation is completely explained by the idea of starting in again just before the London conference because of the value of the publicity at such time in aid of the cause of agreement.

EXCUSES FOR DELAY

Plausible excuses will undoubtedly be found for delay until January. At the present the Senate is really busy on the tariff bill. It is meeting from 10 to 6 every day. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, a member of the Shortridge committee, is leader of the Democrats and hence finds it necessary to devote a great deal of time to the tariff discussions. Then after the regular session begins in December and the tariff bill is out of the way—according to the optimistic—it will be so near the Christmas recess that it will hardly be worth while to start anything. Then, after the holidays it will be necessary to give a few days' notice to witnesses and lo, the middle of January will be approaching. What could be more natural?

There is one other contributory reason for delay. The lobby committee is carrying on its work and if that does not go into the activities of the merchant marine lobby which was supported by the shipbuilders to the extent of $143,000 then the Shortridge committee is expected to do so.

The Shortridge committee is understood to have some information on certain expenditures of this lobby which were only scantily described in the first Shearer hearings. There are rumors of vast sums for entertainment at a Washington hotel and of the visits there at times of Senators and Representatives who were deeply interested in the merchant marine. The committee purposes to find out if there was any truth to these rumors.

When the investigation reopens it is understood that there will be only a cursory gathering up of a few loose ends so far as the shipbuilders are concerned. Clinton L. Bardo, vice-president of the American Brown Boveri Company, is probably the only shipbuilder who will be recalled.

The committee, which saw all antiagreement propaganda so well squelched during MacDonald's visit feels that it has made certain that no shipbuilding company will send any propagandists to London. It is much more interested now in making sure that the naval officers President Hoover sends there work zealously for agreement.

Dependent On You

YOUR BOY . . . tousled hair . . . laughing eyes . . . a short while ago a helpless, pink skinned little being, dependent on you for his every need. Now growing up . . . beginning to look about at the world . . . and as much as ever dependent on you for the building of the strong little body which means so much to his happiness.

What Doctors Say

Doctors say that the formation of sturdy bones and sound teeth are of vital importance to the healthy growth you want for him. His growth depends on bone building. Good teeth mean proper chewing of his food . . . good digestion . . . and thus assimilation of the elements in food which are so vital to his health and growth.

Specialists on nutrition tell us that the mineral salts and vitamins found in such abundance in milk make it an indispensable food for growing children. Among these minerals are potassium, phosphorus and lime . . . all essential to bone building. In fact milk is the most important source of digestible lime or calcium. And these vital minerals, so plentiful in milk, are there in soluble form. This means easy digestion and assimilation.

A Quart a Day

Child specialists say that every growing boy and girl should have a quart of good, rich milk every day. Dr. Percy R. Howe, head of a famous dental infirmary in Boston, where nearly 100,000 children are studied every year, has shown very conclusively that if children consume liberal amounts of milk they will have sound teeth and be far more healthy than children not receiving milk. Be sure that your boy has his full quart of good milk every day. It is insurance for his future happiness . . . it brings ruddy cheeks, and the strong bones and teeth which mean health.

A Sound, Care-Free Investment Unaffected by Market Depressions

SIXTEEN years ago the Mortgage Guarantee Company originated a form of investment designed to safeguard investors' capital outlays, and to provide a sure and adequate interest return thereon, even under abnormal business conditions.

How completely this has been accomplished is attested by the record of results. Throughout this sixteen-year period, which included the World War and the most drastic upheavals of industrial, social and economic conditions ever experienced, this investment, in the form of Insured First Mortgage Certificates, remained safe and sound—free from all disturbing influences.

Year by year the demand for these Insured First Mortgage Certificates has steadily increased, especially among banks, insurance companies and other institutions whose investments are closely restricted and critically selected, until today they are purchased virtually throughout the United States and in foreign countries as well.

The fundamental differences between these Certificates and other investments for which similar virtues are claimed, can be appreciated only through careful analysis of the methods by which they are originated and protected.

The Underlying Factors

The Insured First Mortgage Certificates of this Company constitute an investment combining every desirable feature pertaining to safety of principal, certainty of income, and convenience of handling.

Safety: First-lien notes are the basis of the security which these Insured First Mortgage Certificates represent. Each note is secured by a first mortgage or first deed of trust, in the manner prescribed by the Mortgage Insurance Act of California, and never in excess of 50% of the appraised value of the pledged property. The appraisal, in every instance, is made by one or more experts approved by the State Insurance Commissioner, and certified copies of all appraisals are forwarded to both the Insurance Commissioner and the Superintendent of Banks.

The appraisal system employed is essentially adapted to the requirements of the most exacting institutions. It is by virtue of this fact that some of the foremost insurance companies of the world loan their funds in large volume through this Company.

Moreover, the improved real estate which secures the liens back of the Certificates is widely diversified as to both character and location.

In addition to this unquestionably sound security, the underlying liens are insured by the Company, under the Mortgage Insurance Act, as to both principal and interest. The qualifications of the Company to stand back of this insurance are indicated by its capital, surplus and undivided profits of $8.250,000 and its resources of $85,000,000, plus its record of sixteen years of continuously increasing success.

Income: In every instance, before a loan is granted, the income value of the property is definitely determined, whether the property be occupied by the owner or operated solely for profit. Moreover, the financial and moral responsibility of the owner is carefully considered. These precautions, combined with the low ratio of the loan, insure the prompt payment of interest.

The policies of insurance deposited with the trustee to cover the notes, guarantee the payment of interest as well as the full amount of the principal; and bear in mind that this protection is in addition to the tangible security in the form of select, improved real estate, conservatively valued at twice or more than twice the amount of the lien.

Interest at the rate of 6% per annum is paid to the Certificate holder on due dates, either quarterly or semi-annually as may be preferred.

Convenience: These Insured First Mortgage Certificates are issued in denominations of $100 and multiples thereof, thus enabling the investor to keep his funds closely employed.

They are registered in the name of the owner, thus obviating the risks of handling bearer instruments.

As interest is paid by check, there are no coupons to clip.

These Certificates are not purchased or sold on any of the Exchanges and have no relation to the general securities market. They are therefore non-speculative and non-fluctuating, and may be purchased and put away with an absolutely free mind. They are completely trouble-proof and care-free.

Maturities range from two to five years, and arrangement may be made by the purchaser to have his funds re-invested on maturity date (at prevailing interest rate) without any loss of interest.

These Certificates are legal investment for National, State and Savings Banks and other State-supervised institutions, and are eligible for all trust funds.

Solving Every Problem

An ever-increasing number of investors, both individuals and institutions, are finding in these Insured First Mortgage Certificates a complete and welcome solution of their investment problems.

Representing an extensive group of first-liens on all classes of improved real estate in many widely separated localities, the principal of diversification is carried to the limit of practicability in these Certificates, and no matter how extensively they may be purchased, there is no danger of putting "too many eggs in one basket."

So, to those who may be interested in this time-tested, care-free investment, we shall be glad to mail on request a copy of the descriptive booklet. Those who do not find it convenient to call in person, may telephone TRinity 0831 or simply mail the coupon.

ACTIVITY IN BUSINESS AT HIGH LEVEL

Security-First National Survey Shows October Ahead of 1928 Period

While October business activity in the Pacific Southwest showed little change compared with September, most lines were conducted at levels above October, 1928, according to the monthly survey of business conditions issued yesterday by the Security-First National Bank. Check transactions throughout the various smaller cities showed increases over last year and in Los Angeles, a gain of 17.7 per cent.

Trade at both wholesale and retail progressed at a fairly stable rate. The season of summer quiet in the retail trade was ended during the month, and merchants are perfecting plans confidently for an aggressive holiday trade. The summary continues in part:

Harvest of most of the principal crops of Southern California was either completed or at peak activity during October. General favorable weather conditions facilitated the harvests.

Employment in all lines both in agriculture and industry was well maintained. However, shortages of cotton pickers are reported to have developed in some districts, while there was some evidence of a similar condition among orange pickers. A stricter enforcement of the immigration regulations is said to have prevented a large number of Mexican laborers from crossing the border.

Oakey Opens New Business

Opening of a general investment securities business under the name of T. A. Oakey & Co. with offices on West Seventh street was announced yesterday by Thomas A. Oakey, veteran Pacific Coast investment banker, who recently resigned as vice-president and director of S. W. Straus & Co., for whom he was in charge of Pacific Coast operations.

Mr. Oakey said that connections have been made with eastern investment banking institutions and large insurance companies for the handling of their funds on the Pacific Coast. The company plans to open offices in San Francisco and Seattle before the first of the year.

Flour Concerns Increase Prices

Globe Grain and Milling Company has advanced its price on flour 20 cents a barrel, making the list price at the mill $7.60 a barrel, it was announced yesterday.

Sperry Flour Company and Albers Brothers Milling Company also announced increases of 20 cents a barrel, effective yesterday.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. Trading was quite active at the start, but the market became quieter on the decline and was holding fairly steady at net losses of about 13 to 16 points during the middle of the afternoon.

CONFIDENCE IN OIL SHOWN

Action of Stocks Indicates Faith in Curtailment; Independent Operator Sanguine

BY EARLE E. CROWE

While other stocks were slipping off yesterday, the oil shares turned in a creditable performance that spoke well for the technical status of the group and of conditions within the industry. In a way, it is curious to find the petroleum stocks looking healthy when the others are in rather a bad way, for the oils were the dogs of the stock market for many a long month when the industrials and utilities were swinging along in grand style.

Action of the oil group in this unprecedented period of liquidation is significant as the reflection of sentiment on the success of the curtailment program. Traders and investors evidently are ignoring the jolt from the cut in crude oil prices and the general unhealthy situation in the stock market. The action of the oil shares points to a tendency to place faith in an early restoration of balanced conditions in the industry through forced curtailment of production.

PROGRAM SUPPORTED

It is surprising also, in view of the history of the oil business in California, to find the operators, both small and large, lining up solidly behind the curtailment program. For the first time there is unanimity of action. The answer will be found in the sudden realization that the only route to higher prices for oil is through curtailment in the flush fields.

This sentiment was expressed yesterday by Carl J. Von Bibra, president of the Exeter Oil Company and the United States Refining Company. As one of the independent operators, Mr. Von Bibra declared that the smaller companies are willing to sacrifice current income and stand behind curtailment because of their faith in the promise of the major companies to restore the old price as soon as conditions justify.

Within two weeks, Mr. Von Bibra predicted, the flush fields in Southern California will be down to the production figures established in the curtailment program. As soon as this objective is reached, he expects that the price will promptly return to the former level in reflection of the balance established between supply and demand.

Restriction of output in Southern California, now running at about 860,000 barrels daily, will probably amount to approximately 200,000 barrels daily. This will reduce the State's production to about the average of 1928, at which point it is believed consumption and production will be in balance. Mr. Von Bibra is of the opinion that the producers will adhere to the stabilized rate of production after prices are raised, since they are now aware that the large purchasers of crude will immediately cut the price when too much oil is coming above ground.

GASOLINE STEADY

No danger confronts the gasoline price schedule, according to this operator. He believes, in fact, that a scarcity of gasoline may develop soon as the result of smaller amounts of crude running through the refineries. It is not likely, he added, that the independents will start cutting the price since they now are making the first profit on gasoline they have made in months.

Mr. Von Bibra also pointed out that fuel oil conditions act as a check on price-cutting tactics in gasoline. The fuel oil market, he explained, has been in control of the major companies for the last year. They are the largest buyers, and are in a position, as in crude oil, to take drastic steps with the gasoline refiner who adopts uneconomic marketing tactics. Refineries soon slow down if the fuel oil tanks are not emptied regularly.

The net result, this independent operator believes, will be a healthier business and a fair profit for all.

New Financing Total Sharply Ahead for Year

Representing an increase of more than 24 per cent, new public financing in the United States during the ten months to October 31, last, excluding domestic and Canadian municipal, and all real estate issues, aggregated approximately $5,488,903,000 as compared with $4,411,370,000 for the same period of 1928.

An analysis of how this financing was distributed reveals that the financial and investment trust group leads with $2,130,580,000; public utility financing follows with $991,398,000, while the oil industry ranks third with $371,509,000. There was a sharp falling off in new offerings toward the close of October, due to unsettled market conditions.

NEW PACIFIC FINANCE STOCK ISSUES LISTED

Governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday approved for listing the new common and three preferred stock issues of the Pacific Finance Corporation which will be called for trading immediately. The issues are the result of the recent split-up and reduction of the stock's par value from $25 to $10 a share. There is now outstanding 823,830 common shares and 200,000 shares each of Class A, C and D preference stock, all of $10 par value per share.

High Court to Hear Appeal in St. Paul Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Supreme Court today consented to entertain an appeal by the government and the Interstate Commerce Commission seeking to enforce certain parts of the commission's orders in connection with the reorganization of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad.

In January, 1928, the commission authorized the railroad in carrying out its reorganization plans to issue certain securities for exchange for the old stock, and cash, but provided that of the cash paid in by the stockholders an amount equal to $4 a share should be held in a separate fund, subject to the order of the court or of the commission, stipulating that $1.50 a share on the preferred and common stock should be set aside out of the fund for the express purpose of satisfying expenses of the reorganization.

The railroad challenged the jurisdiction of the commission to enforce the order impounding $1.50 per share, and a court at Chicago held the order invalid on the ground that the fund was beyond the commission's jurisdiction. The Supreme Court today said the government and the commission had presented a case probably within its jurisdiction which would be reviewed on its merits.

Net Income of Pacific Coast Biscuit Gains

Consolidated net profits after all charges of the Pacific Coast Biscuit Company for the nine months closed September 30, were reported yesterday at $433,002.77, including a tax refund of $57,532.48, which is equivalent after preferred dividends to $2.29 a share on 120,000 common shares. Excluding the tax refund the net earnings totaled $375,-470.29, or $1.81 a common share.

This compares with $307,688.84 reported earned over the same period last year, or $1.25 a common share on the same capital basis.

The net profits for the quarter closed September 30, amounted to $133,638.14, or 68 cents a common share, against $96,867.92, or 37 cents a share earned in the same quarter last year. This represents an increase of $36,770.22, or about 38 per cent.

Pacific Savings Resources Jump

Resources of the Pacific States Savings and Loan Company crossed the $50,000,000 mark, increasing $1,530,000 during the month of October to a total of $51,383,392.87 as of October 31, which brings the company into the position of fourth place of all associations of the country in point of volume of resources, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

This is the first time any building and loan association in California or the entire West has exceeded the $50,000,000 mark, it was stated. The increase for the month was due entirely to internal development, no associations having been acquired during the interval, according to the statement. The three largest associations of the United States are, respectively, the Railroadmen's of Indianapolis; Railroad Co-operative, New York City, and Farm and Home Savings of Nevada, Mo., each with resources under $60,000,000.

Paramount Net Profits Higher

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Preliminary estimates of net profits of Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation for October show an increase of 68 per cent over the same month last year, according to R. A. Coden, treasurer.

The film business of the company is running at a record-breaking pace and is far ahead of the same period of 1928, while profits of the Publix Theaters Corporation, the theater-operating subsidiary, are reported at a higher rate than at any previous time.

BUSINESS BUREAU ANALYZES FAILURES

National Better Business Bureau issued posters yesterday announcing that 80 per cent of the new business ventures financed by stock selling campaigns fail. Lack of sufficient capital is the cause of most failures, and lack of efficient and capable management is given as the next chief reason for failure. Fraud and dishonesty account for 10 per cent of the failures.

REVENUES OF WATER COMPANY INCREASE

California Water Service Company, subsidiary of Federal Water Service Corporation, yesterday reported gross revenues of $2,108,433 for the year ended September 30 last as compared with $2,063,112 for the preceding twelve months. Gross income amounted to $1,033,791 which compares with $974,256 for the year ended September 30, 1928.

Operating Report Issued for Nine Months Period

Net Increase of 26 Per Cent Over 1928 Recorded

Figures for Fourth Quarter Forecast as Higher

Showing an increase of 26 per cent over the same period of 1928, net earnings of the Richfield Oil Company of California for the first nine months of the year, as reported yesterday by James A. Talbot, chairman, and C. M. Fuller, president, amounted to $6,472,340.05 after all charges including depletion, depreciation and Federal taxes.

After deducting preferred dividends, the earnings for the nine months were equivalent to $3.05 on 1,947,000 shares of common stock, compared with $2.66 a share on 1,855,633 shares for the corresponding period of 1928. The 1929 earnings are exclusive of Richfield Oil Corporation of New York, while the 1928 figures include Pan American Western.

For the third quarter of the year, the report shows net income after all charges of $2,225,942.47, equal after preferred dividends to $1.05 a share on the common stock outstanding September 30, last. This compares with $1.44 for the third quarter of last year, computed on the basis of 1,432,650 as the average number of shares outstanding.

Before providing for depletion, depreciation, intangible drilling expenses, interest and Federal taxes, the company earned a total of $13,-872,894.17 in the nine months, representing $7.13 on the common stock outstanding at the end of the period. Deductions from this figure for depletion, depreciation, etc., were equal to $3.81 a share, leaving final net income of $6,472,340.05.

Prior to the same charges in the third quarter, the Richfield income amounted to $4,548,793.04, or $2.34 on the common.

SUBSIDIARY CONTRIBUTES

Earnings of the subsidiary, Richfield Oil Corporation of New York, which are not included in the statement of the parent company, amounted to $266,757.44 for the quarter ended September 30, last, after charges for depreciation and Federal tax. Before charges the income was $398,987.54.

In the letter addressed to stockholders, the management expresses the opinion that earnings for the fourth quarter, based on October operations, will exceed those for any of the first three quarters, indicating final net income for year of between $4.50 and $5 a share.

Combined production of crude oil and casinghead gasoline during the nine months amounted to 1,659,612 barrels, an increase of 42 per cent over the production for the first nine months of 1928. Nine new wells are expected to be placed on production in the next thirty days.

SALES RUN HEAVY

Third quarter sales, according to the report, amounted to $22,672,-124.38, raising the total for the nine months to $62,669,138.20, an increase of approximately 80 per cent over sales for the same period of 1928. Gasoline sales in the nine months totaled 351,952,310 gallons, a gain of more than 100 per cent over sales for the same period of last year.

Gasoline sales of Richfield Oil Corporation of New York in the third quarter amounted to 37,564,-675 gallons. It is estimated that the sales for 1930, taking into consideration recently acquired companies and controlled distribution, will be approximately 275,000,000 gallons. Under present market conditions these sales are expected to show a profit of $2,000,000, according to the report.

Universal Consolidated Oil Company, now controlled and managed by Richfield, produced approximately 4,000,000 barrels of oil and casinghead gasoline in the nine months. For the third quarter, this company earned after all charges $421,916.27, and for the nine months the net income was $1,446,009.28.

Abandonment of Opposition to Waterways Suggested by Attendance of Rail Group at Lock Fete

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—When Pittsburgh celebrated last week the completion of the lock system on the Ohio and the nine-foot channel from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill., six railroad presidents were on hand to join in the festivities.

A few years ago this would have been front-page news. It would have signified that the railroads had decided to co-operate in the vast government program for the improvement of the inland waterways, including as it does 200 harbors, 300 rivers and more than fifty canals.

February 1 the Mississippi Valley barge line expects to start a weekly common-carrier service between Cincinnati and New Orleans. It seems that under the Dennison amendment to the Waterway Act the Interstate Commerce Commission must institute proceedings with the railroads, requiring them to make through routing agreements with the waterway carriers.

There are two far-reaching problems involved in this. The first is that of finding whether the Interstate Commerce Commission must proceed in this matter under mandatory methods, or whether such action is discretionary. Second, just how far can the government insist on promoting co-operation between the inland waterways and the railroads?

The railroads have not filed any objections yet. A. H. Aishton, president of the American Railway Association, and opposing government competition, asks "even-handed justice," and has said the railroads are likely to protest to the commission against granting the certificates.

Railroads object on the ground that the government, which has no tax burdens and no overhead charges, is giving a 20 per cent reduction from the corresponding rail rates to those using the barge lines.

Nevertheless, the presence of the railroad presidents at Pittsburgh shows that they believe a closer and more friendly co-operation between water and rail in the interior sections of the country is desirable. That's a good omen.

The severe drought during most of the summer was the real reason why the total yield of crops this year throughout the country will run about 6 per cent below the ten-year average, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The drought caused a shortage of pasturage, curtailing milk production throughout the East and giving considerable trouble to live-stock men in the West.

The dry season had its effect on many crops. The potato crop is estimated at about 350,000,000 bushels, and is one of the smallest in ten years. The total carload shipments of fruits and vegetables for this year, through August and September, were 15 per cent smaller than last year.

Prices are high for potatoes. This will have a tendency to stimulate and increase the production for next year in the early potato crop country. Florida growers now indicate that they will increase their plantings of early potatoes, starting in January, about one-fourth over last year. Southern Texas will add about 8 per cent.

In the case of apples there was a forecast of 29,500,000 barrels, or about 6,000,000 barrels fewer than a year ago. Apple prices are now running 50 per cent higher than last year.

While crops are smaller in several lines prices are so much better that the net return may be higher, on the whole, than a year ago. But this does not tell the whole story. Many farmers have no crops at all, while others have but little. Those lucky ones with big yields get the real reward.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—The "bull market" in bonds stepped back into its stride today and prices moved up briskly in response to substantial demands for higher grade fixed income obligations.

Easy time money, the reduction in loans used for stock market purposes and the cut in the New York Federal Reserve Bank's rediscount rate were favorable factors whose effects were felt for the first time in today's trading session. Also, the necessity for liquidation of bonds for the benefit of stock accounts had disappeared and investors who believed that bonds looked attractive at the lower levels established in last week's declines placed buying orders for the best issues.

The gains covered the entire list, with the exception of the convertibles which moved lower in sympathy with stocks and, to a lesser extent, in the foreign group, where some irregularity developed after a period of early strength. United States government securities were leaders of the advance. Listed Treasury certificates touched new highs, with an extreme advance of 4¼ points shown by the 4¼s.

The 4s and the 3¾s each rose more than a point, while Liberties closed ⅛ a point higher on the average.

The Associated Press averages showed that the utilities had scored the broadest advance among the domestic corporation issues. Their rise of nearly a full point was almost duplicated by the industrials, while the first-grade and secondary rails moved up about ½ a point. It was the best improvement in many months, and brought the combined averages to 94.96 compared with 95.20, the level attained at the height of the October rise, most of which had been eliminated by last week's slump.

Trading in all groups embraced a wide range of issues, but bonds of the higher grades enjoyed the best market. In the utility list, such obligations as American Telephone collateral 5s, Cincinnati Gas and Electric first 4s, Detroit Edison 5s, Pacific Power and Light first 5s and others of only slightly lower merit soared 1 to

Among the low coupon rails, where marked strength was apparent, there were gains of as much as 4 points.

Trading in the industrials was marked by the strength of steel and oil company obligations. Bethlehem 5s, Armour 4½s and 5½s, Chile Copper 5s, Humble Oil 5s and 5½s, Goodrich 6½s, Lackawanna Steel 5s, Liggett & Myers 5s, Otis Steel 6s, Phillips Petroleum 5¼s, the Sinclair Consolidated Oil group, Shell Union Oil 5s and others were up ½ to 2 or more points.

European government bonds, including State and municipal issues, took the leading position in the foreign list. Belgian, French and German national loans rose ½ to 1 point, while larger gains developed in some of the municipal obligations. Hungarian Municipal 7½s gained more than 5 points, Milan City 6½s more than 4 and Rome 6½s nearly 3. There was some weakness in South Americans.

The closing quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Quotations Head Downward on Local Market After Strong Opening

Prices on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange opened yesterday in a fairly strong fashion on the orders accumulated since last Thursday, the preceding session, but turned irregular following the trend of the New York market and headed in a downward direction toward the close. The volume of dealings was slightly more than one-third the volume of last Thursday.

Transamerica headed the activity and after opening at 52, dropped to 48½ near the close. A board lot, however, went over at 48 7-8 on the closing gong, which marks a net loss of 2 5-8 for the session. Southern California Edison after opening at 62½ slumped to 60 1-4 and ended at 7-8 for a net loss of 3 1-8 points. Pacific Lighting transferred at 85, off 5 points. No other losses were recorded on the board in excess of 2 points.

Oil stocks as a group turned lower toward the close after opening firm. Richfield led the activity of the list with a turnover of 6200 shares and from a high at 31 5-8 dropped to a close at 30½, off 1½ points. Rio Grande, the second most active oil issue, opened at 23 1-8 and ended at 22 5-8, off 7-8 net and Union, after opening at 49 5-8 closed at 48 3-8, low for the day, to show a net loss of 1 1-8 points. Union Associates dropped 1 to 47 1-4. Standard Oil of California was traded in excess of 1000 shares and from an opening at 69 1-4 slumped 1½ points net to 67 3-4.

California Bank was the strong spot of the session as on a light turnover quotations advanced 3½ points to 136. Security-First National, after dipping to 123 3-4, closed at 125, up 1 net.

Pacific Finance lost 1 1-4 points to 122 3-4 while Pacific American Fire advanced 1½ points to 64. International Re-Insurance fell off a point to 49. Other changes were fractional.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Falling in line with the trend on the parent board, the resumption of trading on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday brought about a number of price reactions from the rally of the previous session which was last Thursday. Trading operations were quiet with only a few issues being dealt in.

Mexican Seaboard, with sales of 2300 shares, headed the activity and fell off 3 points to 16 1-4. Pacific Mutual dropped 3 3-4 to 93; Intercoast Trading 1 1-4 to 26; Gladding McBean, 3½ to 72; Fokker, 1½ to 24 1-4 and Claude Neon Electrical Products, 1½ to 41. Samson Tire dipped 1-8 to 10 after having reached 11 earlier in the day.

The list of stocks quoted in cents were active and irregular, headed by Kinner Airplane and Motor which slumped 27½ points to 1.12½.

SHARP RELAPSE ON STOCK MART

time in more than a week, and the ticker was able to catch up with the market. The day's transactions totaled 6,202,930 shares, of which approximately 3,700,000 shares changed hands in the first two hours. The turnover compared with 7,149,300 shares during the three hours of trading on Thursday.

Leaders of the banking group which was hastily organized to deal with the selling crisis twelve days ago, held no further meetings at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. believing that market conditions had finally been stabilized and called for no further action. The extent to which Wall street's physical trading facilities had suffered, however, became evident when the stock exchange board of governors decided to resume trading on a three-hour daily basis after the legal holiday tomorrow, election day, and to close all day Saturday. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the exchange will close at 1 p.m., instead of 3.

OUTLOOK BEARISH

The day's news did little to dispel the cloud of uncertainty which has arisen over the ruins of the late bull market. Call money held at 6 per cent. It was felt, however, that the danger that may have been done by the drastic break, will not be definitely appraised for several weeks, or even months.

Such stock as Allied Chemical, General Electric, Eastman Kodak, A. M. Byers, National Biscuit, American Tobacco B, International Business Machines, Johns Manville, Standard Gas, Stone & Webster, Underwood-Elliott, United Fruit and Westinghouse Electric lost from 12 to 17 points, net. American Telephone, American Can, Columbian Carbon, Auburn Auto, Columbia Gas, International Telephone, National Cash Register, New York Central and United States Steel lost from 8 to 10. Radio closed 6½ points lower, and General Motors, 2 3-4.

In general, the gains of Thursday were more than lost, although the market closed generally 10 to 30 points above the low levels of last Tuesday. Only a few shares broke to new low levels, including Keith Albee and Gulf States Steel.

Commodities turned downward, wheat losing nearly 4 cents a bushel, reflecting increased visible supply, and a bearish Argentine crop report. Corn sagged about a cent. Cotton futures lost about 75 to 95 cents a bale in liquidation attributed to stock market houses.

Foreign exchanges were irregular. Sterling cables sagged slightly to $4.87 7-8, while the Japanese yen reached a new 1929 high at 48.45 cents.

OIL PROFITS UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Panhandle Producing and Refining Company today reported consolidated net income of $30,417 for the September quarter after all charges and taxes, equal to $1.20 a share on $2,523,200 of 8 per cent preferred stock, as against $66,537, or $2.61 a preferred share in the preceding quarter, and a net loss of $12,673 in the 1928 quarter. Consolidated net income for the first nine months of this year was $129,874, or 5.15 a share on the preferred stock, as compared with a net loss of $76,827 in the 1928 period.

American Prosperity Is Unimpaired

The recent drastic recessions in stock prices were clearly the result of over speculation and were not based on a fundamental weakness in business or in industry. The nation's prosperity was not affected and corporation earnings were not impaired.

It is only reasonable to believe now that the hysteria of selling is past, basic securities will return to normal levels which are fully justified by present earnings and future prospects.

We believe the securities of soundly intrenched corporations at today's prices offer an opportunity for investment rarely equaled in the past decade.

A list of securities—particularly attractive at current levels—will be furnished on request.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Trading got back to normal proportions on the New York Curb market today as speculative enthusiasm lagged. The movement of prices was highly irregular and there was liberal profit-taking, especially at the opening. Some renewed liquidation also appeared chiefly in the utilities and the oils.

The heaviest selling took place at the opening when, contrary to expectations, stocks were dumped rather freely at concessions of 1 to 9 points. The volume tapered off, however, and the early losses were mostly erased, although subsequent selling depressed many of the leaders.

Cities Service was again a trading favorite. Opening an hour late with the unprecedented block of 225,000 shares, which represented an accumulation of orders over the holiday and week-end, the stock lost 3 points of its early rise of more than 4 and closed with a net advance of 1⅝ on a turnover of nearly 900,000 shares.

American Super Power remained below its previous closing price throughout the day, finishing with a decline of 4½. Electric Bond and Share and Electric Investors were other soft spots, dropping 11 and 12 points, respectively. Associated Gas and Electric steadied after early weakness, but Allied Power and Light was off 5⅝ points. Middle West Utilities, new, and American Light and Traction were strong spots in their group, the former advancing 8 points.

Aluminum Company of America, Lehigh Coal and Navigation and Caterpillar Tractor showed strength, the second named soaring 16 points in response to the plan to segregate its coal properties. Caterpillar was up nearly 5 points on reports that it was to be moved to the "big board," but was able to retain only 1½ points of its gain.

Soft spots in the oil list included Cosden, down 15, Humble, down 1, Vacuum, down 4½, and Gulf, down 4⅝. The Standard Oil group was fairly steady.

Investment trusts were once more under pressure, Goldman Sachs falling more than 8 points and Lehman Corporation 5½.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Are You Operating On Market Tips?

THE absolute fallacy of the market tipping system has been again demonstrated in tragic fashion.

There is one and only one way to operate in the market successfully, namely, to purchase good stocks at definitely favorably prices, as determined by their underlying and collateral conditions.

In other words, it is necessary to have authentic up-to-date information—not mere opinions—concerning the stocks which appear to offer opportunities for profit. Exactly this kind of information is furnished in my daily Statistical Letter.

Every day the service will name five or six stocks that have better than an average chance to prove of profit to you.

Try it at the trifling cost of $5.00 per month. You will probably find it indispensable. Simply use the coupon below.

Grain Futures Sag Sharply on Bearish Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Surprise over fresh piling-up of the United States wheat visible supply did much to send wheat values reeling down fast at times today, anxiety in connection with renewed unsettlement of the stock market tended further to plunge wheat prices lower. Meanwhile, export demand for wheat from North America was practically at a standstill, and it was current talk that there is little chance of moving out Chicago's big stock of wheat before navigation on the Great Lakes is at an end for the season.

After a maximum fall of 4½c a bushel, closing quotations on wheat here were nervous, 3⅛@3⅝c below Saturday's finish. Corn closed ⅝@1⅛c down, oats ⅜@⅝c off and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 2c.

Sharp setbacks in wheat prices began as soon as trading started. It was not, however, until after announcement that the United States wheat visible supply had mounted to a new record-breaking total that the wheat market gave way in good earnest. A falling off, rather than an increase of the visible supply figures today had quite generally been expected. On the contrary, the total expanded as much as 1,239,000 bushels, an amount a good deal more than was the case either last week or a year ago, reaching today the huge aggregate of 194,215,000 bushels, after 60,000,000 bushels in excess of the total at this time last year. Price rallies thereafter were small and numerous predictions were heard that big deliveries of wheat on Chicago December contracts are likely to be witnessed.

Corn and oats were responsive to wheat weakness.

Provisions declined as a result of selling which more than offset upturns in the value of hogs.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Yesterday's liberal supply included around 1700 head that arrived yesterday and 970 head held over from last week. A fairly active demand developed early, especially for steers and the better kinds of cows and heifers. Demand narrowed after the early round, however, and the later trading was slow. Early sales on all classes were strong to 10@15c higher, while late trade was about steady, the general market on the whole closing about steady with last week's close. Quite a few stockers and feeders were included in the supply and demand for these kind was narrow. About half of the estimated supply arrived from the Utah and Idaho section.

Two cars of medium 1012-pound Utah steers topped at 10.90, with four cars of other medium steers at 10.30 and 10.60. Several lots of common steers cashed from 8.75@10.00, while six cars of light weight Mexicans went over for 7.85 and 8.00.

Two cars of good 900-pound Utah heifers topped at 8.75, with odd lots of lighter weights higher, while other heifers cleared mostly from 7.50@8.50. Carlots of good Utah and Idaho cows topped at 8.25, with the majority of medium and good cows from 7.25@8.25. Common and low medium cows were fairly numerous from 5.85@7.00. Cutters and low cutters cleared largely from 2.50@5.75. Odd head of good weighty bulls sold up to 8.00, with most bulls from 6.75@7.60, with thin kind down to 6.00.

Several loads of good quality feeders went out from 8.75@9.60, with half a load of 672-pound averages at 10.00, with very thin feeders down to 7.00. Several loads of feeder cows cleared from 5.00@6.50, with heifers up to 7.50.

CALVES—Most of the supply was plain and weighty Arizona calves. Fairly active demand developed and a good clearance was made at about steady prices. Odd lots of milk vealers cleared from 13.00@14.50, while most of the calves averaging up to 350 pounds, sold from 10.50@11.75, with very thin kind and extreme heavies down to 8.00.

HOGS—Active demand developed and an early clearance was made at generally 10@20c higher prices. Yesterday's top was 11.60, with seven loads of good butchers from 11.50@11.60, mostly 165 to 209-pound weights, although one load of choice 225-pound averages was included at 11.60. A car of mixed 177-pound Californias made 11.15, with a load of 132-pound Californias at 10.75. Several lots of 150 to 175-pound truck-in butchers cleared from 11.00@11.25. Packing sows were in small supply from 8.50@9.50.

SHEEP—The general market ruled fully steady. Offerings consisted of two decks of good 88-pound California lambs that sold for 11.50, with 10 per cent at 11.00. Choice lambs were quoted around 12.25, with medium to choice ewes from 5.00@6.50.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Reflecting chiefly lower cables from the London market and continued unexpected liquidation in the stock market, futures in the local rubber exchange today were under constant pressure, on moderate trading, to result in 40 and 50-point losses at the close of business. London spot was quiet after early uneasiness and was quoted at 8⅛d, off 3-16d.

WE DO MORE THAN THAT AMOUNT OF BUSINESS . . through the 10th floor offices in Los Angeles . . for the old-fashioned, small-town, economical institution . . known for 36½ years as . . the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

Three State records for building and loan associations, plus a record of one-loan-loss in 36½ years, are held by this conservative institution. Oddly enough, too, we keep our records for economy.

$14,000,000 RESOURCES . . WITH $3,000,000 CAPITAL, SURPLUS & RESERVE . . carrying unlimited liability as your measure of safety . . are just a small part of the thrift service . . back of your 6% account . . and your privilege of convenient withdrawal.

CONTINUOUS INDEPENDENT AUDIT, with small-town directors who are not too dignified to work continuously—because their personal fortunes are at stake with unlimited liability as YOUR measure of safety!

WITH ECONOMICAL METHODS, shown by 10th floor offices in Los Angeles—convenient to your automobile, with one hour's free parking, in the garage-basement just south of 7th Street on the West side of Spring Street, and you take the elevator.

OIL NEWS

BY PORTER FLINT

Despite the movement under way to curtail oil production wildcatting operations continue to occupy the attention of smaller operators and even a number of the major oil companies, searching for extensions of already proven territory.

Among the tests to be watched is Standard Oil Company's Santa Barbara County No. 1, a short distance from the old Palisades field, [illegible] by the Olympic Oil and [illegible] Company about four months ago. Derrick has been completed for this test and the project may spud in within a week. Standard was the only operator to bid for the 318-acre lease offered by the Santa Barbara county commissioners for prospecting purposes.

Standard has also completed [illegible] derrick for Bastanchury No. 1 on the Bastanchury ranch. An extension of the Coyote-Hills-Murphy field will be sought. On the same ranch the Shell Oil Company drilled its Bastanchury No. 1 to a depth below 6000 feet, but it now is drilling below 4100, due to frozen drill pipe. No showings were ever [illegible] in this undertaking.

Where the Richfield Oil Company failed to find production, the [illegible] Company's Richfield-Puente No. 1 wildcat near Puente is drilling ahead below 1850 feet in blue shale. This test is but a short distance from Richfield's Didier No. 1, abandoned several months ago.

The Continental Oil Company is [illegible] for an extension southwest of the Signal Hill field by drilling Bryant No. 1, midway between Long Beach and Signal Hill [illegible]. It spudded in two weeks ago and is drilling below 2500 feet.

In Carbon Canyon, Keck & Hall [illegible] location for Belyea No. 1 on Sec. 21 3-9. It is in the same general vicinity where the Urmi Oil Company's No. 1 recently set eight and one-quarter-inch casing at 600 feet with bottom of the hole below [illegible] feet.

The Clearwater Oil Company's [illegible] No. 1 near the corner of [illegible] and Cerritos boulevards in the Bellflower district has spudded in. It is near tests drilled by the World Oil Company and several independent operators.

[illegible] Effect

Curtailment of oil production for [illegible] of the principal fields in the Los Angeles basin is well under way, according to announcement yesterday of E. Paul Grimm, umpire for the Santa Fe Springs field, and Neil [illegible] Anderson, umpire for Signal Hill. No accurate figures yesterday were available except those furnished by the operating companies, but indications are that the cut is being [illegible] effect.

Several of the major companies [illegible] among the first to announce a [illegible] in output. The General Petroleum Corporation's total output at Santa Fe Springs is 30,000 barrels daily and that figure will be [illegible] to 26,000 barrels. The [illegible] Oil Company's daily production at Santa Fe Springs has been [illegible] 22,000 barrels, and that [illegible] is reduced to one-half.

At Santa Fe Springs the Union Oil Company's daily average will [illegible] to approximately 25,000 barrels and its shut-in has been increased from 14,000 barrels to 40,000.

Heavy Casing Required

[illegible] to the heavy gas pressure, a [illegible] casing may be set in the [illegible]-Western Oil Company's Kettleman No. 1, Sec. 24, [illegible], Kings county. Drilled to [illegible] feet, gas has been in evidence [illegible] and indications are that [illegible] may be suspended for a [illegible].

[illegible] Test Scheduled

[illegible] shallow production has [illegible] obtained for a number of years in the Santa Maria field, the Shell Oil Company is preparing to spud [illegible] No. A-1 and will drill it [illegible] deep test, the first scheduled [illegible] that particular territory since [illegible] were drilled by the Union Oil Company.

[illegible] will go down on [illegible] half of a 2000-acre lease [illegible] belonging to the Western [illegible] Oil Company. Negotiations [illegible] acreage were closed some [illegible] ago, but activities were not [illegible] until recently.

[illegible] undertakings of Shell include the Pittman No. 1 on the [illegible] four miles north of [illegible]. This project is located [illegible] and is drilling below [illegible] feet.

[illegible] Oil Sand

[illegible] small area good for oil production at Potrero is evident with [illegible] report that Associated Oil Company's Prairie No. 1 is drilling ahead [illegible] sand below 3880 feet, while [illegible] Prairie No. 2 has topped the oil [illegible] at 3180 feet.

[illegible] of Associated's projects are [illegible] the east side of the Inlewood Cemetery and about a stone's throw from Parker No. 1 pumper [illegible] P. Getty, Inc., first town[illegible] completion in that area.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Western rail mills are operating at about 80 per cent capacity and additional business developing. Deliveries have improved, reflecting dwindling back logs. Only moderate tonnages of plates are being booked at Cleveland and mills can make prompt shipments. Scrap iron and steel markets are weak in the West.

Reporteros que se Deciden a Purgar su Condena

WASHINGTON, Noviembre 4.—Tres reporteros, puestos en libertad bajo fianza la semana pasada, tras haber sido sentenciados a cuarenta y cinco días por rebeldía, volvieron hoy voluntariamente a la prisión para comenzar a purgar su pena. Trátase de Gorman M. Hendricks, Linton Burkett y John E. Nevin, Jr., empleados, los tres, del "Washington Times". Dieron tal paso, porque su defensor les informó de que era casi seguro que el Tribunal de Apelación confirmaría su sentencia. En tal virtud, pidieron al juez Siddons, de la suprema corte del Distrito de Colombia que sobreseyera en el recurso de amparo y los consignara a la cárcel.

La oportuna llegada del operario de la cámara de proyección sirvió ayer, según reza el parte de la policía, para frustrar la tentativa de robo de dos jóvenes bandidos en el Teatro Mesa, sito en la esquina de Mesa Drive y la avenida de Slauson. Hallábase la pareja de cacos amenazando con darle tortura a M. Dykstra, portero del establecimiento, si no les abría la caja de caudales del teatro, cuando acertó a llegar el operario mencionado. Los ladrones se escondieron primero tras un telón del escenario, y emprendieron luego la fuga por una puerta trasera.

Otros dos bandidos tuvieron mejor suerte en un atraco a la luz del día que llevaron a cabo en una tienda de comestibles ubicada en el 1932 de la calle Primera Este. Encañonado con sus revólveres a Abe Brewer, propietario de ese comercio, lo obligaron a que les abriera la caja registradora, de la que se substrajeron $30.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

SHIP TERMINAL TRAFFIC HEAVY

Nine McCormick Line Craft Week-end Callers

Total Cargo Handled Given at 24,206 Tons

Third of Total Contributed by New Bonneville

BY WALDO DRAKE

The McCormick Line terminals handled a total of 24,206 tons of freight over the week-end in loading and discharging nine vessels, it was announced yesterday by M. A. Richley, terminal superintendent. The flood of freight represented five distinct McCormick services, operating to South America, the East Coast, the Orient and in coastwise trade.

Leading in tonnage was the new Norwegian motorship Bonneville, here on her maiden voyage in establishment of the Klaveness Line trans-Pacific express service. From Antwerp, the Bonneville brought in 8800 tons for discharge and loading out she took 1000 tons of newsprint, automobile tires and machinery for Singapore and Hongkong. Another Norwegian, the Bruusgaard steamer Hellen, sailed late Saturday for the north after leaving at this port 2500 tons of general European freight, loaded at Antwerp.

Six steamers in McCormick Line's coastwise services out of the port to San Francisco, Portland and Seattle were in and out over the week-end, handling a total of 7200 tons of cargo. These included the Portland ships, Eldorado, Nabesna, Hamlin F. McCormick and Ernest H. Meyer and the Puget Sound steamers Brookdale and Whitney Olson.

From the North Atlantic, the Munson-McCormick freighter yesterday completed discharge of 4780 tons, including pipe and structural steel; 1800 tons of groceries and consignments of machinery. Departing also during last week-end was the West Camargo, out for the South American East Coast in Pacific-Argentine-Brazil Line trade, while her sister ship, the West Nilus, was in from Buenos Aires and way ports last Thursday.

BIDS ON NEW FISH PATROL BOAT UP SOON

Bids will be opened at Sacramento the 18th inst. for construction of a patrol boat for the California State Fish and Game Commission. The craft will be of wood, eighty-six feet long with a beam of 18.6 feet and propelled by a 200-horsepower direct reversible Diesel, with pilot-house control.

The patrol boat is expected to possess slightly superior speed to a majority of fish boats and will be used to enforce laws on fishing gear, catch limitations and seasons.

It also will be equipped with an elaborate laboratory for scientific purposes, gear for trawling, and will have bunks for half a dozen experts, in addition to accommodations for a crew of four. Bunks all are below deck except the captain's whose cabin and pilot house are connected with an inclosed companionway to the galley, deck saloon and the deck box of gear aft.

The craft will have refrigeration for ship stores, a small cargo hold aft, and fuel tanks for 3600 gallons of oil.

More than twenty ship and boat-building yards in California are said to be bidding on the job. The commission now has one pilot boat, the Albacore, which later will be stationed at Eureka.

The Italian-owned Libera Line had two ships in port yesterday, the motor liner Feltre disembarking several passengers and discharging freight from the Mediterranean, and her sister ship the Leme embarking a dozen travelers and taking cargo for Italy, France and Central America. Departing were Mrs. Louise Benoit and Miss Pierrette Benoit of Venice, Cal., bound for Paris; Miss Louise Hertel of Santa Barbara, daughter of the musician, accompanied by Miss Praetorius, returning to France, where she served during the war; Henry Schultz, Beverly Hills engineer, bound for Berlin; Dr. and Mrs. Edward Swift of Glendale, bound for Italy and return, and four passengers for La Libertad, Giusto Reyer and Americo Figueroa, importers, and Mmes. Virginia Diaz and Isabell Morales.

The British steamer Oaxaca returned from Mexican West Coast ports yesterday afternoon after her first voyage for the new American-Mexican Steamship Company. A dozen passengers disembarked from Manzanillo. Following her arrival officials went into conference on her future sailings, which may not extend so far south, but will give a weekly round voyage, possibly down to Magdalena Bay. A definite schedule is to be announced in a day or so.

California Cotton Mills' new fumigation plant at Wilmington commenced operations yesterday by running through 412 bales of cotton received for European export from restricted areas in Arizona. H. W. Hart, traffic manager, yesterday expressed himself as highly gratified with advance offerings of incoming foreign cotton and other products.

Parke & Kibele yesterday started construction on the first two craft at their new shipyard established on the site of the old harbor department supply yard at Wilmington. These included John Gabelich's ninety-five-foot four-purpose fisherman and a 120-foot refrigerated bait boat being built for Morgan Brothers.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (P)—With the arrival here today of the American-built liner Pennsylvania, the local port was host to two new passenger liners, the other being the monster Japanese liner Asama Maru. The two new liners represent an expenditure of $13,000,000, the Pennsylvania costing $7,000,000 and the Asama Maru $6,000,000. The Pennsylvania, which is a sister ship to the California and Virginia, is scheduled to sail on her maiden eastbound voyage next Saturday. The Japanese vessel will also get away this week, sailing on her maiden voyage from the Pacific Coast to Japan.

Delay in reconditioning the liner President Fillmore has necessitated some changes in the Dollar Line's intercoastal westbound service, it was announced here today. In order to fit the vessel into the around-the-world service, she will omit the sailing from Boston on her next voyage, and will sail from New York only, January 15. The President Monroe, whose place the President Fillmore is taking on the around-the-world service, will double back to Boston to lift the cargo which would otherwise have moved on the Fillmore.

SEATTLE, Nov. 4.—The crash of W. B. Foshay & Co. in Minneapolis will not affect the Northland Transportation Company nor the Ketchikan Cold Storage Company and Citizens' Light and Power Company of Ketchikan, which are owned by the branch Foshay offices here.

William Semar, manager of the Northland Company, which operates ships between Seattle and Alaska and Prince Rupert and Alaska, made this statement today on receipt of word from the receiver for the Foshay interests that these three companies were not involved.

Seattle today began what promises to be one of its busiest weeks on the water front with eleven ships either loading or discharging cargo at the public terminal.

TACOMA, Nov. 4.—After discharging what is believed to be the largest shipment of whale oil from Alaska this season, the tanker Tanana shifted to Seattle this afternoon with still a small quantity of the oil in her hold.

The Tanana arrived here Sunday evening with 2300 barrels of oil and 170 tons of fertilizer from the American Whaling Company's station in the Far North.

While in Seattle the Tanana will take a small quantity of oil from the Victoria, which is in the same service and will return to Tacoma Wednesday to complete her discharge.

Unusual weather conditions in Alaskan waters had lengthened the whaling season this year.

CITY WINNING WAR ON CRIME

Past Year's Record Reveals 13 Per Cent Decrease

Police Department Praised by High Authorities

Chief Davis's Report Gives Traducers Lie Direct

Crime conditions in Los Angeles, which showed a 6 per cent decrease in the fiscal year 1927-1928, showed more than twice that reduction in the fiscal year ending June 30, last, according to the annual report of the Police Department, filed with the Police Commission yesterday by Chief of Police Davis.

The report goes into exhaustive details on the work of the Police Department. The opening pages are devoted to Officers Brinnegar, Shoemaker and Marple, killed in line of duty, and to Officers Rasmussen, Whisman, Pruett, Thomas, Wilde and Brinnegar, deceased, awarded medals of valor by the Police Commission.

Following the honor mention to brave officers the report carries a letter of Chief Davis to the Police Commission in which he points to the great record of the department, despite repeated attempts to discredit the chief and the force. The letter is as follows:

CITY WINNING WAR ON CRIME

Past Year's Record Reveals 12 Per Cent Decrease

Police Department Praised by High Authorities

Chief Davis's Report Gives Traducers Lie Direct

Crime conditions in Los Angeles, which showed a 6 per cent decrease in the fiscal year 1927-1928, showed more than twice that reduction in the fiscal year ending June 30, last, according to the annual report of the Police Department, filed with the Police Commission yesterday by Chief of Police Davis.

The report goes into exhaustive details on the work of the Police Department. The opening pages are devoted to Officers Brinnegar, Shoemaker and Marple, killed in line of duty, and to Officers Rasmussen, [illegible], Pruett, Thomas, Wilde and Brinnegar, deceased, awarded medals of valor by the Police Commission.

Following the honor mention to these officers the report carries a letter of Chief Davis to the Police Commission in which he points to the good record of the department, despite repeated attempts to discredit the chief and the force. The letter is as follows:

CHIEF'S LETTER

"July 1, 1929.

"Honorable Board of Police Commissioners.

"Sirs: I herewith submit the annual report of the Police Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929.

"The facts as set forth in the statistical sections reveal increasing efficiency in the protection of life and property in the city of Los Angeles during 1928-1929. This was accomplished without any increase in the number of sworn police. It is incontrovertible evidence of the energetic performance of the loyal men and women in the department and the judicial character of the direction and leadership under which they have functioned.

"Since repeated attempts have been made to discredit in the public mind statistics presented by the police, we take pleasure in quoting from certain eminent authorities on crime statistics:

AUTHORITY COMMENDS

"'Any person who makes any pretense of having knowledge concerning police organization and administration must admit that the best records and complaint bureau in [illegible] in the United States is in the Los Angeles Police Department. There is nothing comparable to it anywhere in this country. I speak with authority on this subject for I have visited most of the large police departments and know about the record systems that have been installed in these places.

"'AUGUST VOLLMER, [illegible]

"'Chief of Police, Berkeley, recipient of the Harmon medal for his contributions to the study of practical police work.'

"'I have had occasion to examine the Los Angeles Police Department system of keeping crime complaints with some care. I do not hesitate to say that I think the accuracy and completeness of the statistical analyses made from your department's crime records are not excelled in any city of the United States.

"'LEONARD V. HARRISON,

"'Bureau of Social Hygiene, New York City. Staff member President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission.'"

CRIME 12 PER CENT OFF

"Last year we reported a decrease over the preceding year of 6 per cent in major crime. This year it gives us pleasure to report that we have greatly improved upon that record by showing a decrease under last year of 12 per cent in the seven types of major crime."

The letter then gives a table of statistics, showing that major crimes for the fiscal year totaled [illegible] compared with 22,388 for the previous year. The reductions were in robbery, burglary, auto theft, theft from the person, false pretenses, assault with a deadly weapon and murders. A slight increase occurred in grand theft and in the passing of worthless checks.

The report shows that in crimes involving use of threat or violence, including murder, assault with a deadly weapon, robbery and burglary, the decrease under the previous year is 21.7 per cent. The Chief's letter further states:

"Throughout the year the department has been active in the enforcement of the State liquor law. The records show 9737 bookings for liquor law violations. Disposition records indicate that 5694 persons

ANTIQUES OF BALDWIN TO GO ON BLOCK

Auction of Many Objects Gathered by Millionaire to Start Next Sunday

One by one, art treasures and pieces of antique furniture assembled from over the world by E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, colorful California pioneer, are to be sold.

Under the agreement consummated yesterday, heirs of Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker, eldest daughter of the multi-millionaire, will dispose of Baldwin's antique pieces, which he left to Mrs. Stocker at his death. Mrs. Stocker died February 27, last, and executors of her will, Albert E. Snyder, son, and Rosebud Doble Mullender, daughter, placed the furniture in charge of Lewis S. Hart, Los Angeles auctioneer. The sale will begin next Sunday in the Ambassador Auditorium.

With the Stocker pieces, a collection of sterling ware, chinaware, furniture and other objects assembled from homes of the early-day Californians is to be sold, Hart said yesterday.

Some of the pieces in the collection to be auctioned were purchased by Mrs. Stocker following her father's death. Principally, however, the antiques represent the purchases of "Lucky" Baldwin, during the numerous travels of the millionaire sportsman and business man in all parts of the world.

The auction adds a new chapter to the history of the family in Los Angeles as but a few months ago, W. T. McGinley, former business manager for Mrs. Stocker, was named defendant in a suit to restrain disposing of any properties of the estate. The home and furnishings are a portion of the legacy of the son and daughter, however, and agreement was reached last week to sell the furnishings of the palatial Arcadia home.

The auction will continue through Sunday afternoon and evening until midnight. It will be resumed Monday and Tuesday, Hart said.

PANTAGES AFFIDAVITS PREPARED

Statements in Plea for New Trial Include One from Juror, Says Rumor

Affidavits on which Defense Attorneys Giesler, Gilbert and Ford will base their arguments for a new trial for Alexander Pantages, convicted of attacking Eunice Pringle, will be completed today and presented to the District Attorney's office tomorrow, it was learned last night.

Although contents of the affidavits and the names of their signers remained secret, it was admitted that at least one of them was made by a member of the jury that brought in the verdict carrying a State's prison sentence.

The affidavits taken by the defense counsel will be presented to the District Attorney today in pursuance of an order made by Superior Judge Fricke at the time the motion for a new trial was filed, the court stating that the prosecution should have time to prepare an answer to the affidavits before the hearing on the motion for a new trial next Saturday morning.

A statement was issued yesterday through the District Attorney's office by Eunice Pringle in which she denied she had authorized Attorney S. S. Hahn to prepare a civil suit in her behalf against Pantages. The girl's statement recited that she had been informed that Hahn had stated that he was to represent her in such an action.

Fourteen New Names Put in Film Academy

Announcement that fourteen new names have been added to the roll of members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences was made yesterday by Frank Woods, secretary. The additional members swell the total membership, limited to those who have distinguished themselves in creative branches of motion-picture production, to 400.

The new members are Frederic March, actor; Frank Reicher and Gus Edwards, directors; L. E. Clark, technical director sound; Ralph H Townsend, supervising engineer; Zoe Atkins and Frank Butler, writers; Harlan Thompson, writer; Tom Reed writer; Victor and Edward Halperin, producers; William Daniels, cameraman; Sidney T. Twining, head of sound truck department, and A. M. Brentinger, studio general manager.

EUROPEAN FORTUNE SMILING UPON HER

Mrs. Julia X. Llewellyn

ANGELENOS MAY INHERIT RICH ESTATE

Widow and Sons Declared Heirs to Wales Property in Family Generations

An old estate, reported to be worth a fortune, that has remained in a family of Llewellyns for at least four generations, probably will come into the possession of a Los Angeles widow and her two sons, it was learned from Julia X. Llewellyn, 757 South Mariposa street, last night.

Mrs. Llewellyn, formerly wealthy, who said she has lost nearly $40,000 in the last six years, received a letter from her 27-year-old son, Harry, yesterday, stating that he is going to Wales to claim the estate. He is in St. Louis. The other son, J. Russell Llewellyn, resides here with his mother.

Behind the discovery of the estate is a story which goes back to pioneer Chicago, long before the fire of 1871, involving every title to property in the Chicago, suburg of Wilmette, Ill.

SETTLED NEAR CHICAGO

John Llewellyn, grandfather of Mrs. Llewellyn's deceased husband, Joseph Llewellyn, left his estate in Southern Wales and came to Chicago. He settled on a large farm, now the site of Wilmette. When he died the farm was left to his several children, one of whom was Henry Llewellyn, Joseph's father.

Henry was 12 years of age when his father died and was a messenger on the Board of Trade. The president of the board reared Henry and when the latter was 19 he brought suit for recovery of the site of Wilmette which his older brothers and sisters had divided, leaving him out.

Records of ownership, however, were destroyed in the Chicago fire and Henry did not try to recover the land until thirty years later. The judge on this occasion threw the case out of court on account of the long elapsed time.

WORD COMES FROM WALES

Mrs. Llewellyn, however, stated that her late husband had considered taking up the suit again, and that since his death she has done nothing about the matter.

While the Llewellyns were centering their activity around Chicago and St. Louis, where Henry founded the present Brown Shoe Company, Nathaniel Llewellyn, brother of Henry, remained on the Wales estate.

It is through his lineage that the estate has passed down until the two local Llewellyn boys and their mother are the remaining heirs.

Mrs. Llewellyn is certain that the estate will be turned over to the family, as she said she has signed papers originating in England to the affect that her sons are the men descended from the original Llewellyns.

STATE WILL ACT ON SAN GABRIEL

Engineers and Geologists Named to Dam Inquiry

County's Board of Survey Meets to Investigate

Federal Experts Also to be Asked for Advice

Appointment of a special board of three engineers and three geologists to investigate the safety features of plans, specifications and foundations of the proposed San Gabriel Dam, was announced yesterday at Sacramento by State Engineer Hyatt, while nine engineers and geologists in the employ of the county began a similar survey on the dam site.

The county's board of survey held a preliminary meeting at the proposed location of the dam, where doubt arose several weeks ago as to the safety of the site after a tremendous landslip, and members of the board indicated that group or individual reports will not be made for at least two weeks.

BOARD MEMBERS

The State board, which will convene in Los Angeles the week of the 11th inst., is composed as follows:

J. L. Savage, chief designing engineer of the United States Reclamation Bureau and a recognized authority on high masonry dams.

George A. Elliott, chief engineer of the Spring Valley Water Company, who is in charge of all dams for that corporation.

M. C. Hinderlider, Colorado State engineer, who was a consulting engineer for many years in Denver and as State engineer has been in charge of approximately 1000 dams in Colorado.

Dr. Charles P. Berkey, consulting engineer of New York City and professor of geology at Columbia University.

Dr. George D. Louderback, consulting geologist and professor at the University of California.

Dr. Ira P. Williams, consulting geologist of Portland, who examined and reported on the foundations for many dams throughout the Northwest, including the highest masonry dam in the West.

EXPLAINS ACTION

Hyatt announced that his appointments are a result of a formal application for approval of the dam filed by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District in accordance with State dam supervision laws passed by the 1929 Legislature.

The State Engineer also revealed that the Federal government will be invited into the San Gabriel Dam investigation. He said the proposed structure also comes under the jurisdiction of the United States Department of Agriculture and on reciprocal agreement between State and Federal offices that department will be asked to appoint authorities.

"In view of the unprecedented size and height of the San Gabriel Dam," Hyatt said, "the difficult technical considerations pertaining to the design and foundations and its importance to the valley below, the investigation to be made by the State will be comprehensive."

Engineers and geologists who met at the dam site and who were employed by the county on the project before in one capacity or another included F. H. Fowler, Wayne Loel, Andrew C. Lawson and J. W. Reagan, former chief of the flood-control district. F. J. Safley of the San Gabriel Protective Association was present. Allan Sedwick, who disputed the suitability of the dam site in 1921, and three members of a recent board that condemned the site for a high dam, Robert Hill, Dr. F. C. Tolman and Louis C. Hill, also were present.

EATON HEADS GROUP

Chief Flood Control Engineer Eaton headed the group and opened the discussion with the assertion that it is the business of the engineers "to determine whether a safe dam can economically be built here."

"The Board of Supervisors has relied on your reports in the past," he said, "and now it wants to know what your opinions are in the light of new developments."

As the nine men gathered in the administration building at the dam site and discussion on the site began different opinions developed, and first indications are that they will not agree individually on certain engineering and geological features as to the feasibility of the site.

They agreed, however, that if they do not agree on a joint report, those who do find themselves thinking harmoniously on the site will join in a report and the others will be permitted to make individual reports to the Board of Supervisors.

SUPERVISORS CLASH OVER HIRING ENGINEERS

Sharp denial that his attitude in opposing the employment of nine engineers to make a report on the proposed $25,000,000 San Gabriel Dam was "for advertising purposes" was made by Supervisor Graves at a heated session of the Board of Supervisors sitting as the county

PORTER INQUIRY STARTED

City Prosecutor Nix Will Question Mayor's Campaign Aides Today on Election Expenses

City Prosecutor Nix yesterday inaugurated his investigation of the charges of violation of the election laws urged against Mayor Porter by sending out a request for four of Porter's campaign workers to come to his office this morning and "tell what they know" of the financing of the campaign.

Those asked to be present are George F. Pepperdine, wealthy church brotherhood worker and head of the Western Auto Supply Company, reported to be a heavy contributor to the Porter campaign; Lester Vaughn, campaign committeeman; Cole Salling, campaign manager, and William Joos, former deputy District-Attorney and a Porter worker. These names are included in a list submitted by H. H. Merrick, realty man, to Nix last Saturday, as being in a position to recount the Porter finances.

Nix gave no indication as to his plans, other than to say he will question the men on the matter contained in the complaint, sworn and submitted by Paul A. Schilling, a plumbing contractor, of 953 Marietta street.

The complaint charges Mayor Porter with violating the State election laws in neglecting to file an accurate account of his expenses for the general election last June 4. Another complaint accuses Charles R. Rowett of Long Beach, secretary of the former grand jury, and Porter campaign committee treasurer, of failing entirely to file an accounting of the committee's expenditures.

Nix also sent for a copy of the Porter campaign expense filing for the general election, upon which the requested complaint is based.

ROYALTY HERE FROM EGYPT

Long Journey Ends

Herman W. Frank, owner; King John and Corp. Jack Eldridge who accompanied Arabian horses on long trip.

QUIETLY and unostentatiously real royalty slipped into Los Angeles yesterday when King John and Queen Malouma arrived at the Santa Fe station aboard their private car. This is their first visit to this city, although there is every reason to believe they intend to remain here permanently. Meanwhile their temporary headquarters will be at the Los Angeles Riding Academy.

The royal pair came here from Egypt, and were attended only by Corp. Jack Eldridge, master of the horse for their majesties. They left Alexandria on September 15, last, and landed in New York October 2. Then, after resting up from the sea trip, they came on to this city by fast express.

They left New York last Thursday and made the same time on the cross-country run as the regular passenger schedule. Their private car is steam heated and equipped with dining-car facilities, so that there was never any delay about their daily rations of oats, ground corn, hay and water. The groom stayed with them all the time, even sleeping in the car between the box stalls, one of which occupied each end of the car.

The horses were brought here by Herman W. Frank, one of the founders of the Harris & Frank Company. He purchased them in Egypt last spring. He believes the Arabian horse also has a better value in Southern California than in any other place outside its own country because the climate here is so nearly like that of Egypt.

These two animals are full-blooded Arabians, bred on the desert and were considered, he said, two of the finest in that country, King John being classed as one of the fastest race horses in all Egypt.

METHODIST PREACHERS PICK HEAD

Rev. W. W. Kaler Chosen as President of Meeting; Dr. John Nuelsen Speaks

Rev. W. W. Kaler, pastor of First Methodist Church at Gardena, was elected president of the Methodist preachers' meeting of Southern California at the annual election yesterday at First Methodist Church. Others elected are Rev. William C. Hodgson, pastor of University Methodist Episcopal Church, vice-president, and Rev. Horace B. Sellers, pastor of Euclid Heights Methodist Episcopal Church, secretary-treasurer. The new program committee is composed of Revs. J. L. Corley, Tom Burden and F. G. H. Stevens.

Dr. John L. Nuelsen, for the last twenty-one years Methodist bishop of Central Europe, spoke concerning the part that Christianity is playing in the social, economic and spiritual reconstruction of that portion of the Old World.

"There was a time when I preached in as many beer halls as churches, but when some one informed the liquor interests that Methodism was largely responsible for the Eighteenth Amendment, the brewers unanimously agreed to not rent their halls to ministers of our denomination," said Bishop Nuelsen.

Temperature Near Record for November

Those who are prone to talk about the vagaries of the weather will have to go back more than thirty years to equal what occurred in the matter of high temperature and low humidity in Los Angeles yesterday.

Thermometers in the Weather Bureau officially registered 90 deg. at 2 p.m. and other instruments showed the humidity at noon to be only 12 deg. This atmospheric condition does not produce an uncomfortable situation because the low humidity counteracts the high temperature, according to Col. H. B. Hersey, weather forecaster.

On November 20, 1896, the thermometer went higher than it did yesterday for the same month, reaching 96 deg. with a humidity of 22 deg.

Today's forecast includes fair skies and gentle northeast winds. Temperature is not expected to reach the mark set yesterday, although it will be warmer than usual for November, it was asserted.

CANADIANS WILL MEET

The first gathering of the Canadian Tourists' Society this season will be held at the society's social parlors, 416 South Spring street, Friday evening. Winter tourists are to be guests of honor.

Chrysler Site in Long Beach Again Talked

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Chrysler Motors has resumed negotiations for a factory site in the industrial area northeast of Long Beach on the Montana Land Company property, it was announced today.

Chrysler interests discussed purchase of a site for a West Coast factory here several moths ago but negotiations were not concluded.

"I DON'T KNOW WHERE I LIVE!"

Politician Who Would Oust Davis Has No Property

Lives on Borrowed Money, He Says in Debtor's Court

Refuses to Tell Whether He is an American Citizen

John A. Quinn, the promoter-politician who heads the movement to oust Chief of Police Davis, declared under oath in Referee Nodd I. Mulville's court yesterday that he does not know his own residence address, but that it is not in Los Angeles, that he has no property of any kind, bank account or income, that he lives on borrowed money and that he has held no salaried position for the past ten years.

Asked if he is an American citizen, he refused to answer.

Quinn appeared before Referee Mulville of the Municipal Court in proceedings to collect a judgment against him in the sum of $112.25.

Bathroom equipment together with twelve blankets, twelve bedspreads, two sheets, four pillow slips, eight towels and a number of other items totaling $139 and purchased but not paid for from the Edward M. Mose Company, constituted the cause of the debtor-judgment. The bill of goods was ordered, the record shows, by the promoter's brother, and charged to John A. Quinn's account on October 1, 1928.

Roy M. Sayre, attorney for Fred W. Long, commercial collector, questioned Quinn in the proceedings. While the political-promoter admitted the debt and declared himself willing to settle, no assets with which to meet the obligation could be uncovered.

NO PROPERTY

"I have no bank account," declared Quinn.

As Sayre continued to question Quinn regarding his ability to pay the judgment came the following answers:

"I have no stocks or bonds and no automobile and I do not own my home."

"I am giving my time and efforts free to my association and draw no pay."

"I have no outside income and I have no jewelry."

"Then," Attorney Sayre asked, "how do you live and eat?"

"I live on borrowed money," replied Quinn.

Quinn further declared that he was unable to remember where he lived but after some questioning stated that he resided in Alhambra "somewhere on Fourth street near Mission," but was unable, he declared, to give his exact address.

Quinn then astonished the court by refusing to answer a question intended to discover if he is an American citizen.

"Are you an American citizen?" next came from Sayre, and Quinn declined to reply, declaring the question was only put to embarrass him. Sayre informed the court that, if an alien, Quinn might be entitled to certain alien exemptions.

"Do I understand that you object to answering a question relative to your citizenship?" came from Referee Mulville and Quinn admitted that he did, saying that, as he has no property, such exemption could not apply. His objection was sustained.

SEEKS PRIVATE HEARING

Quinn, whose troubles over the bill in question began on August 3, last, and against whom a judgment by default was returned during the same month, made a strong effort to have the hearing in the privacy of Referee Mulville's chambers and when that was denied him appealed for a continuance, which also was denied.

The promoter stated from the witness stand that he had not drawn any salary for ten years and had no bank account for more than two years. He stated, however, that "I intend to take care of the bill."

VETERAN EMPLOYEE OF NIX'S OFFICE FETED

Emma G. Magruder, Deputy City Prosecutor, was honored last night by a dinner given her by employees of the City Prosecutor's office commemorating the twentieth anniversary of her employment in the office. She was presented with an elaborate desk pen set. Miss Magruder has served more than a dozen different City Prosecutors.

AIR TOUR FLEET IN OAKLAND

BY BURTON L. SMITH

"Times" Staff Representative

OAKLAND, Nov. 4.—Running one hour ahead of schedule the fleet of fifty-seven airplanes carrying more than 200 representatives of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce arrived here at 4 p.m. today. Not a mishap of any kind was experienced.

Making a perfect score for what is perhaps the largest lot of civilian planes flying en masse ever attempted, perfect order was manifest throughout the trip, indicating that this voyage is destined not only to be recorded as the greatest of its kind, but as a model for future events.

The caravan got under way promptly at 9 a.m. when the fifty-seven craft of all kinds and description took to the air at Metropolitan airport and sailed majestically northward on the first leg of their journey, Santa Maria. The Santa Barbara county town was reached at 10:30 o'clock, half an hour ahead of scheduled time. The ships landed on Hancock Field, which is one of the finest privately owned airports in the country. The great fleet experienced no difficulty in landing promptly. No special ceremony marked the arrival of the ships but the delegation found waiting a number of automobiles which transported the party to the First Methodist Church which the ladies of the organization served luncheon.

SALINAS TURNS OUT

Jesse Chambers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced a number of speakers, all of whom extended a cordial welcome to the visitors. A two-hour stop more than exhausted the time allowed to Santa Maria and at a few miuutes after noon the great fleet was moving to

AIDE OF MRS. McPHERSON SOUGHT IN TEMPLE QUIZ

While auditors are continuing their examination of the accounts of Angelus Temple, investigators are seeking one of Aimee Semple McPherson's former financial advisers who disappeared from the city shortly after Rev. John Goben, dismissed pastor of the Pasadena pastorate of the Church of the Four Square Gospel, appeared before the county grand jury and demanded an investigation, it was revealed at the District Attorney's office yesterday.

Meanwhile Miss Harriet Jordan has been subpoenaed to reappear before the grand jury today and to bring additional books, checks and official papers which, it is believed, will throw new light on the case, according to Daniel Beecher, chief of the District Attorney's trial department.

While the District Attorney's office moved toward the grand jury with the investigation, Mrs. McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, following a reconciliation after two and one-half years, departed by automobile Sunday night for Portland for conference on the management of the religious organ-

SAY what you will, Mrs. Clara Phillips, the hammer murderess, wrote a grand piece to the Governor . . .

". . . before youth has fled to establish myself as a good wife and if it be God's will a mother . . . the little laughter of a child's voice will soften the terrible years of the past . . ."

Personally I don't know what Clara means by all this elegant language; but my impression is that she is fed up on jail.

If she does get out there will be one husband around whom the vamp young ladies will not come buzzing. Mr. Clara will be the world's best-behaved husband.

THE YEARLY LETTER

There is a certain pathos about the letters that prisoners write. In the Federal prison at Alcatraz every prisoner is allowed to write one letter a year asking for freedom. And they spend the whole year writing and rewriting and trying again and again—until, like Clara, they take the last vestige of anything human and convincing out of their appeals.

HE'LL PAY AND PAY

"It was all my fault," sobs the bride who is pursuing her husband by airplane after they had quarreled on their honeymoon and he came on to Los Angeles.

But when she finds him it will be all his fault. No bride in her right senses would ever let a husband win that way—right at the jump-off. He will be begging her pardon in all the languages and dialects he knows—not to mention paying for the airplane.

OUR JAPANESE VISITORS

"The outstanding impression we have gained is that Americans look forward—seldom look back, and that spirit, together with your natural resources, has made the United States great," says Mr. H. Ihara of the Japanese mission recently visiting Southern California.

The gracious compliment might be returned. No nation in the history of the world has made equal progress with Japan . . . and this solely due to courage and forward thinking.

A people of less pluck and less brains would have perished long ago had they been confronted with the problem of living on the slender resources that are Japan's. In three or four generations this little island empire has struggled up from a football of the great powers to a position where she stands with England and America.

And her story has just begun. If the world gives her a decent chance to hammer her swords into plowshares, you are going to see achievements in industry and science from Japan that will make the world sit up.

NEW PRISONS

There is no doubt—as Dean Justin Miller of the Southern California law school suggested to a legislative committee—that California will soon need new prisons. If for no other reason than the law giving life terms to four-times convicted felons.

If they have to be built the site should be on some lonely island offshore—like San Nicolas or San Clemente. Heaven knows, we do not want a blot on the landscape around here—coops for jailbirds.

SHULER TRIAL STAGE ALL SET

Jury Completed Following Lengthy Deliberation

All Receive Respite as One Has to Go to Funeral

With the jury selected for the trial of Rev. R. P. Shuler on charges of criminally libeling former Mayor Cryer, Deputy City Prosecutors Brockman and Lindley plan to call their first witness against the pastor to the stand in Municipal Judge Pope's court this morning.

After the attorneys in the case had spent more than five days in the effort to select a jury, Paul D'Orr, Shuler's counsel, following examination of the forty-first talesman called into the box, shortly after 11 a.m. announced: "We are satisfied with the box as now formed." Following a short consultation with Lindley and Cryer, Brockman also announced that he was satisfied with the jury. At the time D'Orr had four peremptory challenges remaining and Brockman had three.

FINAL SELECTIONS

The jury finally selected consists of nine women and three men. They are: Mrs. Nettie P. Marion, 715 West Forty-eighth street; A. L. Scudder, retired general merchant, 823 West Forty-first street; Mrs. Josephine Piath, 5917 Echo street; Mrs. Mabel Osburg, 1111 Madison avenue; Mrs. Sophie Looney, 2304 Pasadena Place; Mrs. Effie B. Kelsey, 1447 Ridgely Drive; Mrs. Beatrice Hansen, 158 South Eastlake avenue; Mrs. Bertha Noah, 1575 South Ardmore street; Mrs. Frances J. Norton, Eighty-fourth Place; Mrs. Bertha Russell, 116 South Edgemont street; William Baker, retired printer, 5226 Hillendale avenue and Harry H. Crawford, retired cafe owner, 2211 Victoria avenue. Two of the jurors, Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Russell, were among the twelve talesmen originally drawn by Clerk S. R. Murphy a week ago.

Only one talesman was excused from the box yesterday, James MacGregor, retired fruit buyer, being dismissed by stipulation following his admission that he frequently discussed public problems in Pershing Square. He was replaced by Baker, who was accepted as the last juror by both prosecution and defense.

At the request of D'Orr, Judge Pope then dismissed the jury until 10 a.m. today to allow Mrs. Noah, a member, to attend the funeral of her aunt yesterday afternoon. When court opened yesterday Mrs. Noah asked to be excused, but neither D'Orr nor Brockman was willing to allow her to leave the box permanently. In order to retain her both attorneys stipulated that the jury need not be sequestered, as Judge Pope has announced will be ordered, until taking of the testimony actually is started this morning.

TALESMAN EXCUSED

From this morning on all jurors will be under the constant guard of a bailiff and will eat and sleep at a downtown hotel until their deliberations have ended.

W. L. Martindale, news dealer, is expected to be the first witness called to the stand this morning by Brockman. Through him the prosecutor expects to prove malice, a necessary part of his case, by proving that Shuler knew the magazine containing the asserted attack on Cryer was advertised as "Mayor Graft." Other prosecution witnesses probably will be bank representatives, who will testify to Cryer's transactions, and the County Tax Collector, whose receipts will be introduced as evidence of the growing valuation of the former Mayor's real estate holdings.

pleaded or were found guilty, many of them on two or more counts. The convictions rate, on the basis of counts, sustained, at 81.5 per cent.

COURTS WON'T CO-OPERATE

"Of those convicted only 11 per cent received straight jail sentences. Seventy-eight per cent received an alternate jail sentence of fine, paid the fine and returned to do business until caught again. It is obvious that the limited number of officers that can be detailed to the work of securing the conclusive evidence required to convict a bootlegger cannot hope to do more than curtail the business so long as the fine-license system is in vogue.

"Taking the profit out of the liquor industry will not only eliminate liquor-law violation. It will definitely and directly affect the crime rate, particularly in the realms of the crimes of violence. Criminals of the more dangerous types thrive as retainers of the liquor industry, whose enormous funds provide them with the best to be had in deadly weapons, bail them out readily when caught and employ the ablest counsel to get them off lightly when forced to trial.

"The continued growth and increasing prosperity of the city make the problem of affording satisfactory police protection with the limited manpower and equipment at our disposal a grave one.

MORE MEN NEEDED

"The need of additional men is acute. Anything approaching adequate patrol of our 446 square miles is impossible. The reduction in crime has been brought about by special police methods in spite of the deficient patrol service. These special methods cannot be effective beyond a certain point. More men must be provided at the earliest possible time.

"The same holds true of equipment. The more inadequate the manpower the more imperative is the need of high-grade motor equipment so that the ground may be covered.

"The failure of the bond issue for the construction of a new police headquarters and central jail leaves the city in a serious situation. Inadequate and improper facilities for the detention of prisoners is a grave handicap in the carrying out of any law-enforcement program.

"I, therefore, respectfully direct your attention again to these urgent requirements. On behalf of all members of the department I beg to assure you that every effort will be made to further reduce crime occurrences in this city, despite the burden of handicap suffered.

"Respectfully yours,
"JAMES E. DAVIS, Chief of Police."

CRIMES BY THOUSAND

The report shows that during the year there were 5571 burglaries, 1237 robberies, 694 cases of grand theft, 9872 auto thefts, 372 thefts from the person, 116 cases of obtaining money by false pretense, 1110 worthless checks, 342 assaults with deadly weapons, and fifty-four murders. The number of stolen autos recovered totaled 8274.

Traffic accidents totaled 11,190, compared to 9859 last year, while traffic injuries were 14,259, compared to 12,277 for the previous year. The report goes into detail on the causes and results of accidents, the principal one being that drivers fail to stop on entering highways or boulevards.

HOMICIDES RUN HIGH

In a total of sixty-five homicides, fifty-four were murdered and eleven were killed while committing crime. Twenty killings were caused by the "other woman" or "other man." Only ten murders went unsolved.

The report goes into police marksmanship, the emergency division, motor equipment, records, a list of 2660 persons reported missing and 1721 persons found; arrests for all causes totaling 96,319, and 208,942 traffic citations.

Tabulations of crime statistics cover more than fifty pages on the annual report, which consists of seventy-five pages.

OAKLAND HOST TO TOUR FLEET

the north with Salinas as their destination.

Salinas was reached ahead of schedule and practically the entire population was gathered at the American Legion airport, where Mayor D. A. Madera, in a short address of welcome, told how proud the city was to be included on the itinerary of this flight. A small number of talks followed by Los Angeles members of the Legion and Junior Chamber, after which the ships continued their way to the final stop of the day, which was made at the Oakland Municipal Airport.

The air travelers went in a body to the Hotel Oakland where the local Chamber of Commerce has arranged to play host to the entire party and where all were quartered for the night.

BANQUET GIVEN

A banquet wiven by the local Junior Chamber at 8 p.m., was a high light in the program. C. E. Campbell, president of the Oakland Junior Chamber, presided and made the address of welcome. Kennedy Ellsworth, Los Angeles, president of the Junior Chamber, responded for the visitors as did several members of the cruising party. H. H. Porter, Oakland, chairman of the banquet committee, made one of the principal talks as did Ray Kitchner, vice-president of the Oakland organization. In all of the speeches of both residents and visitors, the forthcoming aircraft show which opens in Los Angeles November 9 was the dominant note, assuring that all the air-minded folk of the West are active supporters of the exhibition.

Newspaper men were taken care of on the trip in a Ford all metal plane belonging to the Maddux Air-lines, which has a wing spread of seventy-seven feet, ten inches. There are accommodations for fourteen passengers and ample room for typewriters and all needed equipment. The ship is piloted by Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, of the famous Sea Hawks, who kept the ship in the vanguard of the fleet that averaged more than an hour ahead of what had been expected of it.

Tomorrow the fleet will start on its southern course, visiting Sacramento and Stockton, stopping for the night at Fresno. The next day Visalia, Bakersfield, San Bernardino and El Centro are to be visited. The fleet is due to return to Los Angeles at 11 a.m. Thursday.

THE LANCER

Carnegie medals in Los Angeles shows one gratifying fact. Every one of them did something that he need not have done. That colored man in the elevator at the County Jail could just as easily have obeyed the orders of the escaping crooks; and the hospital attendant went out of his way to catch the fall of a 175-pound deranged man who leaped from a high window. That's the stuff that is good for the world to hear about.

CHILD SAFEGUARDS URGED

School Superintendent Issues Suggestions Intended to Avert Misfortune to Children

Measures to safeguard the physical and moral welfare of the school children of Los Angeles are suggested in a bulletin which has just been sent to all principals, directors and supervisors by Superintendent of Schools Bouelle.

These measures have long been the rule of the local school system, Supt. Bouelle says in the bulletin, but he adds that a reminder may be needed at this time because "this is the time of year when Los Angeles is visited by an unusual number of undesirable persons."

All principals and teachers are requested to notify the police at once when strangers are observed loitering on or about school grounds.

The chief measure which can be taken for safeguarding the pupils, it is pointed out, is strict adherence to the established rules under which children may be excused from attendance. On this subject the bulletin says:

"Please take no chances when the physical or moral safety of any child is involved, but scrutinize and verify excuses, claims of illness or accident, and all other representations that affect in any way the well-being of the children.

"Please remember that no names of students may ever be given out without the sanction of this office. This is especially important when unauthorized companies, schools and individuals are eager to gather the names of graduates. Watch all possible points of leakage.

"It is wholly unnecessary to remind principals that under no circumstances may students be permitted to leave the building on any sort of an excuse with persons not identified as parents or guardians."

The principals also are instructed that, in all cases where students report uncivil conduct from automobiles, and especially indecent conduct, they should attempt to obtain the number of the machine and as accurate a description as possible of the machine and its occupants.

NEW TRIAL SET FOR PLAY CAST

"Bad Babies" Jury Dismissed After Long Deadlock

Ten Charged With Giving Indecent Show

Attorney's Row With Shuler Among High Lights

Failing to reach an agreement after deliberating all day, the jury which was to determine whether members of the cast of "Bad Babies" were guilty of participating in an indecent play was dismissed late yesterday by Municipal Judge Ambrose. At the same time Judge Ambrose ordered a retrial on the 18th inst.

Defendants in the case are George Scarborough, author of the play; Frank Jennings, stage manager, and the following members of the cast: Jobyna Ralston, Elinor Flynn, Annette Westbay, Arthur Rankin, Mervin Williams, Norman Peck, Charles Bruins and Dario Shindell. They were taken in custody on the night of August 28, last, when a squad of police headed by Detective Lieutenant Hoy raided the performance at a Figueroa-street playhouse. The raid was ordered by City Prosecutor Nix following complaints registered by spectators.

Among those who testified for the prosecution during the trial are Rev. R. P. Shuler, Mrs. Alberta Andrews, president of the Echo Park branch of the W.C.T.U.; Mrs. I. A. Chantry, State director of the W.C.T.U.; Charles Magee, investigator for the City Prosecutor's office, and Detective Lieutenant Hoy.

The trial was marked by several sharp clashes between Shuler and Defense Attorney Clark, during which the latter accused the clergyman of harboring a personal feeling against him for sending an asserted friend of Shuler to the gallows in Comanche, Tex.

Testimony by Shuler to the effect that parts of the play were "salacious," was attacked by the defense when Attorney Clark called Chief of Police Davis as a witness to Shuler's reputation for truth-telling. Chief Davis declared the minister's reputation on that score was "bad." As part of the defense, a special performance of the play was enacted for the jury.

Wife Asserts Husband Struck Her When She Refused to Wipe It Off

Ray Moss Guthrie objected to his wife using rouge on her face and struck her when she refused to wipe it off, Mrs. Marguerite Lloyd Guthrie asserted in her complaint for a divorce heard yesterday before Superior Judge Bowron.

Under the questioning of her attorney, Ernest G. Woodward, Mrs. Guthrie declared she married Guthrie at Huntington Park on February 11, last, and lived with him six months.

A decree was granted.

JURY TO TRY BADHAM NOT COMPLETED

Assemblyman Accused of Failing to File Primary Expenses Within Limit

A jury to try Assemblyman Badham on charges of violating the primary election law had not been selected last night after Deputy City Prosecutor Fox and Frank Smith, defense counsel, had spent the day in an effort to do so in Municipal Judge Wood's court. The work of selecting the jury will be resumed this morning.

Judge Wood overruled a demurrer to the complaint by Smith in ordering the trial to proceed yesterday. Smith contended that the court has no jurisdiction, since the penalty for the offense is removal from office and the power of removal is vested in the Legislature.

Badham is accused of failing to file an expense account within fifteen days following the primary election of last year, as required by the law.

Application blanks for acceptance by members of the merger were mailed yesterday from the offices of the Commercial Club with December 31 given as the last day on which members of each club might join in the merger.

WITNESSES SLATED TO AID KELLEY

Mystery Pair Scheduled to be Questioned Today on Supposed New Evidence

Two mystery witnesses who are believed to have new and sensational evidence concerning the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus fifteen months ago are to be taken to the District Attorney's office today and questioned by Wayne E. Jordan, assistant chief deputy.

Yesterday Jordan took statements from Mrs. Ruth Pierce, lifelong friend of Mrs. Mellus, and George M. Lewis, a brother of the slain woman. Nothing of a material nature was gained, however, Jordan stated.

The matter was placed before the District Attorney Saturday by Clark B. Lewis, another of Mrs. Mellus's brothers.

Fourteen months ago Leo Pat Kelley was convicted of Mrs. Mellus's murder and sentenced to be hanged. Two weeks ago through his attorney, S. S. Hahn, Kelley won his appeal, the California State Supreme Court reducing the crime from first-degree murder to manslaughter.

Kelley was scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Aggeler yesterday for resentence, but the case was put over until today because the remittitur from the Supreme Court has not yet been received.

KUDNER MURDER LAID TO ROBBER

Slain Sawtelle Spinster's Roll of Bills Missing

Evidence Discloses Woman Choked to Death

Inquest Will be Conducted Over Body Today

Robbery was ascribed yesterday by Captain of Detectives Curtis as the motive in the brutal murder of Miss Frances L. Kudner, 77-year-old spinster in her home at 1229 Barry avenue, Sawtelle, late last Friday night.

It was at first suspected that the aged women might have been the victim of a fiend or a demented person. Certain residents in the neighborhood had reported seeing what they described as a deformed man prowling about the premises.

"We believe that Miss Kudner was murdered solely for the money she is known to have had in her possession," declared Capt. Curtis, "because of evidence showing that she had the money in a roll of currency, and that it was missing when the body was found. This theory also is substantiated by the report of County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner, who states that the woman was strangled to death by pressure of strong fingers on her throat. No other part of her body was bruised except the nose, which may have been broken by a blow of a fist."

SEEN WITH ROLL OF BILLS

Several neighbors told the detectives they had seen Miss Kudner with a roll of bills on the afternoon of the day she was slain. One of them, Mrs. M. E. Holman, of 1217 Barry avenue, said she loaned Miss Kudner bus fare after the latter had displayed a roll of bills on a street corner.

Checking up on the woman's finances Capt. Curtis yesterday examined a safety deposit box at the Security Trust and Savings Bank in Sawtelle. It disclosed nothing but a will in which the aged woman had directed all of her property to be divided equally between seven nieces and nephews, two of them living in Santa Monica, two in Pontiac, Mich., two in Kenosha, Wis., and one in Detroit.

It also was learned at the bank, Capt. Curtis said, that on the day Miss Kudner was murdered she had drawn a check for $37 from an account totaling $141 and had sent this to pay taxes on her ranch at Chateau, Mont.

INQUEST TO BE TODAY

The condition of her account showed that she had not drawn from the bank the money she is said to have had on her person. This amount was about $100, Curtis said. Taxes also were due on her Sawtelle property, Curtis said, but had not been paid.

"It is apparent," Capt. Curtis declared, "that some one saw her display the roll of bills and crept into her home Friday night and strangled her to get possession of it."

A Coroner's inquest into the woman's death will be conducted today at 2:30 p.m. at County Morgue. Samuel Bacher and Harry Scholberg, occupants of houses on Miss Kudner's property, who found the body of the woman, will be the principal witnesses. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Edna Kudner of 557 Tenth street, Santa Monica and her two daughters may be called to identify the body.

Following the inquest relatives plan to send the body to Pontiac, Mich., for burial, it was stated.

Self-Described Daughter Fights John Lenk Will

Declaring that she was the illegitimate but adopted daughter of the late John C. Lenk, who left an estate of $190,000, Mrs. Martha Louise Graeser filed a contest in probate court yesterday, attacking the Lenk will on grounds of undue influence by the widow, Sarah B. Lenk.

Lenk, who died in Honolulu April 14, last, left one-half his estate to Mrs. Lenk, and the rest to his two sons, Frank Chester Lenk and John Arthur Lenk.

Mrs. Graeser asserted that in 1904 Lenks signed a paper acknowledging her to be his daughter and later, with the consent of his wife, adopted her. The will, however, says: "I intentionally and purposely omit providing for Louise Graf, my adopted daughter."

Kelvinator Chief Here on Survey

G. W. Mason, president, chairman of the board, and general manager of the Kelvinator Corporation, Detroit, pioneer electric manufacturer of electric refrigerators, and H. W. Burritt, vice-president in charge of sales, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday on an extensive survey of manufacturing and business conditions in the West.

Today the visiting officials will meet with Collins-Kelvinator Corporation executives here to discuss future Kelvinator expansion on the Pacific Coast. Conditions throughout the electric refrigeration industry are exceedingly good, they stated on arrival, and all indications point to increasing prosperity of the industry in general. Commenting on business conditions, Mr. Mason added that America is in a prosperous position. The past season, he said, was the greatest in Kelvinator history.

STORM DRAIN ASSURED

C. H. Townsend Funeral Rites to be Tomorrow

Funeral services will be conducted at the parlors of Breese Brothers & Lynch, 855 South Figueroa street, at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow, for Charles H. Townsend, president of the Automobile Publishing Company, Inc., who died unexpectedly Saturday at the Angelus Hospital. Immediately after the services the body will be taken to Salt Lake City for interment.

Mr. Townsend came to Los Angeles fifteen years ago from Utah, where he was proprietor of the Kane County News. Prior to publishing the latter paper he had been associated with the Salt Lake Tribune.

Besides his widow, who is the daughter of Judge Rider, one of Salt Lake City's pioneers, Mr. Townsend leaves two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Parkinson of Los Angeles and Mrs. J. A. Palmer of Bountiful, Utah, and two brothers, Alvin Townsend of Los Angeles and Walter Townsend of Seattle.

FITTS RAPS INDIFFERENCE

Urges Year-Round Patriotism in City Club Talk; Mrs. Hoyt Speaks on Flowers

Deplorable lack on the part of the American people of year-round allegiance to the nation's ideals of good citizenship was scored yesterday by Dist.-Atty. Fitts in a pre-Armistice Day address before members of the Woman's City Club at the Majestic Theater. Choosing "Patriotism" for his subject, he denounced those who neglect their civic duty on all days of the year except Armistice Day and the Fourth of July.

"The trouble with people in America today," he said, "is that they are patriotic on November 11 and July 4, and then they forget all about it between times. This country has reached a crisis. In Los Angeles, less than 50 per cent of the voters were interested enough in their chief executive office to go to the polls at the last mayoralty election. Our leading citizens lie to keep out of the jury box.

CITES COHEN CASE

"This job of good citizenship is your job, not mine alone," he continued. "We officials are tired of handling it alone. You can have in this country any type of government you want—if you go and get it. But the people in America today are living on excitement. You're just as tense as you can be, and that is a contributing factor to crime."

Mr. Fitts then asked how many of the members had heard of the Hymie Cohen case. Very few hands were raised.

"Hymie Cohen," he said, "was one of the greatest of underworld leaders and bootlegging chiefs. We tried to get him for twelve years. Two weeks ago we sent him to San Quentin, the greatest achievement of the District Attorney's office in ten years. Few of you ever heard of him. Yet when a sex case comes up, if there is a girl in it who can show a pretty knee, wear a yellow dress today and a green one tomorrow, you're all crazy to read about it and you continually discuss it among yourselves. You think that a conviction of that sort does a lot toward protecting women. It doesn't do a fraction as much as a conviction like that of Hymie Cohen."

MRS. HOYT SPEAKS

To prove further his point that the real work of his office goes unsung and unnoticed by excitement hunters, the District Attorney added that during October $38,000 worth of liquor was destroyed in Los Angeles and that twelve men made 134 arrests resulting in fines or imprisonment.

Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt of Pasadena followed on the program, speaking on, "Broadcasting California Flora at Home and Abroad," and illustrating her talk with colored slides of English gardens and of her California desert exhibit, as shown in London. She is State chairman of the Garden Club of America and the only honorary member of the Royal Horticultural Society of England.

Chiropodists in convention in Chicago have been seeking the perfect feminine foot. That city has always been a poor place to go scouting for Cinderellas. Why bring it up again?

NORRIS OF NEBRASKA

Senator Norris of Nebraska is to be a candidate for re-election and thus far no politician seems eager to cope with him for the nomination. Norris clings to his Republican brand although he is mighty irregular and in the last election was very chummy with Smith. He gloats over his insurgency, but nevertheless will list himself with the regulars when honors are being passed out. But he has a grip on Nebraska and is not to be easily shaken off.

SLAPSTICK METHODS

Over in a London restaurant an American actress slapped the face of a British critic who had said that her voice was like something that came out of a can. There was a day when an incident like this might have started another war, but in these days not even the marines are going to fight the battles of our vaudeville performers nor is the British navy shooting good powder in behalf of the English dramatic writers. Let the individuals settle their own differences.

TIME TO STUDY

The market is getting sober and there will be rallies and strong upward drifts, but stocks should hardly be expected to rise to the levels that were reached when the bulls were tossing everything on their horns. As a matter of fact they were much too high. They were priced in the market far beyond their dividend-paying power or earning prospects. It is not advisable to enter the market with fear and trembling, but neither will it do to break into it with a bull-headed confidence that everything is on the up-grade. Calm reasoning should govern the strategy of the street.

STATE TRAFFIC

The Attorney-General says that the new State highway patrol is created by the Motor Traffic Act and its duty is to carry out the provisions of that act. It is not a State constabulary or police force. More's the pity. Here is a bunch of alert and competent uniformed men and they should be available for any service in connection with the peace and order of the people. They can do more than keep the procession moving on the boulevards. Anyhow, we might give them commissions as deputy sheriffs and thereby connect them with other avenues of law enforcement.

CONVENTION CITIES

Los Angeles is a great convention city, but naturally New York still leads the parade. The report of the Merchants' Association in the big city lists a total of 1009 conventions of all kinds held there during the year ending May 1. There were over 750,000 delegates and their friends and they left something less than $100,000,000 in their wake. As a general proposition visitors to California conventions will spend more than those heading for Gotham—this is sort of the fact that it costs about $15 for tickets to the best New York shows. They usually have to blow in quite a bunch of money to get to the Pacific and this puts them in a spending mood.

THE DOMESTIC MALE

Inquiry at a midwestern college concerning the students that are working their way through the institution shows that ten boys are ready to do what may be listed as household or domestic work to the willingness of one girl. The lads are willing to help around the home, but the maidens are fed up with this stuff. They came to college to get away from it and they shy at everything that looks like a dishrag. The girls seem ready to take all sorts of chances in their marrying, but they indicate a stiff objection to keeping house. But the boys are becoming more tractable in this direction. In the future the girl may be the breadwinner and the male the homemaker. But how far can this go?

A MISCHIEVOUS MOVEMENT

The vote on the war guilt and reparations questions which the German Junkers, Monarchists and Nationalists are about to force on the German nation is the most potentially dangerous disturber of international peace that has appeared on the horizon in years. Though the European consensus seems to be that there is little chance of the legislation being carried by the electorate, the possibility that it may be carried exists, with a probable train of consequences that might easily prove disastrous.

The internal dissensions it has already aroused in Germany, as evidenced by clashes between Communists and "steel helmet" groups—the extremists of both sides—do that country no good. While the police seem able to get the upper hand of the rioters, the affairs threaten the stability of the German government and might grow into a revolution developing either along monarchist or bolshevist lines.

The great majority of the German people, as has been evidenced by the various elections since the republic was established, are moderate in their views and are taking no part in the demonstrations. It is not believed that they will subscribe to the declarations put forward by the irreconcilable elements.

A declaration that the war guilt acknowledgment made in the Treaty of Versailles is "contrary to historical truth" and "not binding in international law" could have no effect upon world opinion. It is admitted generally that the signing of the Versailles treaty was enforced; no plebiscite is necessary to establish that fact, and that is all the plebiscite could establish. Some time, years hence, historians may come to a general agreement as to which nation was most to blame for the war, but the question cannot be settled by voting upon it. A vote can change none of the facts.

While German war guilt is the ostensible basis of German reparations, the world knows that the linking of the two is merely a convenient fiction and that the real basis of Germany's obligation to pay is her military defeat. Had she won the battlefield decision, instead of losing it, there could have been no question of imposing reparations, no matter what her guilt. This situation, either, cannot be changed by any plebiscite; defeat is a historical fact which cannot be argued or explained away. It is one that has been acknowledged repeatedly by past and present German governments, which have accepted the logical consequences.

A refusal to make any further payments, which is the meat in the cocoanut of this plebiscite proposal, would be a repudiation of obligations solemnly assumed time and time again and a challenge to another military decision, and it is this aspect of the matter which has the greatest international importance. There is, of course, no way in which a stubbornly resisting Germany could be compelled to pay except through the exercise of force, either military force or the force of public opinion and international economic pressure. That the latter two forces could be mobilized against her there is little doubt. A military movement, however, would entail a staggering cost, ruining not only Germany, but most probably the rest of Europe also.

It is, in a measure, unfair to the German people to hold them responsible for the actions of the German military clique which, in establishing the republic, they repudiated. But this clique could not have held power without the consent and support of the nation as a whole. It is in the position of a people repentant for the acts of their former leaders that Germany has appeared before the world for the past few years. That repentance, and the courageous manner in which it has been building itself up after the world's most disastrous experiment in militarism, have earned the new Germany the respect and admiration of the world. This sentiment is forfeitable and would be forfeited if these plebiscite proposals should receive a majority vote.

Morally, whatever difference of opinion there may be as to who started the war, there can be no question of the responsibility for two of its most heinous episodes—the invasion of Belgium and unrestricted submarine warfare. Both violated international law and international morality and both were wholly indefensible, and there is plenty of moral ground in either on which to base the imposition of reparations. For Germany to disclaim, after repeated acceptance, the obligations to justice and to civilization thus incurred, would be a step backward, or a leap backward, to a time the world is trying to forget, would re-establish conditions which the world feels it has won away from.

Germany is thus in danger of losing a great deal more than the cost of reparations. World public opinion would be likely to support France in almost any steps she found it necessary to take in answer to this threatened challenge.

The plebiscite will most probably take place in January, at which time also the naval disarmament conference is scheduled. Its effect on that conference might easily be disastrous.

AN EXTRAORDINARY SITUATION

The situation in Lubbock, Tex., where a judge issued an injunction prohibiting newspapers of the county from publishing accounts of testimony in a criminal hearing, and prohibiting the circulation of outside newspapers containing such accounts, is one of the most extraordinary which has ever arisen in America. If any such judicial power of censorship exists, it is news to those who have believed that freedom of speech and the press is guaranteed by the fundamental law.

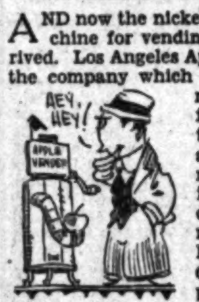
The motives of the court, which sought to prevent the development of prejudice against a man charged with wife-murder, were laudable enough, but the means taken cannot be approved. To prevent a possible small wrong by doing a greater one, such as the invasion of constitutional rights, is to upset the basis of justice. The judge said he took his action to avoid a possible change of venue and thus save the county money. But in the long run the suppression of true and fair accounts of court proceedings, the publication of which is generally recognized as one of the highest functions of a newspaper, will cost Lubbock county or any other county which indulges in it, a great deal more than could be saved in any such way.

That the court has gone far beyond its powers seems certain if the situation has been correctly described, and there should certainly be an appeal to determine the fact. Otherwise the decision will set a very dangerous precedent. The danger of permitting any courts to work in secret has been abundantly demonstrated; it leads inevitably to tyranny.

THE LEE SIDE O' L.A.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

AND now the nickel-in-the-slot machine for vending apples has arrived. Los Angeles Apple Service, Inc., the company which is installing the machines, informs us that thirty are in use about town and more are to be installed. You drop in your nickel, pull a lever and out comes a fine apple. On the machine, to stimulate your desire, is a paraphrase of the famous assertion that an apple a day will keep you well.



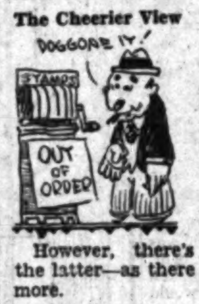
The apple-vending machines are a Pacific Coast invention, we were told, but soon will be installed in all the larger cities of the country.

Vending Machines

The first of these vending machines we saw was on Spring street, near Third, and it stood in a row with two other vending machines. A man who stopped beside us to stare at it ruefully exclaimed:

"There goes another salesman's job. They now have automatic restaurants in some cities and a few sandwich-vending machines here. There's a stamp-vending machine in the Federal Building in which you can drop a nickel, a dime or a quarter, push buttons for the stamps you need and then pull a lever and get back your correct change. In the Subway Terminal Building there's an automatic "photographer" into which you can drop a quarter and eight views of you are taken automatically, and in many hotel rooms slot machine venters supply tooth paste and various ungents. With a Glendale man using a robot to sprinkle his lawn and the average man becoming a mere Mr. Televox, driven from the back seat, it seems to me I can see our finish."

The Cheerier View



Even so, it would be pleasant to have some machine maids in the kitchen—since we can't have any other kind.

But not more machine men in politics.

Furthermore

The stamp-vending machine in the postoffice is always out of order, so there is some hope for mere man yet.

Young Japan-in-America Makes Gesture

The most artistic book we ever saw that was printed by a student organization is the "annual" of the Japanese Students Christian Association in North America, which this year was published by Japanese students in various schools in and near Los Angeles. Each year some such group of students publishes the annual, which is sent to the entire membership and doubtless to a good many other people in this country and in Japan.

From first to last, this annual carries the idea that the future of American-Japanese friendship depends largely on the Japanese in this country; the idea that every American-born Japanese is an American citizen and must make himself a good American citizen in order best to serve his country and the country of his ancestors, and the welfare of the world.

It is a very earnest gesture, beautifully made.

Not All for Kids' Sake

Lee: See the parents of the high school vandals who wrecked a house did their best to keep names secret.

You can't blame them. How would you like to have it published to the world that you were the sort of parent who would let his sons or daughters of high-school age stay out till 4 a.m. without knowing what they were doing?—J. N.

Evolution of Army Tank

[The return of Armistice Day has brought out tributes to doughboys, marines, aviators, but the Tank Corps has been overlooked. That may be because the tankists now are so much better off than they were in days of old that they are entitled to envy rather than sympathy. Lest they forget, our poet (who was not in the Tank Corps) pens this bit of "true history."]

In days of old the warriors bold
In boiler plate would stagger,
Steel vest and lance and iron pants
And tie, all very swagger.

In low degrees they used to freeze,
Hot weather seemed satanic;
Each time they dressed to look their best
They needed a mechanic.

It grew so bad the army had
To evolute improvements
To expedite the work each night
Of those who move its movements.

Our troops today do not array
Themselves like plumbing fixtures.
Those shirts of mail so stiff of tail
Are only seen in pictures.

We now give thanks that armored tanks
No longer need undressing:
The new war can disgorge men
Through doors, and that's a blessing!
STANLEY HOFFLUND.

THE BIG GAME

Life is just one punt after another! Youth is often blamed for all the crimes on the docket. Traffic and society are its specialties. The boy is bandied up and down the gridiron till the whistle blows. When news is scarce, writers resort to youth for diatribes. The boys and girls are needed to fatten batting averages and pad pay rolls. It matters little that some boys are bad and some are decent.

When life becomes too quiescent, and another spectacle is required to keep the public cheering as in ancient Rome, the church is made the football of the big game. Statisticians push the institution far toward its own goal post. It is cheered lustily for chalking up the Eighteenth Amendment on the scoreboard. It gets a yell from the bleachers for cleaning up civics.

Then the opposition gets the ball. Maybe some person fumbles and the whole team is mired down. The whole opposing team is on top. If in his eagerness he is slightly offside in his theology, he is penalized. He gets twenty-five more yards for holding—even a prodigal. Everything from Chicago to rat poison is blamed on him. Often his own rooting section lambasts him. It is part of the game. He has become a football.

When all these excitements fail, then there are the police. Just when the police are needed to guard the gates against the threatened invasion of racketeers, a vicious attack is made on them. Divert the police to self-defense and leave business and homes open to bombers. Little wonder eighteen fires occur in one day! If the preachers cannot bring in the millennium, kick out the police!

Pummel the police! Rah! rah! rah!

HEADLIGHTS

"More light!" may be the demand of science, religion, the lodge and the power company; but too much light from cars on the big road is not desirable. And the State constabulary is about to reduce glaring headlights.

We understand this is not to be a spasm, as so many law-enforcement efforts turn out to be, but a continuous campaign against poorly adjusted lenses and lamps.

The one-eyed fraternity that insists on weaving through the dark with a front like a motorcycle will have to tell it to the judge. Too many motorists have misinterpreted them and been sirened to the hospital for repairs, or to the cemetery for obsequies. The driver may wink one eye but not his car. A car needs two eyes to get as well as to give perspective. Car oculists will officiate at the owner's expense. Parlors where careless motorists may meditate will also be furnished free of charge.

Cross-eyed cars will be invited to the side of the road for conference. A car is not only supposed to look where it is going, but to go where it is looking. Too many lights askew have netted head-on collisions.

A lens that migrates around the rim until its rays smite approaching vehicles like blasts from a battery of Kliegs will be cured of the habit while the possessor waits. The waiting may be extended to thirty days or more. Gipsy lenses are not in high repute with the police.

Other lights are too high-minded and roll toward heaven. They go star-gazing instead of having their orbs glued on the road. The next month or so promises to be a depressing time for them. It may be well for the driver to depress his own.

Some of the speed boys who carry high-candle power lamps will also come in for review. Shooting up the highway with an airport beacon is not the business of an automobile. The motor cop is against it and some of the glarers may find themselves up against it also.

High-powered headlights are not the light of the world. Indeed, too many of them have lit others out of this world into the next.

A REFLECTION

By James J. Montague

The tiny chicken, beady eyed
With fluff all over his outside

And its ingenuous baby ways
Excites our wonder and our praise.

But when a rooster or a hen,
Alas, it's something else again.

The lamb, when gamboling on the lawn
Is beautiful to look upon.

We love to watch it leap and bound
And on stiff legs to hop around.

But when it's grown to full sheep size
It has small merit in our eyes.

Sad that these creatures of the farm
When youth is past should lose their charm.

And it may be that they reflect
That we, despite our intellect

And grown-up dignity and poise,
Were best as little girls and boys,

And leave a bird or beast quite cold
When passing years have made us old.

They may not think this; but they might

I Believe in Man

TUJUNGA, Oct. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is not because of any desire to defend this alleged new cult of humanism, of which I know practically nothing, but because of my very great respect for James Warnack, the Foothill Philosopher, whose occasional contributions to The Times I read with interest, that I rise to protest his summary dismissal of the simple, clear, inclusive creed, "I believe in man."

Possibly the humanists are too iconoclastic. But if the humanists have adopted the creed, "I believe in man," or even if they have misinterpreted it, that does not destroy the fact that it is a good creed nor the additional fact that it is the only creed upon which there is any hope at all of ever effecting a practical, working union of humanity's spiritual aspiration and endeavor.

When we say "I believe in God" we have only started an argument, because our human concepts of God inevitably must change and vary continually as our individual spiritual capacities and perceptions change and vary. There is no common ground for human faith, no common guide for human effort in the declaration, "I believe in God."

"I believe in man," properly interpreted, means that I believe in man's instinctive spiritual guidance, in the still, small voice, in the inspiration of the prophets and holy men of history whose clear perception of celestial light has set up spiritual beacons for the guidance of the race; it means abiding faith in the spiritual wisdom and assurance that humanity has gained through all humanity's experience of centuries and ages.

Mr. Warnack says that the declaration, I believe in man, is as if a caterpillar should say, "I believe in caterpillars." Certainly it is; but I ask it as a friend, what else would a caterpillar believe in? And how else save by following his caterpillar instincts will he be guided in the process by which he finally develops wings?

A caterpillar must believe in caterpillars, a dog must believe in dogs, an amoeba must believe in the instincts of an amoeba, and a man must believe in man. Each stage of life and growth, physical, intellectual or spiritual, must start where it finds itself and progress according to its light.

Ideal vs. Practical

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] "The superintendent of public instruction," you tell us in an editorial of this date, "says that Greek and Latin are dead languages and should be treated as such"—entombed, etc.

It is a sententious commentary upon actual educational conditions that so many men and women of the type have come into the status of academic leadership. Dean Gayley, late of the University of California, admittedly a scholar, a man of real parts, has left a piquant story in his "Idols" of the loss, and to that extent, failure, of education among us: the loss in that we have eschewed the ideal for the practical; the failure, in that the ideal gone there is little of practical value left, in so far as the higher life is concerned—the residue is but the material.

Latin and Greek dead languages! 'Tis true we don't talk as did Chaucer, as did Shakespeare. But Latin and Greek, too, have grown, have changed with all manner of vitality, even if, at times, exotically. The Latin of Virgil, of Horace, is not that of Aquinas, not that of Trent!

Why is it that 95 per cent of our so-called university students are merely incipient tradesmen? Why do so few elect to touch a cultural course? Why is it that our doctors and lawyers are verily nothing but shop-personages? Gayley provides an answer and the answer is, that professors and teachers alike are lacking a cultural background, and cannot hope to inspire our groping youth with advanced educational ideals.

Plan Millenary for Fair

Barnstaple, Eng., is planning to celebrate next year the millenary of its great fair. Outlines of the celebration were made at the recent annual event, which was conducted much as it had been done for 999 years. Acting on the suggestion of Sir Basil Peto, M.P. for that division, the opening of an improvement of the waterway approach to Barnstaple, to be completed next year, may take the place of a pageant. Old World ceremonial marked the inaugural of the fair this year. Visitors were regaled with spiced ale prepared from a recipe handed down from successive borough beadles. The drink was served in silver punch bowls, which form part of the borough's priceless collection of plate. The exhibits included nearly 3000 sheep.

PITILESS MASSACRE OF ANTELOPES

BY BAILEY MILLARD

Once in my eager, adventurous youth I roamed the Wyoming plains afoot along a vague cross-cut trail leading from Cheyenne to Laramie. On lonely levels of buffalo grass or down in deep ravines I made the acquaintance of several bands of antelopes, feeding quietly, trotting leisurely or speeding as fast, if not faster than a race horse.

Some of these beautiful animals seemed unafraid of men. Two of them, each a little larger than a good-sized goat, though of more slender and delicate build, followed me for miles or ambled on ahead, like good-natured dogs. Possibly these tamer ones observed that I had no gun and wanted to show their appreciation of a human being who was not "on the shoot." This was in the 'seventies. I thought then and have thought since that any man who would slay one of these lovely, gazelle-like animals, except from a food necessity, could not really class himself as a sportsman.

Judge, then, of my disgust on reading the recent reports from Cody and Cheyenne of what one Wyoming newspaper describes as "the most senseless and atrocious slaughter of wild animals that ever has occurred in the State or perhaps in the nation." This was the massacre of thousands of antelopes during a six-day period when the protection of those gentle beasts, which had been in force for years, was removed and the hunters proceeded to take advantage of that removal by their wholesale destruction.

From Medicine Bow, in the region where I roamed, it was reported that 1000 carcasses of antelopes were carried through town in the automobiles of hunters. Near Cody more than 200 were slain in a single day and there were other days in which hundreds were bagged.

"Cars driven at breakneck speed," says the Cheyenne Leader, "flew into the midst of the herds, scattering them hither and thither, while excited hunters shot antelope down on all sides. The hunters, driving madly, stopped only long enough to cut the fences and tore on, shooting wildly." It appears that the hunters were fully prepared for the slaughter and had been awaiting the "sport" for weeks.

Public opinion in Wyoming seems to be overwhelming in its condemnation of this work of slaughter. The Game Commission is severely criticised for removing the protection from the innocent animals, which, not having been exposed to the attacks of hunters for years, were not very wild until the motor cars broke in among them and the shots began to fly.

It is said that not since the days of the ruthless slaughter of buffaloes, fifty years ago, has there been anything like what the Cody Enterprise describes as "the terrible massacre of the antelope." Other newspapers agree in the statement that the bloody affair was a disgrace to the State of Wyoming.

There seems to have been no warrant for the recess in protection beyond the fact that the herds were becoming too large to remove readily from range to range. Wyoming has for years made special efforts to prevent the extermination of the antelope, and yet of a sudden it authorizes their decimation. However, the State authorities have learned a lesson, and it probably will result in no further authorizations of the kind for years to come.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Public Speaking?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

"Learn to speak by speaking," says David Ziskind, well-known Los Angeles attorney, who gives a free course in public speaking under the supervision of the Los Angeles public schools. The class meets on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 at the Mt. Vernon Junior High School, 4066 West Seventeenth street.

Short five-minute talks are given each night by members of the class. These include platform speeches, introductions, after-dinner speeches, descriptive talks, narratives and special drills for posture and poise.

For people in other parts of the city there are also free public-speaking classes, 7 to 9 p.m., at Franklin, 820 North Avenue Fifty-four, Monday and Wednesday; Garfield, 5100 East Sixth, Tuesday and Thursday; Hollywood, 1521 North Highland, Monday; Los Angeles, 4600 Country Club Drive, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday; Manual Arts, Forty-second and Vermont, Monday and Wednesday; Metropolitan, 234 Venice Boulevard, Tuesday and Thursday; North Hollywood, 5231 Colfax avenue, Tuesday and Thursday; Polytechnic, 400 West Washington, Tuesday and Thursday; Riis, Sixty-ninth and Main, Monday and Wednesday; Sentous, 1205 West Pico, Monday, Wednesday and Friday; Venice, corner Walgrove and Venice avenue, Venice, Tuesday and Thursday.

The youngster who gets up early to carry a newspaper delivery route before he trots off to school should rejoice that his route is not that of young Newell of Yellowstone Park, who delivers the daily papers to tourists and workers in hotels and camps in the big resort who take about 700 pounds of papers each day, which the obliging newsboy delivers in his auto.

Committee Denies Working for Any Manufacturer

Open Bidding on Modern System Advocated

Clarification of its position on the street traffic signal system question now before the City Council and a move toward crystallising rapid-transit hopes were effected at a meeting of the Traffic Commission's executive committee yesterday in the Biltmore.

The committee went on record formally by motion unanimously adopted that it is not opposing nor working for any signal manufacturer, but that it seriously opposes the present type of street traffic signals now in use as obsolete and, in the words of one official, "belonging to a hick town." The same motion champions open and competitive bidding for signals. Some of the committeemen stated specifically that they would favor Los Angeles-made signals above others if only the signals be of a modern, silent flashing-light type, such as in use in the large cities of the country, instead of the bell-clanging and semaphore-waving kind in use here now.

HEARING POSTPONED

Wilshire Improvement Association is trying to get the City Council to install on Wilshire Boulevard a modern system that will regulate traffic with co-ordinated, silent, green and red lights so that traffic may flow for more than a single block at a time, like systems in vogue in some eastern cities. It has appealed to the commission for aid. The Council set a public hearing in the matter for Thursday, but postponed the hearing until the 14th inst.

In the rapid-transit matter, City Attorney Werner is to be invited to tell the body how City Charter provisions circumscribe procedure at present and what must be done in the way of modifying the charter by popular vote if it be deemed necessary to proceed differently. The committee directed its chairman, Robert S. Breyer, to appoint a committee to devise a suggestion as to how to get the ball rolling toward action on a rapid-transit plan.

CHANGE NEEDED

Manager Marsh of the Board of Public Utilities told the committee that in his individual opinion there must be changed that charter requirement which makes it imperative for citizens to adopt a "comprehensive plan" before any action can be taken toward setting up any part of a system. He said he does not believe it possible to get approval for any such comprehensive plan. As the charter now stands, he said, a practical ordinance could not be drawn under it.

Traffic carriers, Marsh said, cannot be expected to bear the entire cost of any rapid-transit system. They have only car riders from which to draw revenue, he pointed out, and the burden would be too great for the riders to bear alone. Property owners and a very large class that would be greatly benefitted by rapid transit should prepare to assume part of the cost, he said.

Subways and altered surface facilities, he said, probably will be the means of providing rapid transit because "the people of this city will never stand for an elevated system."

De Besa Hearing Again Delayed

For the third time within three weeks, the plea of Lorenzo F. De Besa, once a familiar figure in Pan-American consular circles in Los Angeles, was continued yesterday by Superior Judge Aggeler. DeBesa is charged with grand theft.

The continuance was granted to permit the District Attorney's office to make a more complete investigation into the charges.

DeBesa is accused of having misrepresented his assets when obtaining a loan from the Wilshire National Bank nearly two years ago. He denies the charge.

GIRL RELATES WILD STORY

But "Kidnapers" Who Brought Her from Fresno Prove to be Brothers Combating Romance

With a Bible in her hand and a tremor in her voice, Kelvina Walton, 22 years of age, yesterday appeared at the Georgia-street police station and told a harrowing tale of having been kidnaped by two men in Fresno and driven to Los Angeles. A few minutes later, under questioning by Detective-Lieutenant Harrah, she confessed the asserted kidnapers were only her two brothers who had brought her here in deference to her family's wishes.

Kelvina Walton

Then, according to the detective, further questioning elicited the story of a thwarted romance that prompted the girl to leave her home in the 1100-block on Union avenue and seek a livelihood in Fresno three months ago.

SHE LEAVES HOME

For some time, Miss Walton declared, she had been receiving attentions from an Altadena widower, to which her family objected because the suitor had three children. When the family made it plain the contemplated marriage would be frowned on, the girl left her home and found employment in Fresno, where she was found by her brothers about 5 p.m. Sunday.

Returned to her home here, the disappointed young woman retired, only to arise before daybreak and dispatch a telegram to her widower-admirer, accepting his proposal. She waited for a reply until 7 a.m.; then, when it failed to arrive, she went to the police station and fabricated the kidnaping story, she told Detective Harrah.

Pressed for a motive, Miss Walton was unable to state what actuated her to seek police aid. Detective Harrah said he believes she hoped to enlist the officers' sympathy and thus possibly obtain funds with which to return to Fresno.

Miss Walton was turned over to Mrs. Greer of the outdoor relief association, who announced the girl will be returned to her home.

POLICE DRY RAIDERS GET REPRIMAND

Four Officers Who Entered Apartment Had No Writ and Board Cites Them

Entering an apartment in search for liquor without a warrant, even though the proprietor of the apartment building provides a key for the purpose, is a violation of the Police Commission's recent order sustaining the United States Constitution provisions in search and seizure, the commission ruled yesterday.

The commission, on motion of Commissioner Drake, directed Chief Davis to reprimand Officer W. O. Crane and three others of the dry squad for invading an apartment on West Fourth street September 14 to seize whisky. It also directed that the action be posted in the police bulletin.

Complaint of the proceedings was made by the constitutional rights committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association, which contended that it mattered not that S. E. Brown, occupant of the apartment, had liquor in his possession, as explained by the officers. The important part is that even though the landlady provided a key for the apartment, the officers had no warrant, the committee contends.

Commissioner Coe stated that should the officers be fined for disregarding the commission's order he would pay the fines.

Officers Buckley, Flow and Glaze were the three named as assisting Crane in the raid.

Youngest Seer Gets Suspended Fine Sentence

Richard Slocum, 18 years of age, who, according to police, advertised himself as "the world's youngest psychic" and "the miracle boy," yesterday was given a suspended sentence of $20 fine or two days in jail by Municipal Judge Lahey, following his conviction on a charge of violating a city ordinance prohibiting unlicensed fortune-telling.

Slocum was found guilty on the testimony of Policewoman Ross, who stated she had paid him $2 for a reading, when she and Detective-Lieutenant Williams of the police bunko detail visited him at 758 North Hudson avenue. According to the officers, Slocum pretended to "be the unseen, know the unknown, talk the untalked and find the unfound."

The police drive against assertedly bogus clairvoyants is slated for another airing on the 20th inst., when Mrs. Delma Meyers, 49, of 1702 South Grand avenue, comes up for jury trial in Municipal Court. It is charged Mrs. Meyers offered "deep readings" for $3, and "crystal readings" for $5. According to police the woman has stated she will "blow the lid off Los Angeles if I start to talk."

POLICE SEEK TO PADLOCK NEGRO CLUB

Central Avenue Resort Frequented by Whites Declared Nuisance

On complain of the Police Department that so many arrests have been made at the Apex Club, 4015 Central avenue, the place should be abated as a public nuisance, the Police Commission yesterday issued an order citing Curtis Mosby, proprietor of the club, to appear and show cause why his dance permit should not be revoked.

Capt. H. A. Hager, through Chief Davis, gave a report showing that seventy-three arrests for liquor violations and other offenses had been made by the police from the first of the year to date on the premises.

Hager recommends that the Secretary of State be requested to revoke the club's State charter on the ground that the place is a public nuisance. A decision on such action is expected to follow the hearing on the citation.

According to Hager, while the place is owned and operated by a group of negroes headed by Mosby, two-thirds of the patrons are Caucasians.

KEARNS AGAIN IN WRECK SUIT

Fight Manager and Trainer Named in Actions

Court Takes Both Cases Under Advisement

Pairs Seek Damages for Puente Accident

For the second time within a year Jack Kearns, prize-fight promoter, and Theodore Hayes, trainer, appeared before Superior Judge Archbald to defend two damage suits, each asking $25,000, brought against them by Edward S. Ryan and Lester Gates, who assert they received severe injuries when an automobile driven by the defendants crowded them off a highway. Following the hearing yesterday the cases were taken under submission.

The new trial of the suits followed the granting by Judge Archbald, of a motion made by the plaintiffs to reopen the hearing on the grounds of additional evidence discovered. At the end of the last trial of the suits Judge Archbald gave the defendants a judgment.

INJURIES ASSERTED

Represented by Attorney Stewart D. Anderson, the plaintiffs assert the car they were riding in on Valley Boulevard, near Puente, on January 13, 1925, was crowded off the highway, when a high-power roadster driven by Hayes and owned by Kearns, roared by them at a rate of more than fifty miles an hour. They also assert their car struck a tree, was badly damaged and that they suffered permanent injuries. Ryan says he sustained a fractured skull and Gates, a broken leg.

Kearns and Hayes, represented by Attorneys Milton Cohen and C. O. Bacon, deny they were driving recklessly, or that they hit the plaintiffs' car.

RIGHT CAR PIVOT

At both hearings the evidence pivoted on the testimony of witnesses who saw a car pass the Ryan car, just before it left the road, whether it was Kearns's car, or some one else's car, that passed.

Attorney Anderson for the plaintiffs contends his evidence, as offered, proves beyond a doubt Kearns and Hayes were in the car that passed the Ryan car.

"Every car on the highway, whether it is a stylish roadster, or a Ford of inferior value, under the law, has rights to the highway," said Attorney Anderson in his closing argument. "If one of the cars, however, was being driven at a reckless speed, and the other was forced off the highway because of it, even though there was no impact, the driver driving recklessly would be liable."

Henning was named on motion of Councilman Jacobson, seconded by Councilman Ingram. Action was taken on a letter from Mayor Porter, transmitting the request of the Harbor Commission that the committee of three be appointed. Each appointing body is to bear the expense of its representative.

Henning is from the harbor district, and now is serving on the committee which has been working on consolidation with the Long Beach harbor committee.

Juan O. Ramos, former director of the Latin-American branch of the United States National Bank and once an attache of the Mexican Embassy at London, appeared before United States Distric Judge James yesterday and pleaded not guilty to a charge of embezzlement of bank funds. The amount involved is said to be about $50,000.

THE ROMANCE OF WHEAT

The hard wheat flours are principally used in bread making, except the durums, which are used in the manufacturing of semolina flour which goes into macaroni, spaghetti, noodles and shells, etc. It is estimated that we use nearly 20,000,000 bushels of this flour a year in the macaroni production. The Kubanka or durum wheat was brought to this country by Mark Carlton, working for the Department of Agriculture, in an effort to find a wheat which would withstand the rust. Carlton's solitary exploration into the wind-swept lonely regions of Russia is a romance in itself which is very well related in a remarkable book entitled, "The Hunger Fighters," by De Kruif.

In 1926 the Canadian crop was over 405,938,000 bushels. The United States crop for the same period was 669,365,000 bushels. At the present time it is said that wheat furnishes us with one-third of our total food, but our per capita consumption is slightly declining.

Europe uses more wheat than America per person, and it has been estimated that one-half of the average European meals come from wheat. The reason for the per capita decline in the consumption of wheat is probably because our work has changed from the hard, strenuous physical labor, calling for a large amount of fuel foods, to the white-collar jobs in which overeating of the highly starchy foods is apt to lead to digestive disturbances. The public has also been educated to use more freely of the fruits and vegetables, and because of better clothing and better houses, the warmth-giving foods are not as necessary as they once were. The increased earning capacity has also given people a chance to buy higher-priced food, resulting in a decrease per person in the wheat consumption as high as 20 per cent in twenty years.

In analyzing the flours, it is found that the amount of mineral matter and protein is somewhat higher in the whole-wheat flour than in white flour. There are some people, however, who find that whole-wheat flour is more difficult to digest. What is commonly sold in many stores as whole-wheat flour is not really whole wheat but a mixture of 60 to 40 of the dark and white flours. Whenever white flour is used it should be in addition to nonstarchy vegetables, as spinach, to provide roughage.

To obtain the pure whole wheat, it is usually necessary to go to a health food store and ask for the entire wheat flour. Many people ask for the white flour because they associate the whiteness with purity and cleanliness. The millers have encouraged this belief, as the removal of the bran and heart from the wheat helps in storage because it prevents the invasion by worms.

The fact that for thousands of years the flour which was sifted looked dirty has taught the population that it was a good idea to buy flour that is white so that one can tell at a glance whether it is clean or not. Within the last few years this belief has changed, however, and it is estimated that most bakers manufacture an equal amount of whole-wheat bread or perhaps more loaves than made from white flour.

REDDY FOX FINDS PETER RABBIT

Misfortunes of another may
To my good fortune pave the way.
—Reddy Fox.

Reddy Fox is a clever fellow. Indeed, he is. There is very little escapes the keen eyes and the quick ears of Reddy Fox. And his wits are quite as keen as his eyes and ears. You know, Reddy is one of those of whom we sometimes say, he lives by his wits. As you know, Reddy and Mrs. Reddy had made their home up in the Old Pasture. Reddy was taking a nap on his doorstep that morning when a hunter shot at Peter Rabbit. Instantly Reddy Fox was wide awake.

The Old Pasture is large. It is rocky and brush-grown and there are many bramble tangles. The place where Peter Rabbit had been shot at by the hunter was a long way from Reddy's home. However, Reddy knew by the sound just where that hunter was when he fired the shot.

"So there is a hunter up here in the Old Pasture," muttered Reddy. "I had hoped that hunters would keep awry from here. I know Farmer Brown will not allow any hunting up in the Old Pasture, but I've noticed that every year one or two hunters do steal in here for a little hunting. Now, I wonder what that fellow shot at. I don't know of anyone living over there just now. Of course, a grouse may have come over to the Old Pasture and I not know it. I think a little later I'll have a look around over there. I hate these hunters with their terrible guns, but sometimes they do me a good turn without knowing it. I have found more than one good dinner killed for me by their terrible guns. They wound someone and then cannot find the victim. The later creeps off to die, and that means a meal for me."

Reddy remained right where he was for some time. Then he lazily rose to his feet, stretched, yawned and then trotted off along an old cowpath. Presently he reached that part of the Old Pasture where the hunter had been. His keen nose

WHEN CHILDREN ARE HEALTHY

Help boys and girls enjoy nourishing foods by flavoring such foods with sugar

Sugar adds flavor, zest and enjoyment to so many foods that it is certainly worth while to cultivate its use especially when children's meals are concerned. Thousands of mothers have found that the judicious use of sugar will help growing boys and girls enjoy the foods they need to eat.

If spinach, carrots, peas, string beans, beets and tomatoes become unpopular, try cooking them with a little sugar. Their flavor is emphasized by a dash of sugar. Likewise, fresh vegetable salads have more appeal if the dressing is flavored with sugar.

If children are not taking milk as they should, try more milk desserts at the end of dinner and supper. There are so many to choose from—rice pudding, blanc-mange, cream tapioca, chocolate souffle and ice cream.

If the family is not eating fruits and cereals as it should, try a little sugar with these foods. Sugar brings out fruit flavors and improves the taste of cereals.

Welcome sugar in the diet for flavor and energy. Sugar is the quickest energy known. The normal craving for sugar may be the craving for energy. Scientists advise us that on days of unusual physical activity we should increase the amount of sugar in our diet. The Sugar Institute.

SQUASH NUGGETS

Cream together four tablespoonfuls of butter, or shortening, with six tablespoonfuls of sugar, add two tablespoonfuls of corn syrup, the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, and one cupful of strained squash, one-half teaspoonful of grated orange rind, and one and one-half cupfuls of flour, sifted with one teaspoonful of salt, and three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, mix to a soft dough, using more flour if necessary. Roll into small rolls, about two inches long, place on an oiled baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven.

To one pound of ground steak, add a seasoning of salt, paprika, and a tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley, form into large sized cakes, saute the steaks or broil them. Place in a baking dish one banana for each steak. Pour over the bananas, a tablespoonful of melted butter, dust with a little sugar and bake slowly until soft. While the steaks are cooking rub together two tablespoonfuls of butter and two tablespoonfuls of flour, place in a saucepan and add one cupful of milk, stir until smooth, add a seasoning of salt and two tablespoonfuls of horseradish. Pour the sauce on a hot platter. Place the steaks on top of this, garnish with the baked bananas and serve.

Mothers Here Adopt New Bread

Widely Urged for School Children

TOASTS MORE EVENLY
ALWAYS SLO BAKED
TESTED INGREDIENTS

It Combines Delicate Flavor and High Dietetic Value

Thanks to Unique "Slo-Baking" Process

Your grocer gets it fresh twice daily. So ask him for it today, waiting only to read the complete and remarkable story we print below.

By ALICE ADAMS PROCTOR

NOW, through the introduction of a remarkable new bread, "balanced diet" has been vastly simplified.

It offers in marked degree the very advantages domestic science authorities have been seeking. Namely, high dietetic value and delicious flavor in a food within the reach of all.

As a "pick-up" energy food for children it knows few equals. It replaces burned-up tissues amazingly. And thus meets the dietetic need of the day.

Its flavor being what it is, the plea "eat it because it's good for you" is needless. Even so-called "difficult children" eat it because they like it. Hence it's proving a boon to mothers.

Today ten million women will buy no other kind. So please go try it. By pronouncing that name "Wonder" distinctly you will avoid all confusion with ordinary brands.

Other Advantages You Get

Containing, as it does, 1100 calories in every loaf, Wonder Bread is primarily an "energy food."

And yet its protein content is likewise high. According to several authorities it supplies 60% of all the protein needed by the human body. (Protein, as you may know, is the food element that fosters rich blood and sturdy muscles.)

It also offers calcium and phosphates to harden children's teeth and bones.

Now for its "housekeeping" advantages. For toasting it will delight you. The absence of browned edges is marked. Also scorched spots and uneven browning. Much of that faultless toast you admire in other homes is doubtless due to it.

What Goes Into It

To maintain its quality day after day, we go to great lengths.

We employ a staff of food experts to test every single one of the ingredients. We specify a specially milled, short patent flour. (We use only the heart of the nutritious wheat berry.)

We use double the usual amount of milk. Every drop is pasteurized.

We employ, too, a special method of baking. Slo-baking, it is called. A proven, scientific way that seals in the dietetic value of our ingredients and vastly improves their flavor.

Won't You Try It?

So please go try it at once. Simply to prove what it offers you and yours. Note its dainty flavor. Its freshness. See how evenly it toasts. How easily it slices.

Your grocer gets Wonder Bread fresh twice every day. In the morning and afternoon.

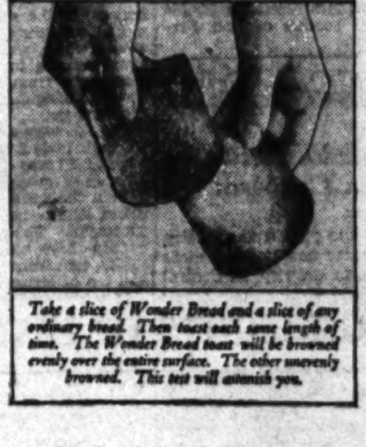
AN AMAZING TEST



Take a slice of Wonder Bread and a slice of any ordinary bread. Then toast each same length of time. The Wonder Bread toast will be browned evenly over the entire surface. The other unevenly browned. This test will astonish you.

INSIST ON WONDER BREAD

In ordering remember only this: The advantages described above cannot be claimed by any ordinary bread. Wonder Bread and Wonder Bread alone offers you these remarkable benefits. Hence, since it costs no more, to accept a substitute is folly.

FOUR CARS IN MISHAPS BURN

Dozen Lives Endangered in Series of Accidents

Seven Persons Injured in Five-Car Collision

Flames Sequel to Traffic Crashes Near Ventura

VENTURA, Nov. 4.—Four burning automobiles endangered the lives of more than a dozen people at various times in Ventura county Sunday in a number of week-end accidents. Seven persons were injured and a number of others were involved in a five-car collision near the Ventura county line on the Rincon about 7 o'clock last night, and a truck and small car were destroyed by fire.

A. L. Conrow and L. L. Brooks, in the truck, were burned about the head and arms and were taken to Santa Barbara for treatment. Mr. and Mrs. William Warrington and Leo Anderson of Hueneme sustaining minor cuts and bruises, were brought to the Big Sisters' Hospital. Marvin Heath, Carpinteria, was taken to the County Hospital. A. Rhodes of the same place was given emergency treatment.

According to Deputy Sheriff Fraser, who investigated the accident, a car in attempting to pass two ahead of it, sideswiped the truck, causing it to turn over, and thus involving the three oncoming cars. The truck, loaded with vegetables and walnuts, and the offending car were destroyed by fire.

At 4 a.m. Sunday, a large roadster and a heavy sedan collided on the State highway just beyond the Conejo grade, the roadster bursting immediately into flames. Its four occupants, Eleanor Parker of Hollywood, Josephine Jackson, 19 years of age, of Ocean Park, Bill Kirby, 21, of Hollywood, and Bob Cunning, 18, were able to extricate themselves before they were injured. The two boys were not to be found when the accident was investigated, Deputy Sheriff Ransdell said, though the girls freely gave their names.

Steve Martinez, El Rio, found the rear of his car and the back seat in flames about 8 o'clock last night when he returned to it on the Santa Clara bridge where he had left it while assisting a woman motorist to change a tire.

MEXICAN JAILED AFTER FOUR HURT IN COLLISION

Assertedly intoxicated and at the wheel of an old model roadster, Lubiano failed to note Peters's signal for a turn at the intersection and crashed into the front of the Peters machine, tearing off two front wheels and overturning his own car.

In the mix-up a gallon jug of asserted liquor hit the pavement and was smashed. Pinned in the wreckage, the Mexican was immediately arrested by police and taken to the City Jail, where he is being held in lieu of bail pending trial before Police Judge E. H. Bowen.

Mrs. Peters and her son Glenn were knocked unconscious, while Peters and the daughter, Alena, were cut by flying glass. Lubiano suffered bruises and contusions only.

The firemen struck a truck operated by Will Quesnell. Pyle was hurled through the windshield, but was unharmed. Four other fires were reported. In the Little Simi Canyon 400 acres of brush burned, having been ignited by a bit of bark breaking from a tree, striking a high tension wire, and falling to the ground in flames.

FUND INQUIRY IN PASADENA

Handling of Police Court Fine Money Investigated

Technical Irregularities Said to be Discovered

Court Clerk Freytag Says He's "Not Worried"

PASADENA, Nov. 4.—An investigation of the handling of local police court funds during the last three years has revealed asserted technical irregularities, it was learned from authoritative sources.

Court Clerk Freytag declared that he personally is "not worrying about the result of the audit of police court records."

"I asked that an audit be made about a year ago," said Freytag, "and a few months ago, when nothing had been done, I made the same request to City Director R. L. Daugherty."

The court clerk and custodian of bail money declared that under the administration of a former Police Judge the system of record keeping was unsatisfactory.

"Under Police Judge Leonard Riccardi," he asserted, "our method of accounting for funds has been tightened up, so if any apparent discrepancies have been found, they probably occurred during the former judge's tenure of office."

The investigation of Police Court accounting routine has been shrouded with secrecy, city officials having been ordered to issue no statements concerning its progress.

Freytag asserted that he has received no notice that his pay check has been held up pending the announcement of the result of the audit, although a report to this effect was circulated today. Employees of the City Comptroller's office declined to affirm or deny that the pay check has been withheld. Checks are usually paid city employees between the first and third of the month.

Due to the volume of Police Court cases in recent months, Freytag has been forced to work day and night to keep his records in order. He asserted that he has asked for an assistant and received an indication from the Board of Directors that his request would be granted in the near future.

SEWING MACHINE STOLEN

PACOIMA, Nov. 4.—Thieves broke into the home of William M. Brano on Wicks avenue, and stole the family sewing machine, valued at $80. Neighbors saw the men as they rode off with the machine in a yellow roadster, but had believed they had bought it from Brano.

PASADENA BOY NETS FINE MALLARD DUCK

Jimmy Sargent

PASADENA, Nov. 4.—Any able-bodied man who cannot secure the limit bag of ducks without blasting away at them with a shotgun is a poor sport, according to 12-year-old Jimmy Sargent of 245 Douglas street.

When a flock of wild mallards, frightened by an airplane, sought safety in a clump of bushes near his home yesterday Jimmy grabbed his butterfly net and worked his way under cover of a hedge to within four feet of his quarry. A lightninglike cast with the net and Mrs. Mallard was caught and placed in a cage in the Sargent garage.

A sleek, green-coated mallard drake which had taken refuge in a hedge in a neighbor's yard escaped the master duck hunter when the net was torn in being thrust through the branches.

Jimmy became incensed when it was suggested that Mrs. Mallard would provide a suitable motif for interior decoration. "I wouldn't eat her for $50—I'm going to make a pet of her!" he retorted.

Although Jimmy's method of capture is held to be unique, he cannot claim the local duck-catching honors, which go to H. E. Allcock of 817 Wright avenue.

A few nights ago, while watching the gyrations of an illuminated airplane Allcock heard a splash in the rear of his house and running to the spot discovered that six terrified mallards had landed in his fish pond.

Due to a twelve-inch wire net about the pool the ducks were trapped and are now quacking about in a pheasant pen, where they are being fattened for the family larder.

Authorities assert that in winging their way southward to their winter quarters ducks often fly until exhausted, thus causing them to make inopportune forced landings.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 4.—Work on La Jolla's $230,000 dial telephone system is now well under way, the construction of a one-story Spanish-style central office building having recently been started on the southeast corner of Girard street and Torrey Pines Road. According to A. E. Scott, district manager, an expenditure of approximately $30,000 will be made for the new building.

Architects of the telephone company have designed the building to match with other structures in that section of the community. When the structure is completed the installation of dial central office equipment to cost around $150,000, will begin immediately.

Outside plant equipment necessary in connection with the new system will amount to approximately $50,000. According to present plans, the dial equipment will be placed in service before the middle of 1930.

Included in the outside plant equipment will be 28,000 feet of cable to be installed throughout the exchange at an estimated expenditure of $32,000. Work on this new cable will be started soon after the first of the year.

During the first nine months of 1929, La Jolla had a gain of 155 telephones. Today La Jolla has 1707 telephones while a year ago the number was 1512. This means that the exchange has had a 12.9 per cent increase in telephones within a year. Since its establishment in 1906 La Jolla telephone exchange has grown rapidly. In 1909 there were sixty-three telephones; in 1919, 382; and in 1925, 814. During the past four years the exchange has doubled.

Charged With Conducting Unlicensed Home

Hearing Set in Justice Court 23rd Inst.

REDLANDS, Nov. 4.—The hearing of six persons connected with the Yucaipa Red camp on the charge of maintaining and conducting a home for children without having procured the required license to do so, is scheduled to be held before Justice of the Peace C. G. Potter at 10 a.m. Saturday, the 23rd inst., according to information received this morning from the office of Dist.-Atty George H. Johnson.

Five of the defendants are now awaiting decision on appeals from their conviction recently in the Superior Court on charges of displaying a red flag.

The prosecution on the present charge comes somewhat in the nature of a surprise as the impression had been gained that the misdemeanor complaint would be dismissed if conviction were obtained on the more serious charge. The maximum sentence on conviction of the charge of maintaining the home for children without having first obtained license to do so carries with it a maximum sentence of a fine of $500 or six months in jail or both such fine and jail term. The defendants expected to appear in answer to the charge and against whom complaints have been issued are Bella Mintz, Esther Karpeliff, Sara Cutler, Jennie Wolfson, Yetta Stromberg and Emma Schneiderman.

I. Berkowitz, also named in the complaint, has since the beginning of the Red trials growing out of the Yucaipa episode August 3 taken his own life.

Information had been filed against Katherine Krushack and Sarah Babkin but complaints have not been served as officers have never been able to locate them.

Noise Proves to be Auto Backfire

MONROVIA, Nov. 4.—Loud shots which pierced the quiet of the early dawn and caused a furore of excitement among residents on East Foothill Boulevard, who called the entire police force into action, were believed to be the backfires of a passing truck on the boulevard, according to Chief of Police Frank Scott.

"We searched the entire neighborhood but could find no clews of gun play, Chief Scott stated.

CITY GIVES UP SETTING OUT TREES

Azusa Council Abandons Beautification Plan to Wait for Better Times

AZUSA, Nov. 4.—Due to protests of increase in taxes, the city-wide tree-planting project which was initiated several months ago by the City Council has been completely abandoned, according to City Clerk M. Hynes.

The Council has also ordered the City Tax Assessor to remove all assessments for the proposed project from the tax rolls.

According to Councilman J. E. Muehe, the Council decided to abandon the extensive project, following a survey of local business conditions which made it apparent that to push the tree-planting program at this time would seriously burden taxpayers. Taxes this year are $1.78 per $100 of assessed valuation, and represent a reduction of 4 cents in 1928 taxes, aside from the proposed tree-planting program, Muehe stated.

City officials attributed the slackening in local business to the abandonment of the San Gabriel Dam and low returns from this year's orange crop.

BOY SCOUT DIRECTOR COMBATIVE

Argument Over Adequacy of Sign in Blockaded Forest Area in Court

UPLAND, Nov. 4.—An argument regarding the location of a sign warning persons against trespassing in a closed area on the west slope of Cucamonga Canyon led the belligerents to Judge George R. Crane's court here today where Lex R. Lucas, 549 First avenue, Upland, pleaded not guilty to a charge of trespass.

Forest Patrolman W. N. Musselman arrested Lucas, charging the Boy Scout executive had driven his car around a blockade in the road and assertedly had parked his car within the closed area on the west slope of Cucamonga Canyon plateau. The argument grew heated between the two men, Lucas charging the sign so placed as not to be visible. Musselman declared it was rightly placed and the matter went to court, where it will be heard the 19th inst.

SLOW TILE SALE DELAYS OLVERA STREET PLANS

Public interest as yet is slow to respond to the plan to sell tiles for the paving of historic old Olvera street, one of the original thoroughfares of the early pueblo of Los Angeles, on which stands the oldest dwelling in the city, according to an announcement made yesterday by those in charge of the drive for funds.

Less than $200 has been realized on the sale of the antique tiles for improving the ancient street, which is to be transformed into an attractive and picturesque section, providing fitting surroundings for the landmarks dating back to the city's beginning. The tiles are being sold to the general public for 10 cents each to provide a fund for carrying out a plan prepared by the city's engineering department, similar to the streets of old Mexico.

Mrs. Christine Sterling, secretary of the Plaza de Los Angeles Association, which, with the Chamber of Commerce, is conducting the drive for funds, said that only a few donations have been received and that the improvement work may be delayed unless a larger sum soon is realized. Donations are being received at the old Avila adobe at 14 Olvera street, and at the office of Secretary-Manager Arnoll of the Chamber of Commerce.

STREET VACATION DUE

Pedestrian Hurt in Traffic Jam Loses in Court

George R. Mapleston was not exercising a proper degree of care and precaution for his own safety when he attempted to follow a newsboy across a crowded street, got caught in a traffic jam, jumped in front of the truck and as injured.

This was the finding yesterday of Superior Judge Guerin who granted a nonsuit in the action brought by Mapleston against the Averill-Morgan, Inc., and John Weech, truck driver for the corporation, asking damages in the sum of $15,125 for personal injuries.

The accident in which Mapleston was injured occurred at Venice Boulevard and Hope street on December 6, 1928.

MRS. W. M. BROWN ASKS FOR DIVORCE

William M. Brown, attorney, yesterday was sued for divorce by his wife, Bessie W. Brown, who asks for alimony of $1000 a month and a share of community property worth $59,000.

Brown makes $4000 a month, according to his wife's petition, but is habitually intemperate, and has caused her much mental suffering. She says he threatened her so she had to leave their South Pasadena home.

FUMES OVERCOME ONE

Poison gas fumes yesterday overpowered George McRoy, 31 years of age, while he was spraying an insecticide in a room at 317 South Olive street. After being treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital by Dr. Jacobs he was able to go home.

Davis Cemetery Fight Comes up in Court Again

A motion to set aside the order for a special referee appointed to make an audit of the business of the Grand View Memorial Park in Glendale to determine the property rights of Mrs. Clara Davis, recently granted a divorce from Len G. Davis, owner of the cemetery, was presented yesterday to Judge Guerin. Following arguments by attorneys Judge Guerin took the matter under advisement.

Mrs. Davis was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from the wealthy cemetery owner on October 9, last, on the grounds of infidelity.

Judge Guerin set the 14th inst. as the time for the referee to report.

TOM MIX DENIES EVADING TAXES

Cowboy-Actor Makes Plea in Full Costume

Doffs Ten-Gallon Hat When He Addresses Court

False Income Returns for Three Years Asserted

Tom Mix made an appearance (personal and in costume) yesterday in United States District Judge James's court to answer to various charges of evading the income-tax law.

The saddle hero of the western films walked into the court, attired in a henna-brown, tight-fitting suit and brown boots. He doffed a ten-gallon, cream-colored cowboy hat as he passed the door.

With real cowboy humility, Mix pleaded not guilty to a charge of preparing false income-tax returns for 1925, 1926 and 1927, involving about $30,000, according to assertions made by the government. The case was set for trial on December 5.

Mix also pleaded not guilty to charges of conspiracy to prepare a false and fraudulent income-tax return. Jointly accused with him are J. Marjorie Berger, income-tax adviser, and Eugene J. Forde, Mix's brother-in-law. Miss Berger did not appear, now being in trial on similar charges in Judge Henning's court. Forde pleaded not guilty and his case was continued until February 18 to be set for trial. It is charged that Mix gave $12,000 as a deduction for asserted salary for Forde, whereas the government charges that no such salary was paid.

Mix also pleaded not guilty to a charge that he included $15,000 in tax deductions for salary for John D. Hill as publicity agent, wherein the government charges the amount was not paid.

The cowboy-actor will not be able to appear in pictures while his circus contract is dormant because he has a broken shoulder that has to be reset and healed up. He took his $50 ten-gallon hat with him when he left the Federal Building.

EMPEY STORY TO BE REMADE

Rex Lease, Dorothy Gulliver Assigned Parts

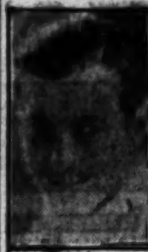
Melville Brown Signs Long R.-K.-O. Contract

Collier's First Columbia Film Assigned

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The lively upset of things over at Tiffany-Stahl, having to do with the filming of Arthur Guy Empey's "Troupers Three," is all over and the picture will proceed on its way.

The film was fairly under way, under direction of Reaves Eason, when it was decided to rewrite the entire story, and change the characters. Then the director was taken ill, which necessitated the engaging of another director.



REX LEASE.

Mary Philbin and Guinn Williams played the leads in the former version, but on the story being rewritten it was discovered that the characters were also entirely changed, and so a new cast has been signed, although Tiffany-Stahl officials all agree that the work of Miss Philbin and Mr. Williams was very excellent indeed, as we may be certain it was, from two such artists as these. But authors will be authors, and Mr. Empey feels that his new idea of the story is much better than the former one.

Rex Lease and Dorothy Gulliver were signed yesterday for the leads, we learnd last night. Lease is to be starred and Miss Gulliver featured.

Norman Taurog will direct the picture. This will be one of the first dramas that Taurog has directed, he having been identified with comedy producing for several years past. However, among other changes in the story, it was decided to introduce more comedy than was found in the original scenario.

Rex Lease has portayed many leading roles in pictures during the past few seasons, and is considered one of the most skillful young actors on the screen. Miss Gulliver was formerly a Universal star, and left that organization to become a free-lance player only a few months ago.

"Troupers Three" is to be one of the most important productions which Tiffany-Stahl is to produce this year.

Its author is probably the most famous of the many writers of war stories, and none who saw "Over the Top" during the war will ever forget it.

MEL BROWN SIGNS R.-K.-O. CONTRACT

Recognizing the director's excellent work in guiding the talking and musical romance, "Dance Hall," Radio Pictures has awarded Melville Brown a long-term contract. He will direct two more films for R.-K.-O. during the current season, according to the announcement made yesterday by William Le Baron.

MELVILLE BROWN.

Brown left last night for New York for a short vacation and a view of new Broadway plays. Upon his return to Hollywood he will begin work on a new production for Radio Pictures, the name of which is not yet ready for announcement.

The director's first film for R.-K.-O. was "Jazz Heaven," which registered so well with Le Baron and other studio officials that he was retained to direct Olive Borden and Arthur Lake in "Dance Hall."

For several years Brown alternated between directing, writing and acting for the old Triangle and Goldwyn companies, and he was associated with Charles Chaplin in the making of some of the comedian's earlier subjects. He was under contract to Universal as director for some time also.

Mary Nolan to Travel

According to present plans Mary Nolan's next picture will be made in Honolulu, where its scenes are laid.

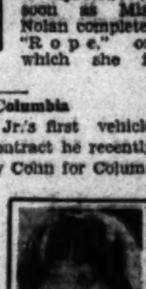
MARY NOLAN

This picture will be a film version of "The Girl From Evil Lane," adapted from a novel of the same name, written by Sven Anderson.

So far no director or cast has been assigned, but this is expected to soon as Miss Nolan completes "Rope," on which she is now engaged.

Buster Collier's Columbia

Buster Collier, Jr.'s first vehicle under the new contract he recently signed with Harry Cohn for Columbia Pictures will be "The Melody Man," we learn. Alice Day will play opposite Collier.



ALICE DAY

The plot of "The Melody Man," based on a musical theme, is unique in that it presents for the first time on the screen the conflict between jazz and the classics. Music becomes an essential part in the development of the drama.

The screen adaptation of "The Melody Man" was made by Howard J. Green from the stage play by Fields, Rodgers and Hart. R. William Neill will direct.

WOMEN ARE WORRY OF MAN'S LIFE

Hence the Title of "Girl Trouble," Show in Which Eugene O'Brien Appears

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

What matters the title so long as the dialogue is amusing . . . and what matters the plot?

Apropos of "Girl Trouble," which is now being given at the Hollywood Playhouse, it may be remarked that this play is about nothing in particular, but seems to endow its particular vacuum with interest.

An audience enjoyed themselves heartily at the opening of this comedy last evening. Barry Conners wrote the piece, and the cast features Eugene O'Brien.

For a trifle, "Girl Trouble" is rather flashily engaging. Its lines are good, and are well spoken by Isabel Withers and other competent members of the cast. Grace Stafford imbues it with a sufficing sentiment, and Florence Roberts adds a note of fun.

Duffy plays seem to be receiving constantly improving productions. This one is adequate enough to redeem certain deficiencies of material in situation and theme.

"Girl Trouble" is about a spoiled only son. He is a professor of psychology and has won note with a book called the "Silly Season." In this work he assumes to be an authority on women and love. He is taken seriously because of its success. The book is actually the result of a disappointment in marriage. This match has ben interfered with by a mother overdevoted to her son and one is asked to accept the man as so tied to her apron string that he left his wife.

For all that the central character of the son is not an especially striking one, the play offers much more sympathetic appeal than might be suspected. It is, of course, a feministic affair, with a sort of battle royal staged among the women for the one man, but that doesn't lessen its comedy of line, and a certain suspense that is well retained throughout. The reaction of laughter to what happened on the stage at last evening's performance indicated that the piece might be very popular. And assuredly there is no strain involved in the enjoyment of the motifs of complicated romance.

Too, "Girl Trouble" is perhaps true enough in its way. There are men like that, and there may be women who sanctify such a one's selfishness.

Perhaps, too, all this is substance enough for a play, provided as in the case of the one written by Barry Conners, it is a light affair.

O'Brien enacts the very thankless role of the much-dominated son seeking to break away from home ties. He is effective in the delineation of the type, except for some obvious vox-humana emoting in the second act. I like him best in those scenes where he is constrained. He has polish and his sense of comedy is good.

Miss Withers is rather outstanding, because of the many laughs she wins. This actress has an amazing facility in going from highly emotional to very light roles. She was last seen, I believe, in a highly dramatic impersonation in "The Night Hostess."

Miss Stafford is pleasing of presence and intelligent in her work. She exerts a manifest sympathy in her portrayal of the one-time wife, who romantically returns.

Comedy of a satisfying sort is lent to the production by Cyril Delevanti in a valet part. Kathryn Givney is inspiriting as a somewhat typical vamp. Leo Lindhardt is responsible for some laughs.

Miss Roberts is prominent, and is occasionally aided in her scenes by Jessamine Newcombe.

This play will, doubtless, serve to amuse.

'Sunny Side Up' Starts Tonight With Premiere

Crowds will gather at Grauman's Chinese Theater tonight to attend the western premiere of the all-talking musical film, "Sunny Side Up," cofeaturing Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell.

This original musical comedy is the work of De Sylva, Brown and Henderson, who wrote the story and contributed the words and music. David Butler was responsible for the direction. Seymour Felix, Ziegfeld director, staged the musical numbers. The cast includes El Brendel, Marjorie White, Frank Richardson, Sharon Lynn, Mary Forbes, Joe Brown, Alan Paull and Peter Gawthorne. George Jessel will act as master of ceremonies.

John McCormack, famous Irish tenor, will attend tonight's performance.

Caterer Causes Birthday Mix-up

Will Rogers is celebrating his birthday today. It really was yesterday but Rogers and his family got around to celebrating it only today. For one thing the big birthday cake with its candles was not ready in time yesterday owing to the caterer getting his dates mixed.

Rogers's comedy of Paris and Oklahoma, "They Had to See Paris," starts the last two weeks of its engagement at the Carthay Circle today. On the 21st inst. "They Had to See Paris" will be succeeded by the long-heralded Ziegfeld musical comedy spectacle, "Rio Rita," which has its world premiere on that day. Meanwhile preparations are proceeding apace for the "Rio Rita" engagement. Carli Elinor, managing director of the Circle Theater" is preparing the musical presentation of Harry Tierney's score.

BAKEWELL PICKED

William Bakewell has been selected for the second juvenile lead in "All Quiet on the Western Front," which Lewis Milestone is to direct for Universal as their spectacular production on this year's releasing program. Bakewell just recently completed the leading male role opposite Alice White in "Playing Around," a First National audifilm.

Melodies Inspire Film Romance

Sharon Lynn

As the society girl, is one member of a three-cornered affair of the heart in "Sunny Side Up," which will enjoy a gala premiere at the Chinese Theater tonight.

TED LEWIS WINS NEW AUDIENCE

Tragedian of Jazz Brings Familiar Personality and Music to Screen

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

This Ted Lewis, aside from being the high-hatted tragedian of jazz, is a very real person. Your confirmation may be obtained in short order at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater, where "Is Everybody Happy?" a Vitaphone picture, is the current attraction. And if a little of that electric glamour which surrounds him when, accompanied by his musical klowns, his magical clarinet and a demoralized silk topper, he moves on to a solid wooden stage to perform a music miracle—if a little of this is lost from the screen at Warner Brothers Theater, there is still such a very great deal left that the odds are against your ever noticing the difference. "Is Everybody Happy?"—with a utilitarian story, an ordinary supporting cast and nothing much in the way of scintillating dialogue—has Ted Lewis. And you can't beat that.

Joseph Jackson and James A. Starr, a couple of plot devisers for the talkies, have provided the plaintive minstrel with a narrative into which he fits easily. He is present, at the start, when his father, the conductor of one of Austria's symphony orchestras, receives a magnificent violin from the Emperor Franz Josef. Reared in an atmosphere of classicism, Ted finds, in jazz-mad America, that the way of the transposer is hard. What he has learned, he must unlearn; and the treasured fiddle is good only for a trade-in on a clarinet and saxophone at one of the better hock shops.

The tale of his rise to fame, and of, too, the battered high-hat's evolution, is entertainingly related by Messrs. Jackson and Starr; it allows for the inclusion of such persuasive syncopation as the glorious "St. Louis Blues," the inevitable "I'm the Medicine Man for the Blues" and the newer "Wouldn't It Be Wonderful?" "New Orleans," "In the Land of Jazz" and "Start the Band." Of these, "Wouldn't It Be Wonderful?" has hit possibilities.

Ted Lewis is no great shakes as an actor—without a musical obbligato. There must be a pleasant sorcery in this euphony of sounds which, coming from just behind him, weaves and spirals among the words he speaks; for he actually takes an added glow from the fire of his orchestra. When it is imperative for him to display feeling or emotion to further the story, and not a slide trombonist in sight! Lewis just does the best he knows how. That best is a native naturalism which seldom deserts him. While it may not be histrionicism, it will still, in the words of the song, get by.

The criticism also may be applied to the famous Ann Pennington, who shares the spotlight with Lewis; but if she, too, is no great shakes as an actress, the same emphatically cannot be said of her dancing. Alice Day acts the sweet heroine; Lewis's father and mother are portrayed by Lawrence Grant and the perennial Julia Swayne Gordon; and Eleanor Brooks, Otto Hoffman and Purnell Pratt appear in various sequences.

Archie Mayo's direction is workmanlike. Small need for more; when Lewis stepped before the camera and microphone, he might well have whispered to Mayo and his staff the suggestion he has made so often to his band: Sit ri' down, boys. Yes, sir!

"River" Comes to Boulevard

"The River" starts Thursday at the Boulevard Theater. Charles Farrell, Mary Duncan, Frank Borzage and Tristum Tupper have leading roles. "The River" was over two years in the making and is said to contain some of the finest natural scenic effects ever shown upon the screen.

This is the first time Farrell and Miss Duncan have ever been seen together as a team, but are said to give the best performances of their entire careers. Frank Borzage, who directed "Seventh Heaven," "Street Angel" and "Lucky Star," is noted for his realistic and human touches of life. The story is taken from the novel of the same name by Tristum Tupper. On the stage Norman Selby with his band and girls will present "A Modern Revue."

Belasco Ready for Seat Sale

An auxiliary telephone switchboard has been installed in the box office of the Belasco Theater to take care of the expected rush for seats for the first week of the brief engagement of Pauline Frederick in "The Queen Was in the Parlor," which starts the 11th inst.

"Lulu Belle" is being taken from the stage at the height of its success to make way for the Noel Coward play. Following the closing the company will be disbanded.

Richard Barthelmess Has Leading Role in "Young Nowheres"

Several years ago there appeared a short story, "Young Nowheres," by I. A. R. Wylie. The story was so rich in human emotions and in youthful conflict with life that it appealed to Richard Barthelmess as a vehicle for his screen talents.

Barthelmess has always had a desire to do the story but it was not until recently that circumstances were favorable. Now it will be shown at Loew's State starting Thursday.

Marion Nixon portrays the character of the girl and Bert Roach, Anders Randolf, Raymond Turner and Jocelyn Lee complete the small but effective cast. Frank Lloyd directed. The current program at Loew's State includes "The Thirteenth Chair."

Popular Player Cast in Coming Majestic Play

Florence Eldridge, popular actress of the stage and films, is to return to the stage in one of the most successful roles of her career, that of Simone in "Her Cardboard Lover." Miss Eldridge, who will be remembered for her featured role in the recently filmed "Green Murder Case" and a number of local stage productions, will re-create the character of the beautiful Parisienne at the Majestic Theater.

A strong cast is being assembled for the French Farce, which, in its American version fuses the humor and whimsy of P. G. Wodehouse, Valerie Wyngate and Jacques Duval, as co-adapters and author. "Her Cardboard Lover" will start at the Majestic Sunday night.

DEL RUTH LEAVES

Roy Del Ruth, whose latest directorial achievement for Warner Brothers, "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," is scoring throughout the country, has departed for New York to look over the current stage hits with a view to purchasing his next story. Del Ruth has just finished another audifilm, "Hold Everything."

'PETTING PARTY' STAFFORD PLEA

Accused El Monte Broker Pleads Complaisance

Witnesses Tell of Actions of Girl Plaintiff

Embraces in Car Testified After Asserted Attack

Efforts to show that Rae Schade, 23-year-old office worker, was friendly toward her employer, C. C. Stafford, on the afternoon the charges he criminally attacked her were made by the defense yesterday in Superior Judge Wilson's court, where Stafford, El Monte grain dealer, is on trial.

The defense called a number of witnesses who testified they had seen Miss Schade and Stafford together in an automobile the afternoon of March 23, last, the day Miss Schade asserts Stafford took her to a lonely cabin in Turnbull Canyon and there forced his attentions on her.

FRIENDLY ATTITUDE

William L. Jones and Lonnie Sewell, called by Defense Attorney Ford, stated they saw Miss Schade and Stafford together in an automobile on two occasions on the afternoon of the asserted attack.

On the second occasion, Sewell testified, Miss Schade appeared to be resisting Stafford until Sewell's car drew alongside. Then, the witness continued, Miss Schade seemed to cease her efforts to keep Stafford's hands away from her and Sewell said he went about his own business.

"PETTING" TOLD OF

Leland Jordan of Happy Valley also testified he saw Miss Schade and Stafford together in the automobile twice during the afternoon of the asserted attack. The first time, he said, they were sitting in normal positions in the car. When he saw them again two hours later, the witness continued, Miss Schade was sitting close to Stafford and the latter appeared to have an arm around her shoulder.

On cross-examination Dep. Dist.-Attys. Simpson and Clark introduced a letter said to have been written by Jordan to Miss Schade after the asserted attack. The letter contained a tract on which was printed a number of biblical quotations advocating forgiveness of sins. Jordan admitted sending the letter and tract to Miss Schade but denied that Stafford had anything to do with his action. It was announced Stafford probably will take the stand today in his own defense.

FILM PLAYERS TO APPEAR

Mrs. Harry Rapf is chairman of the program committee. Music will be furnished by Ray West's orchestra.

CALIFORNIA LURE DRAWS BRITISHERS

France, the Riviera, Italy.

For 100 years these places have been synonymous with vacation time to the Britisher. "A holiday. Yes, let's go to the continent," was the thought of every traveling Englishman.

But there has come a change. Gradually the British traveler now looks to the United States and Canada as touring grounds. And every year his number increases.

"You have been so hospitable to our people. Your country has so much to offer in the way of scenic beauty. You have such beautiful cities, and, above all, you speak our language."

These were the reasons given yesterday by Alfred B. Reynoldson, general agent in Great Britain for the Southern Pacific lines, for the great increase of British visitors to American. Mr. Reynoldson, with thirty years' service behind him in the Southern Pacific's London offices, is on his first visit to the Pacific Coast and is at the Alexandria.

"In England we put out tons of literature extolling the virtures of your Pacific Coast. And, of course, it is profusely illustrated. But I can say now that none of the pictures of California that I have seen do your country justice. One must come and see first hand.

"The Southern Pacific maintains an elaborate travel bureau in London and there I come in contact with many Americans. And when a Californian calls on us he seeks out the Los Angeles Times, which we always have on file for his use," Mr. Reynoldson said.

The reception and dinner will be followed by entertainment and dancing.

STORE LEADING LIST FOR CHEST

Paris Cloak and Suit Group First to Go Over Top

Employees Repeat Showing of Last Two Years

Industrial Chairmen Submit Optimistic Reports

E. E. Manning, chairman of the Community Chest campaign industrial divisions, comprising 4000 volunteer workers, announced yesterday that the first Los Angeles business concern to go over the top is the Paris Cloak and Suit Company, 611 South Broadway. Employees of the store subscribed $412 on a $400 quota. Not only are they first on the list this year, but they have achieved that position for three years, it was revealed.

The industrial divisions seek to raise $600,000 from employees in 3800 Los Angeles business concerns. This amount is nearly 19 per cent of the entire Chest fund, $3,200,000. Work of the divisions will cease next Tuesday, when the campaign among the general public begins.

D. C. Brough, manager of the Paris store and keyman in charge of solicitations, explained the quick work by saying:

"The matter was put up to the employees immediately the drive was announced. We called up and ascertained our quota. Then we went to work. Dorothy Witt, employee, was the first to give her subscription to the manager."

REPORTS RECEIVED

The following reports from the chairmen of the six industrial divisions were received by Manning:

Division 100, Ralph W. Brown, general manager, Vitrefrax Corporation, chairman: "From all reports the industrial concerns of Vernon and vicinity are going over their quota. We are met with less resistance this year than ever before. It is evident that Los Angeles is becoming Community Chest minded. The outlook is very promising."

Division 200, A. B. DeNault, president Piggly Wiggly, chairman: "The concerns of the wholesale area are giving the industrial committee of Division 200 splendid co-operation. Several are over their quota already. Complete turn-in is expected this week."

Division 300, W. Herbert Allen, vice-president Title Insurance and Trust company, chairman: "Financial houses and firms constituting Division 300 have given my committee splendid reception and indications at present are that we are going over our large quota. The heads of various business organizations have co-operated splendidly. Our work will be practically completed by the end of this week."

EXCELLENT RESPONSE

Division 400, Seward C. Simons, sales manager Gladding McBean & Co., chairman: "We are receiving a fine response from the industrial concerns of Division 400. The retail and business organizations in our territory have been most co-operative. We are sure of making our divisional quota, which comprises the reports of practically 1000 business organizations, many of whom already are over their quotas."

Division 500, Herman R. Erkes, vice-president Bank of Italy, chairman: "My committee is directing its attention to insure production for Division 500 that will far exceed its quota. A number of our concerns already are over the top. The balance are enthusiastically working and have sent in encouraging reports."

Division 600, Fred E. Seaver, secretary, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, chairman: "The public utilities are hard at work. Reports indicate a splendid turn-in by the end of the week. The leaders of the utility group have indicated now, as in the past, their indorsement of the Community Chest idea. Already one company has exceeded its quota by 100 per cent and states the work is not finished. We feel assured that Division 600 will exceed its quota."

Bee Montague Gets Probation

Bee Montague, musical comedy actress who was convicted of driving an automobile while intoxicated, yesterday was granted probation for one year by Superior Judge Wood. The court ordered her operator's license suspended for the period of probation.

Miss Montague was arrested after her car crashed into another parked on Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood. At her trial she admitted she had taken a drink at the insistence of a male friend, but denied she was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Death Driver Sent to Prison

Thomas Riga, convicted of manslaughter in connection with an automobile accident that cost Walter Sarbo, 19 years of age, his life, yesterday was sentenced by Superior Judge Wood to serve from one to ten years in San Quentin. Sentence was imposed after the court denied Riga's petition for probation.

According to testimony taken at the trial, Sarbo was thrown to the pavement and instantly killed when Riga's automobile collided with another car. The accident was said to have been due to Riga's negligence.

Ione Fugitive Suspect Seized

Charged with escaping from Ione Reformatory and with suspicion of the theft of an automobile, Charles M. Wilson, Jr., 18 years of age, yesterday was arrested by Policemen Kirk and Thomasson when he stopped an assertedly stolen car in front of 1307 Twelfth Place. Another youth riding with Wilson and said also to be a fugitive from the same institution escaped before the officers could take him in custody.

After being sentenced from San Francisco for burglary, Wilson, according to the police, fled Ione, walked thirty-five miles to Sacramento, and hitch-hiked to Modesto, where he stole a machine belonging to Frank Series, in which he drove to Los Angeles.

MATE TOO FRIENDLY, WIFE TELLS COURT

George Daniel Hale was too friendly with friends of his wife, the friends frequently complaining to her, Mrs. Ada Isabel Hale told Superior Judge Bowron yesterday when asking for a divorce after a married life of seventeen years. Hale is also asserted to have told his wife to get out and leave him alone. A decree was granted.

Craig was secretary and Judge Clair S. Tappaan was one of the original faculty members. The first class, which enrolled in September, 1904, was composed of sixty-one students.

Dean Porter is a member of the semicentennial celebration "silver" committee of U.S.C., being one of eleven Trojan faculty members who will have been twenty-five years or more in the service of the institution when the fiftieth anniversary is celebrated in 1930.

Miss Mabel Alvarez painted the portrait.

SHOOTING OF MAN BRINGS SANITY TEST

Baldwin Park Resident Under Observation After Wounding of Neighbor

Physicians at the General Hospital yesterday were requested to inquire into the sanity of Victor Haddox of Baldwin Park, who surrendered to a Los Angeles policeman on Saturday night after telling the policeman that he had "just shot a man."

The victim of Haddox's attack is Albine Boehn, also of Baldwin Park, according to Deputy Sheriffs Allen and Gray. Boehn was wounded in the back by a shotgun charge said to have been fired by Haddox with no apparent provocation.

After the shooting Haddox drove to the Sheriff's office and parked his car, debating whether or not he would surrender. He drove away but after thinking the matter over stopped his car again at Seventh street and Boyle avenue, where he surrendered.

BRIBE JURY SELECTION UNDER WAY

Three Officers Accused by McDonald Come Up for Second Trial

Selection of a jury got under way yesterday in Superior Judge Wood's court in the second trial of Oscar L. Peterson, Harry M. Hill and Leonard F. Sale, police officers charged with bribery. The first trial of the three men resulted in a disagreement of the jury October 18, last.

Peterson, Hill and Sale are charged with having accepted $600 "protection" money January 25, last, from Harry D. McDonald, asserted bootlegger.

At the first trial of the case, the defense attempted to prove that the defendants were the victims of a revenge plot instigated by McDonald because they had once placed the reputed bootlegger under arrest.

Dep. Dist.-Attys. McKay and Dennison are prosecuting, while Attorneys S. W. Thompson, Stanley Visel and M. C. Davis are representing the accused officers. The trial will be resumed this morning.

BOARD DELAYS ACTION ON LICENSE BUREAU

Action on a request for a pay rise for Ira O. Jones of the police license division was deferred until Commissioner Thorpe returns from his vacation, when the matter was broached before the Police Commission yesterday. The commission then will seek to take up with the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency, the City Council and the City Attorney the matter of creating a license bureau for Los Angeles, separate from the Police Department, as in most other large cities.

Fisher, British Consul in Los Angeles, will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at a dinner to be given by the Winnipeg Service Club, Armistice Day, at 6:30 p.m. in the Elks' Temple. McPherson will preside.

Veteran Faces Court Today on Bunko Charges

Jack W. Hanson, 33-year-old World War veteran of 1747 Cahuenga avenue, is to be arranged in Municipal Court today on a charge of suspicion of grand theft and bunko, growing out of his assertedly fraudulent solicitation of magazine subscriptions from members of the motion-picture colony.

According to Detective-Lieutenants Williams and Chilson, who took him in custody at 505 South Bonnie Brae street last Friday, Hanson represented himself falsely to prospective subscribers as an authorized agent for leading periodicals and told them the subscription payments would be donated to the San Fernando Veterans' Hospital.

Following his arrest, according to the detectives, a search of his room disclosed a suit case containing many duplicates of receipts given to subscribers.

Theater 'Trust' Trial Date Set

United States District Judge James yesterday set February 5 as the date to begin the trial of the West Coast Theaters, Inc., ten other producing and exhibiting motion-picture companies and Harold B. Franklin, president and general manager of the West Coast company.

TROJANS BACK AT WORK TODAY

Squad Starts Practice for Notre Dame Game

Jones May Shift Pinckert to End Position

Trojan Frosh to Take on Bruin Babes

BY BRAVEN DYER

Having enjoyed a day of rest yesterday the Trojans of Southern California buckled down to work this afternoon in preparation for Knute Rockne's Notre Dame eleven which is to be encountered in Chicago one week from Saturday.

ERNIE PINCKERT.

Howard Jones gave his boys the day off yesterday, but practice starts in earnest again today and will be the order from now until next Tuesday, when the Sons of Troy leave for the Windy City.

Nevada is slated to oppose the Trojans this week-end, but scant attention will be paid to this outfit. George Philbrook, former Whittier College mentor, coaches the Wolves, but has had very little success thus far.

CAN'T TELL

Jones had not definitely decided last night what changes he might make in his varsity. "For the most part I will let matters stand as they are," was the Trojan mentor's comment. "I can't tell just what we might do until after I see the players and find out what condition they are in."

Unless Tony Stepnowich recovers from the leg injury which has kept him inactive for three weeks, Jones may decide to shift Erny Pinckert to end. "The only thing that would hold me back from doing this, in case Steponovich is not ready, is that Pinckert is playing so well in his present position," said Jones last night. "But I have to have strength on the ends, particularly, against such men as Elder of Notre Dame. I am not saying that Arbelbide will not make us a good end. In fact, I don't know about this. I think he has the makings of a good player, but whether he is fast enough to play end remains to be seen. One great game does not make an all-American. Neither does one mediocre game ruin a player. I expect Arbelbide to show us a lot of good football in the future."

Steponovich, by the way, declared yesterday that he would be ready to take his place in the line-up within three days. Tony has had a lot of experience against Notre

David Barrows in Eulogy of California Team

Squad Comes Through Battle in Good Shape

Reserves to Play Against Montana Saturday

BERKELEY, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) The suddenly inspired University of California football varsity today buried the past and looked with questioning eyes into the future as an easy practice was staged on the new athletic field toward the big game with Stanford on the 23rd inst.

"RUSTY" GILL

In a gigantic rally in front of the campanile today in which it seemed that everyone in the university, professor, student, campus employee and even the townsfolk assembled, roaring homage was paid to a great varsity that refused to quit in the face of overwhelming odds. But little "Nibs" Price, coach of the big Golden Bears, presented the truth of the situation to the admiring throng when he said: "Our big job is in front of us. The game with Stanford will be considerably harder to win than was last Saturday's. For three weeks Stanford will be building up toward this one chance. We are glad for past victories but have real work ahead of us for further accomplishments.'

CYCLONIC CHEERS

Already worked to a pitch of enthusiasm by the surprising conquest of their team, the rally spectators could hold themselves in check no longer when David Prescott Barrows, former president of the university, loaned his oratorical talents to a long eulogy of the Golden Bears. The cheers that were hurled after Price, Capt. Riegels, etc., were cyclonic in volume. The school and town are football mad and it doesn't appear as if the campus will settle down to study for some time yet.

Out on the practice field this afternoon Price looked over his warriors who went and won. Capt. Roy Riegels came out of the Trojan game in perhaps the worst shape and that was not very bad. Riegels took a couple of wallops around the hips and right now he doesn't feel like doing a hula dance.

There is Rusty Gill, the 190-pound sophomore fullback who is the talk of the campus. Gill is badly shaken up, but his well-knit frame will soon be ready for more punishment. This red-headed terror, who reminds the scribes of Jack Sharkey, the fighting gob, for his chestiness, is undoubtedly first-string to stay. He had to pass up two of the finest fullbacks on the coast to get there, but get there he has. His opposition was Clarence "Moose" Garrity and Joe Hickingbotham. These are good men as the Pennsylvania game and other contests have proved, but the red-headed boy from Santa Maria who tells the world he is good, has beat them all.

One expected to see Ted Beckett walking along with a limp, a moan or some other demonstration of his unfitness for living after that mighty Los Angeles tussle but the giant tackle came trooping into the practice field as merry and lithe as the summer lark. The only thing that could make this mammoth tackle admit he was hurt was to bump into a speeding steam roller by accident. Beckett is so tough he thinks his mates are fooling him when they say they are getting tired after a couple hours of scrimmaging, as Coach Price directs it.

RESERVES TO PLAY

The 1929 game schedule says the Golden Bears are to meet with Montana next Saturday. Don't believe it. The reserves or third and fourth strings will do battle with the Montanans, who held Washington to a 6-6 tie. If the first varsity gets into the game at all it will probably be just long enough to run up a few scores. On the following Saturday, Washington comes down from the north with its much-harrassed coach, Enoch Bagshaw. The Huskies took an awful pounding from the Trojans and

There wasn't a single dissenting vote to anything proposed and the magnates confidently expect to conclude all of their business by noon tomorrow.

OSCAR REICHOW.

The 1930 season will get under way Tuesday, April 8, with a twenty-eight-week schedule. Games for the first four weeks were drawn up as follows:

April 8—Portland at Los Angeles; Hollywood at Oakland; Seattle at San Francisco; Missions at Sacramento.

April 15—Los Angeles at Hollywood; San Francisco at Missions; Seattle at Oakland; Portland at Sacramento.

ADMIT NEW MEN

The new owners of the Oakland club were officially admitted to the league as the first official act of the annual session. The new magnates are Bob Miller, president; Vic De Vincenzi, secretary-treasurer, and Carl Zamloch, manager. The first two named are business men in Oakland, and the latter has been coach of the University of California ball squads for a number of years, where he produced a flock of performers now cavorting in the major and Coast leagues.

The adoption of the split season, and the establishment of the opening date with the twenty-eight-week schedule were next adopted unanimously.

It was then voted to award a $15,000 bonus instead of the $10,000 presented during the 1929 season. A committee composed of Oscar Reichow, secretary of the Angels; George A. Putnam, secretary of the Seals; and Roy

CARDS SET FOR HUSKY ELEVEN

Stanford Prepares to Invade Washington Stadium

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—With only three days' practice ahead of them before they board a train for Seattle, the Stanford varsity today settled down to the business of preparing for Saturday's clash with the University of Washington.

POP WARNER

The condition of Mush Muller Card end and captain, was a source of worry to Coach Glenn Warner, who returned yesterday from a visit to Los Angeles, where he saw California upset the Trojans of Southern California. Muller sustained two torn ligaments in his back a week ago when Stanford played the Trojans, and the injury has failed to heal as expected. Muller may not play Saturday against the Huskies.

Two other Cards were also on the injury list, perhaps permanently. Pete Heiser, first-string right guard who has been out for three weeks with a smashed knee, may be in shape to play against California November 23, while Bill Simkins, with a bad knee, is in about the same condition.

CHRISTMAS CARD ARRANGED

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Three ten-round bouts were closed here today for the annual Christmas show to be held in Cleveland December 9. The matches arranged were: Gorilla Jones vs. Rene De Vos; Louis (Kid) Kaplan vs. Johnny Farr; Joey Medill and Stan Loayza.

FIELDS KAYOES MAHAN

Welterweight Monarch Stops "Dummy" in Second Round of Nontitle Go at Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, tonight knocked out "Dummy" Mahan, San Francisco, in the second round of a scheduled ten-round go. Both fighters entered the ring over the weight limit. Fields weighed 147½ and Mahan 150 pounds.

Mahan charged out at the bell in the first round and landed many blows to the head and body of the champion. Fields seemed surprised at the aggressiveness of the mute boxer and was on the defensive most of the round.

JACKIE FIELDS

At the start of the second round Fields regained his composure and beat a steady tattoo of lefts and rights on Mahan's body, which soon had Mahan groggy. A short left uppercut to the jaw was the deciding blow.

Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, refereed the bout, which drew more than 10,000 fans to Convention Hall.

(Copyright, 1929, Chicago Tribune.)

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 4.—It is understood that President Hipolito Yrigoyen has accepted an invitation to send an Argentine team to Los Angeles for the Olympics in 1932. The invitation was extended by Moses H. Sherman, president of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, in an audience today when he was introduced by Ambassador Robert Woods Bliss together with other Americans now visiting Argentina.

Flowers Cops Kaufman Bout

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4. (AP)—Bruce Flowers, shifty and hard-hitting negro of New Rochelle, N. Y., took the decision from Pinky Kaufman, Hartford, Ct., in the ten-round main event at the Arena tonight. He scaled 137 pounds, Kaufman 140.

Joe Dundee of Baltimore, former welterweight champion of the world, won a ten-round decision over Bill Angelo, Leiperville, Pa., in the semi-wind-up. Dundee weighed 149 pounds and Angelo 151. The former welterweight champion carried too much ringcraft into battle for his youthful opponent.

Sammy Baker, veteran army boxer of New York, punched his way to a decision over Young Ketchell, Chester, Pa., in the first of the three ten-rounders. Baker scaled 145½ pounds and Ketchell 146.

ENDICOTT VICTOR IN BILLIARDS TOURNEY

Arthur Endicott won the first round of the national professional three-cushion billiards elimination tournament, being held at the Clifford Jones billiard parlors this week. Endicott defeated Clifford Jones in two straight games, both scores being 25 to 18.

After a bad start Charles Jordan, national amateur champion, rallied to defeat Jack Van Gilder, in two out of three games. The scores, 12-25, 25-19, 25-24.

The remaining games will be played tonight, tomorrow and Thursday of this week. The winner is to go to New York to compete in the finals.

HUAT TRIUMPHS OVER SCHWARTZ

Flyweight Monarch Retires After Losing Scrap

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

IZZY SCHWARTZ

Huat knows little of boxing and devotes his energies entirely to wrenching and prying, trying to pose his opponent in a position to receive the right-hand smash. Huat is easy to hit, himself, but there seems to be nobody who can hit him effectively first.

Eugene recently has knocked out Spider Pladner, the French flyweight champion, and Charlie Berlanger, the champion of Canada. Berlanger had beaten Schwartz and Newsboy Brown and knocked out Frankie Genaro, Americans, all of whom were recognized by various American boxing commissions and associations, as the champion of the world. These conferred titles never are valid, of course, but Huat now has placed himself in front of all the claimants with the possible exception of Newsboy Brown, who is recognized as the champion of

BEAR, CARD DATES FOR TROY OUT

Adoption of the four-way schedule, of which much has been written in the past year, will remove the necessity of Southern California meeting Stanford and California on successive Saturdays next season, according to an announcement yesterday by Gwynn Wilson, general manager of the local institution of learning.

This schedule, which will operate virtually of its own accord next year, features the three California institutions and the University of Washington.

Stanford will be met in the north again next year, October 25 being the date. Two weeks following the Golden Bears will again come south to meet the Sons of Troy in the local Coliseum.

Washington will be encountered here late in the year, as will Notre Dame.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Dave Brancroft, who was released unconditionally recently by the Brooklyn club, signed a one-year contract today with the New York Giants as coach and assistant manager.

CALIFORNIA IN SECOND PLACE

Riviera Finishes Third in First Day's Play

Aggregate Total for Season to Decide Winner

Mrs. Pressler and Mrs. Lifur Have Cards of 80

MRS. HARRY PRESSLER

Los Angeles Country Club's women's golfing contingent showed the way yesterday in the opening round of interclub team matches by defeating the Oakmont Country Club team, 9 to 0, on the south course of the Los Angeles club. California Country Club's team defeated the Brentwood squad, 8½ to ½. Riviera topped the Rancho representatives, 8 to 1. Wilshire finished ahead of San Gabriel by a 6-to-3 margin. Flintridge scored 5½ points to Hillcrest's 2½, while Lakeside tallied 5 to Hollywood's 4 points.

Yesterday's matches were the first under a new system devised by Mrs. George Midgley and Mrs. P. S. Neon, which features matches over the same course on a single day.

The aggregate points for an entire season will decide the championship. Yesterday's matches, therefore, give Los Angeles, with its 9 points, a lead of a half-point over California, with Riviera third.

The appearance of Mrs. Leona Pressler on the San Gabriel team was one of the features of the opening round. Mrs. Pressler, runner-up to Glenna Collett, national champion, teamed with Mrs. Mark Steel, scored three digits for her team, which incidentally were the only points tallied by San Gabriel. Mrs. Pressler had an 80 for her day's golfing.

Mrs. Gregg Lifur, runner-up in the women's western title play, showed the way for Riviera's victory over Rancho. Mrs. Lifur turned in an 80 card and paired with Mrs. Charles Delaney defeated Mrs. Ike Wentworth and Mrs. Phillip Strange.

Hillcrest gave Flintridge, the champions two years ago, a stiff battle. Mrs. Harry Grossman and Mrs. Curt Rosenthal turned in the big upsets of the play by holding Miss Kathleen Wright and Miss Margaret Cameron, even.

RABBIT PUNCHES
BY PAUL LOWRY

ALWAYS A GOOD SPORT

SOME of the fans who took in the fall of Troy at the Coliseum the other day seem to be quite dumfounded over the fact that Howard Jones has remained a good sport through it all.

If they knew Mr. Jones the situation would not appear strange at all because Mr. Jones is no other kind of a sport—not even on a falling market.

After the scoreless battle with the California Bears at Berkeley last fall—a game that was "in" for the Trojans far more than the one of last Saturday—Jones said if anybody had to beat or tie him he would far rather it be Nibs Price than anybody he knew.

And without attempting to alibi for a schedule which brought the two biggest games of the Trojans' schedule on successive week-ends Mr. Jones now has nothing but praise for the fighting California team that beat his men, 15 to 7.

Also for the little coach, Nibs Price, who has had the doubly difficult role of teaching his men football and fighting off the attacks of the rabid alumni, hollering for his scalp because the Bears had no offense.

Incidentally, Price has had little newspaper support in the north. He has been better supported in this city than by the scribes of San Francisco. One man, a close friend of the late Andy Smith's, told me it was a joke—Price's story about the Bears' power.

It was a ghastly joke for the Trojans—15 points in the first half from a pair of touchdowns and a safety, and all points earned. That same man is probably home now, writing about the power of the Bears in whom he didn't believe.

LOM'S PLAY OLD ONE

THE play that unquestionably ruined the Trojans was the fake punt run of Benny Lom for 85 yards and a touchdown in the second period.

And yet there was nothing new about this run except the side of the line over which it was directed.

It was the Bears' first offensive effort at Berkeley after the kick-off last fall, and it worked for thirteen yards and one of the Bears' five first downs of the day.

It worked for 36 yards against Georgia Tech on the second play of the game, and Lom was away from everybody but the safety man, Stumpy Thomason.

And with his interference turning in a perfect bit of clipping and blocking Lom was able to skip down the field without a man putting a hand on him.

Thomason got him in the New Year's game, but Lom was too elusive for Saunders and escaped with a clever sidestep. Norton cut down Ward, the only man who took up the stern chase, and it was all over but the shouting.

But I'll venture to say that ere another Trojan-Bear game rolls around Mr. Howard Howard Jones will drill a defense into his Trojans that will be air-tight against a repetition of the Benny Lom run.

BEARS OR CARDS?

WILL California beat Stanford the 23rd inst?

The Bears haven't won a game from Stanford since Don Nichols led his 1923 team to victory by a score of 9 to 0.

There have been two tie games since that period but no California victories, and certainly the Bears will be keyed up to the proper pitch this year after their thrilling victory over the Trojans.

But for that matter, so will Stanford.

Stanford wants to come back and show everybody that the Trojans' 7-to-6 win was just a mistake.

M'LARNIN WINS FROM MANDELL

despite the weight handicap in tonight's battle. Mandell gambled and lost, because of his sheer inability to keep his true championship form in only one round, the ninth. The rest of the time he was in full retreat, going from one corner into another, and then backing into the ropes with McLarnin slugging away with both hands.

McLarnin centered his attack to the body, occasionaly throwing a long overhand right or left hook to the chin. He belted Mandell unmercifully in the midsection, driving both fists to the body whenever he got in close, which was too often for Mandell.

Since their last meeting McLarnin evidently learned that he could not hope to fell Mandell by just throwing his right hand at him, so he proceded to punish him around the body at every opportunity. Mandell probably never was hit with so many left hooks to the chin in his life. He kept shaking his head at his inability to keep McLarnin tied up and kept shaking his head at his inability to score effectively with his dazzling left hand, the weapon which carried him to championship heights. He seemed utterly unable to make any headway against the rushing, punching McLarnin, and he kept shaking his head in apparent disgust.

ROUND ONE

They came out fighting and Sammy was short with a straight left to the head as they fell into a clinch. McLarnin missed with a hard right but followed with a left to the stomach. Jimmy forced Sammy into a neutral corner and connected with a hard right to the body. Sammy landed a left uppercut and then McLarnin was booed for hitting on the break. Jimmy's lip was cut as a result of Mandell's left leads. Jimmy's left swing was short.

ROUND TWO

ROUND THREE

ROUND FOUR

ROUND FIVE

They traded punches to the body in the center of the ring. Mandell scored with a left to the body, but caught a left hook on the chin in return. Jimmy kept forcing the issue and repeatedly backed the champ to the ropes. Jimmy scored heavily with rights and lefts to the body in a neutral corner. Sammy shot a stiff left to the face and a right cross to the jaw. Jimmy went in and put lefts and rights to the stomach. Jimmy jarred Mandell with a hard left hook to the jaw. Another right cross sent Mandell back. Jimmy was trying hard for a k.o., and let go with both hands. McLarnin scored with an overhand right to the jaw as the bell rang.

ROUND SIX

Mandell knocked Jimmy's head back with a stiff left. They went in close and each landed around the head and body. McLarnin did the most punching when in close and had the better of this style of milling. Mandell shot a right cross to the jaw but McLarnin forced him to a neutral corner with a series of body blows. They traded light lefts to the face and then went into a clinch on the ropes. Mandell landed with a right uppercut at the break. They exchanged hard rights to the jaw and then Jimmy was short with a wicked left hook to the head. Jimmy forced the issue and Mandell had to fight. Clinch at the bell.

ROUND SEVEN

ROUND EIGHT

ROUND NINE

ROUND TEN

PREPS TANGLE IN COLISEUM

Poly-Roman Tilt Scheduled in Local Bowl

Great Battle Expected as Old Foes Clash

Crack High School Squads Battle Friday

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

VOYLE BRENNEN

The Rambling Romans from L.A. High and the Mauling Mechanics from Poly will clash in their fourteenth annual football classic Friday afternoon in the Coliseum. This was the announcement made yesterday by scholastic officials who are handling the yearly struggle.

The decision on the site wasn't made until late yesterday because of the Trojan-U.C.L.A. freshman game also being scheduled for the Coliseum Friday. However, it was decided to play the Trojan-Bruin game as a preliminary to the Nevada-Southern California varsity game Saturday, which is also listed for Zack Farmer's inclosure.

The two other prep games on tap will find the Hollywood Redshirts at Franklin, while Jefferson is to play at Lincoln. As the Tigers have no home field the game will in all probability be switched to the Democrats' gridiron.

GREAT INTEREST

Interest for the most part centers around the Poly-L.A. High game as that has long been a yearly classic. Several years ago the big game set a new city-prep attendance record of nearly 50 000. That mark is safe as far as Friday's struggle goes, for the league title does not happen to be at stake this time. Usually the Roman-Mechanic game goes a long way in deciding the championship.

At present Coach Bresee's Romans are riding high, wide and handsome with a clean record, while the Mechanics have dropped three practice games and two league contests.

Huntington Park, Fremont and Pasadena tripped up the Poly boys in practice tilts, while both Hollywood and Manual Arts handed them defeats in league games.

Voyle Brennan will have a hard-fighting eleven on the field Friday and if he can perfect a defense against the Romans' passes and flashy speed plays, the score should be pretty close.

However, it is the general consensus that the Romans will win by at least two touchdowns and possibly more. With Capt. Bob Reed and Charley Cheshire both presenting triple-threat capabilities and with Melo Almada ready to either pass or run the Mechanics to death, and little Carl Morehead, the demon plunging fullback, raring to go, L.A. High is a heavy favorite.

TITULAR CLASH

The Hollywood-Franklin game is one of the big features of the week, as the outcome will definitely put the loser out of the running for the title. If Coach Vic Kelley's eleven can beat the Panthers Friday, and then Manual and L.A. High in succession, the pennant will be theirs.

Frank Hess' gang upset the Redshirts last season, 6-0, and Kelley wants revenge this year. Franklin had a let-down last week against Jefferson and are reported to be in great shape for Hollywood. The Redshirts had all the cockiness knocked out of them by the Lincoln Tigers last Friday by a score of 20-7.

ROOSEVELT STILL PICKED TO TAKE MINOR TITLE

As the end draws near in the Minor City League football circles Roosevelt is a slight favorite to retain her championship laurels, which she won last year. Friday the Roughriders will travel out to Sawtelle, where they will meet the weak University squad, whom they should have but little difficulty in beating.

The feature game of the week is the Belmont-Fremont fracas at Fremont. Belmont pulled a surprise when they conquered Roosevelt, 13 to 6, a couple of weeks ago. The Pathfinders will have to fight hard, or they, too, will be added to the Hilltoppers' list. Despite the fact that Belmont beat Roosevelt and Roosevelt whipped Fremont, the Pathfinders are a slight favorite to come out on the long end of the score.

The third encounter will find Garfield and Fairfax mussing each other up on the Colonials' gridiron. Fairfax is not nearly as strong as they were at first thought to be. On the other hand, the Bulldogs are improving with every start. Fairfax is the logical favorite, with Garfield in a very good position to upset the dope.

PASADENA FISTIC IDOL ON PROGRAM

Pasadena Arena is to present its latest popular idol in the eight-round main event Thursday night. He is Young Sport, former Far Western amateur flyweight champion and a mighty sweet fighter, who will take on Johnny Navarro, also well liked at the Arena. Last week Young Sport stepped in as a substitute and the way he polished off Al Sing with a kayo after a hard battle instantly made him a hot card in Pasadena. In the six-round semifinal will appear another pair of fast flyweights, Johnny Jordan and Andy Palmini.

SONNENBERG VICTOR

SEATTLE, Nov. 4. (AP)—With two spectacular flying tackles, "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg successfully defended his world's wrestling championship here tonight against Charles Hansen, Omaha, winning falls late in the sixth and early in the seventh rounds.

CHICAGO GETS SEAL SLUGGER

Here is one of the latest likenesses of Smead Jolley, heavy hitting outfielder of the San Francisco club, who yesterday was peddled to Chicago—but not to the Cubs. The White Sox got him. He hit .385 for the Seals last year, was one of the league's leading swatters and altogether poled out thirty-eight home runs.

COAST MAGNATES ADOPT SPLIT-SEASON SCHEDULE

Mack, secretary of the Ducks, was appointed to decide upon the division of the bonus, and to report to the magnates tomorrow morning. At the end of the 1929 season, $10,000 was divided among five clubs. It is expected that the larger bonus will be split among only three teams.

The agreement to give the Sacramento ball club 45 per cent while the Solons are on the road was extended for an additional five years, making a total in seven; and the other agreement in which the Sacramento club gives the visitors just $300 of the receipts of the morning games played at Stockton.

The only deal reported was by the Seals, when Putnam announced that Smead Jolley, the heavy-hitting outfielder, had been sold to the Chicago White Sox for $50,000 cash and two players. One of the performers is expected to be Johnny Kerr, former Hollywood second baseman. Kerr is a San Franciscan, and the Seal owners like to have a lot of home talent on their squad.

MAY GET ARLETT

Neither Hollywood nor Los Angeles announced any sales or purchases, but there was a rumor afloat that the Stars might get "Buzz" Arlett. Zamloch, new pilot of the Oaks, is said to be against having more than three left-hand hitters on the club, and it is generally believed that Arlett, who has been with Oakland for a number of years, would do better with a change of scenery.

The magnates were scheduled to reconvene tomorrow morning, and were expected to finish up all details by noon.

Golf Pros to Invade Hawaii

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Bound for the Waialae Country Club, Honolulu, to compete in the $5000 Honolulu open golf tournament, Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., former national open champion, and Billy Burke, New York star, arrived here today.

Armour and Burke will be among the sixteen pros who will sail on the liner Maui Wednesday. All plan to return to San Francisco November 26 to compete in the $5000 Berkeley open, beginning November 28.

SHELL OILERS COP ICE HOCKEY CLASH

Bert Clark smashed over a goal in an extra period of an overtime game to give the Shell Oil hockey team a 4-to-3 victory over the Van Fleet Durkee team last night at the Palais De Glace rink. The teams were tied 3-all at the end of the regular time allowance and they were ordered to play an extra period. Clark came through with the winning goal after a hectic skirmish with the Van Fleet skaters. The game was halted several times by fist fights which occurred between the rival players.

JOE GLICK VICTOR IN STETSON BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Joe Glick, 133½, of Brooklyn, won the decision from Frankie Stetson, 140, San Francisco, after ten hard rounds of fighting at the State Armory tonight. A last-round rally by the easterner, when he clipped Stetson with rights and lefts to both face and body caught the eye of the referee.

The pace was fast and furious, with the lead swinging from one to the other as they exchanged punches steadily. Glick's superior boxing stood him in good stead and in two rounds, the third and tenth, he had the local boy dazed.

BELOTE ADVANCES IN OXY TENNIS TOURNEY

Dick Belote, leading tennis ace of the freshman class at Occidental, kept apace with the favorites in the all-college tennis tournament by defeating Gemmell Smith, 6-2, 6-2, yesterday. Dale Robinson, Oxy captain-elect of the varsity, defeated H. Hori, 6-0, 6-0. Marion Hansen, transfer from Pasadena J.C., led the field with a second-round triumph over Prof. George Day of the sociology department, 6-2, 6-4.

All of the first round has now been completed.

BALL CLUBS STAR AT MEXICAN CELEBRATION

As an added attraction to the huge Mexican Day celebration to be held at Wrigley Field next Sunday, the El Paso Shore Store nine will meet the Pacific Electric team in what is expected to be a very closely fought baseball game.

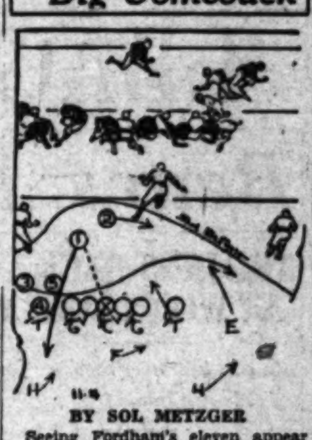
Cavanaugh in Big Comeback



BY SOL METZGER

Seeing Fordham's eleven appear for practice before a game this fall, the team that upset New York University, you might think you were watching a football squad of the early '90's. The players wear full-length suits of union character instead of the orthodox padded pants with woolen jerseys. In addition to pants the men are attired in sleeveless laced jackets.

But once Fordham gets under way you know the team is modern by its football. Frank Cavanaugh, their coach, who won previous renown at both Dartmouth and Boston colleges, uses the man-in-motion-before-the-ball idea to perfection. West Virginia will have to watch sharply for such plays when they meet Fordham in an election day game in New York today.

The No. 3 back is the gent in motion. Watch him swing to his left. As he gets well under way in this case, obviously to draw with him the defensive full, the ball is snapped to No. 1, who strikes between his end and tackle.

the world in Rhode Island, Arizona and four counties in South Dakota.

Mr. Brown wishes to be fought by Huat and doubtless will be obliged. Huat was an infant Paul Revere of the great war. At a tender age, when the Germans were entering Soissons, his native city, he mounted his velocipede and rode into town yelling, "the Germans are coming." The Mayor gave him a medal some years later.

In the other bouts of the flyweight tournament, or insect shows, the fighting was uniformly fussy and agile, but also uniformly futile and dull. There were forty rounds of this and no knockdowns.

The summaries:

Midget Wolgast, Philadelphia, won from Johnny McCoy, Buffalo, N. Y.

BRUIN FROSH CAGERS HOLD FIRST WORKOUT

Coach Wilbur Johns sent out his first call for freshman basketball players at the University of California at Los Angeles yesterday, and the first practice of the year was held last night on the Hollywood High School court. Although a number of casaba prospects are now on the peagreener football team, a fairly large turnout greeted the Bruin frosh mentor.

Among the star prep cagers who will report to Coach Johns after this week when football practice ceases for the frosh, are Ted Lemcke, former ace at the pivot position for Hollywood High, and Dud Tower, a guard from L. A. High, who is now playing halfback on Coach Freddy Oster's frosh eleven.

LIVSEY TWICE WINNER

Spencer Livsey, Coast entrant in the world's championship tournament, made a high run of eighty-five to beat W. Clements, 125 to 65, yesterday afternoon at Helm's Recreation in Hollywood. In the evening match he beat Charles Grose, 125 to 61. Livsey is meeting all comers daily.

SAGEHENS MEET ARIZONA

Pomona Eleven Off Friday Night for Game With Wildcats Following Day at Tucson

CLAREMONT, Nov. 4.—Having successfully conquered the Redlands Bulldogs, the job being somewhat tougher than some Pomona grid followers expected, the Sagehens turned their thoughts toward Arizona this afternoon. The Sagehens meet the Wildcats at Tucson, Saturday. Most of the Pomona squad saw the Wildcats trim Occidental and consequently know what to expect when the two teams tangle.

Redlands proved to be a mighty tough outfit and consequently several Sagehens are laid up with injuries. Stew Hagsted and Art Colley both received injuries that will keep them out of the game for at least two weeks. Hagsted dislocated his arm, while Colley tore the muscles of his shoulder. Colley's place in the line will be taken by Nip Walker, while Clarence Bishop will take over Hagsted's duties at end.

Pomona showed very little football against Redlands Saturday. It was not until the fourth quarter after the Bulldogs had scared the Pomona outfit into action that the Sagehens made a creditable showing. With Putnam carrying the ball on line bucks with a few runs by Hartman and Slancer, the Sagehens carried the ball 60 yards to a touchdown in less than four minutes.

Coaches Eugene W. Nixon and Colvin Heath had plenty to say this afternoon and most of it was what the Arizona Wildcat is going to do to the poor Sagehen if it plays next Satrday the way it did against Redlands.

The Pomona squad leaves for Arizona Friday night, arriving in Phoenix early Saturday morning. After the game the players will be the guests of the Phoenix Junior Chamber of Commerce at a reception to be held at the Westward Ho Hotel. Sunday the players will again be the guests of the Chamber of Commerce, when the entire squad is to take the famous Apache Trail trip, which includes visits to the Roosevelt Dam and the famous gold mines at Miami. The squad is due back in Pomona early Monday morning.

would from California if it were not for the fact that they will probably meet the Golden Bear's second varsity, the same bunch who whipped the San Francisco Olympic Club.

Price's second varsity is unquestionably stronger than the first team of 1927. There are those who say that it is more powerful than the first varsity of 1928. That is complimentary to a squad of sophomores and juniors. If Price can manage to keep his first varsity out of the excitement for three weeks, he will have a rip roaring, energized team for Stanford. The first varsity will be so eager to grab the Cardinals by the shirts that they will probably tear the goal posts down before the game. Furthermore, the boys would then be in great shape physically and the heightened mental condition would add in no small measure.

Just what policy he will assume toward the coming games Price has not yet let the press know. In fact, the press has to rely on its judgment most of the time. The Montana policy will, in most likelihood, be as stated above, but the Washington strategy depends upon the circumstances. As to the big game, ask "Pop" Warner. He knows as much about it as the nosey sports scribes.

Favor Loyola Over Pacific Team Monday

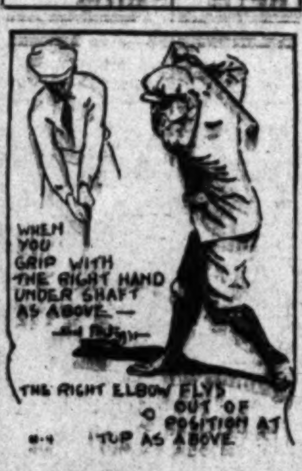
After their 6-to-0 victory over the California Agricultural College last Friday night the Loyola Lions are favorites to beat the College of the Pacific eleven when the two squads meet at Stockton next Monday. Coach Driver will take his entire aggregation to Stockton, leaving Saturday morning.

By their victory over the Aggies the Lions distinguished themselves as stronger than any squad in the Far Western Conference, for the Mustangs have the conference championship already cinched. This is a great boost for the Lions due to the fact that they have been considered as probable members of the conference.

Only one injury came to Driver's squad as the result of Friday's victory and that is a serious neck injury to George Kieffel, first-string tackle. George hails from Poly High, where he was a star on the Mechanics' line. He also was an All-City tackle for two years. This is his first year at Loyola.

The Lions have four more games left on their 1929 schedule and all four are hard contests. After they return from Stockton they meet the Santa Clara Bronchos at Wrigley Field in what promises to be a bang-up game. Then they travel to Tempe, Ariz., where they meet the Tempe Teachers' College, and then for their final game they play the San Diego Marines at the Bay City.

Do Not Grip Under Club



WHEN YOU GRIP WITH THE RIGHT HAND UNDER SHAFT AS ABOVE—

BY SOL METZGER

"The arms should be used naturally and swung naturally," says Arthur Goss, golf instructor at the Everglades Club, Palm Beach. Recall his method of placing them on the club and you get the point. You merely swing them forward from the sides to position on the shaft without twisting or turning them.

Many of us grip with the right hand too far under the leather. When that is done the backswing goes amiss because that arm is twisted. The correct swing demands that the arms remain close together and close to the body. But grip with the right hand under the leather and this is impossible.

Then, instead of the right arm staying close to the body, its elbow hugging the side, the elbow pokes out from the side as in the sketch on the left. Control of clubhead is then impossible.

Your game is as good as your drive. Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times, requesting his free leaflet on Driving. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

MISSION RECEIVES FISH FROM BARGE

HERMOSA BEACH, Nov. 4.—So many fish were caught off the Olympic Barge yesterday that the anglers couldn't take them all home and Capt. J. M. Anderson, skipper of the big vessel, had all the extra fish sent to the Midnight Mission in Los Angeles.

Supervisor Frank Shaw was among those contributing largely to the Mission fish basket. The gift was largely made up of mackerel, with some sculpin and halibut thrown in for good measure.

POETS GUN FOR TIGERS

Whittier Eleven Hopes to Surprise Occidental in Armistice Day Grid Tilt Monday

None too pleasant memories of a stinging Armistice Day defeat at the hands of a supposedly weak Whittier team on the Poet gridiron two years ago, when overconfidence cost a highly touted Occidental eleven a victory with the resultant loss of the Southern California Conference championship to Pomona, have put the Tigers on their toes in preparation for a renewal of the holiday classic next Monday at Whittier.

The stage is set in different fashion this year, however. Occidental is rated as among the three strongest Southern California Conference teams, but likewise, Whittier, under the guidance of Coach Chief Newman, has developed an eleven admitted to be one of the most powerful ever to carry the Poet colors. The Poets already have lost a tough game to Pomona but the Sagehens, like Oxy and Whittier, have an unusually strong team this year.

A cock-sure attitude will not mitigate against Oxy next Monday. Coach Eddie Kienholz and his Tigers are fully aware of just what they are up against—a fast backfield and a powerful, hard-charging line. It will be a better team that spells defeat for Occidental in case Whittier wins the Armistice Day contest.

Defeating San Diego State, 20 to 0, Saturday, Occidental disposed of a team that many thought might upset the Bengals. Redlands, La Verne and Caltech are expected to give the Eagle Rock eleven little opposition. But Whittier and Pomona stand very much in the way of a conference championship for Oxy.

The Armistice Day game at Whittier has become one of the big traditional games of the Southland, and rates only second to the Oxy-Pomona contest in Southern California Conference importance. On alternate years Whittier meets Pomona and Occidental on their home field in the holiday affair, this year being Oxy's turn to trek to the Poet field.

Dame and will be valuable in this game. Few fans will forget his feat of last year when he blocked one of "Butch" Niemiec's passes, caught the ball before it dropped to the ground, and dashed some 20 yards for a touchdown.

MOSES GETS CHANCE

Don Moses will be given every opportunity to prove his worth at fullback. Don and Harry Edelson played this position against Notre Dame two years ago in Chicago, the former doing exceptionally well at backing up the line.

Moses played some fine defensive football against California and also gave indication that he is probably his old self when it comes to carrying the ball.

Jim Musick, obviously off color, did not do anything remarkable Saturday. He failed to stave off Ed Griffiths, local boy, when that young man fought his way around Tappaan's end on a 16-yard run which placed the Bears in position to score their opening touchdown. Musick was playing secondary defense on that side and should have done better.

The Trojan freshmen, having trimmed both Stanford and California, wind up their season Saturday against U.C.L.A., the game being a preliminary one to the Nevada affair in the Coliseum. In the absence of Aubrey Devine, who has been scouting Notre Dame, Lloyd Thomas, Jess Hibbs and Charley Boren did a good job of piloting the Trojan yearlings to victory over California Saturday. Devine is due back today from Atlanta where he saw Rockne's team flatten Georgia Tech.

Pick Bulldog Eleven Over Caltech Team

The Beavers of Caltech go against their conference rivals from Redlands this Saturday afternoon at the Rose Bowl. Usually the Engineers take the Redlands game in stride, while pointing for another team, but this year due to the unusual strength of the Bulldogs, Redlands is favored to cop the game. It is very doubtful if the Engineers will be able to stop them.

Redlands has proved her strong team, by scoring once on Pomona, last Saturday, a feat that the Beavers were unable to do. This in itself gives the Bulldogs the slight edge. What the Redlands boys were able to do to San Diego a couple of weeks ago is pleasant history at the Redlands campus. They were able to score an unexpected win, 7 to 6. The strong Oxy team was only able to get twenty points out of Peterson's boys. All in all, it looks as though the Bulldogs have the decided edge.

With Bell in the backfield, and Belden at end, the Bulldogs have a strong passing combination, in the game with Pomona these two boys were able to work the ball down to Pomona's 2-yard line. Then Fox, the plunging fullback, was able to score.

The Redlands line has improved as the season has gone on, until now they are a hard-driving, well-working bunch. The Beavers are given an edge over them defensively, as Stanton's boys have learned how to defend their own goal, in the last two games that they have played against stronger teams.

GAELS NEXT ON BRUIN PROGRAM

U.C.L.A. Gridders Battle St. Mary's on 16th

Coach Bill Spaulding and thirty-six Bruin football players returned home to the Westwood campus of the University of California at Los Angeles after assimilating a 27-to-0 defeat over the week-end up at Eugene, Or., at the hands of the University of Oregon Webfeet. The U.C.L.A. gridders were given a vacation from practice yesterday afternoon, and will be given only a very light workout today.

No injuries to the varsity squad were reported yesterday, according to Trainer Billy Burke; all men coming through the contest in fine shape. Practices all this week will be very light in order to give the Bruins a chance to rest up for their encounter with the powerful Galloping Gaels from St. Mary's College on the 16th inst. in the Los Angeles Coliseum. U.C.L.A. has an open date this Saturday.

Breaks that went the wrong way and fatal football foibles at the wrong spot cost the local team the game last Saturday against Oregon, according to the players and coaching assistants that made the trip, with the Bruins ringing up more yardage and first downs than the Webfeet. Two bad breaks gave Oregon its first touchdown. Marion (Patches) French, fighting Westwood center, broke through to block a punt on the home team's 40-yard line, but the ball bounced crazily across the field after it hit the ground, and Oregon recovered on the Bruin 40-yard stripe. U.C.L.A. then got the ball on the 20-yard line after a punt over the goal, and elected to punt. The pass from center was bad, and hit Norman Duncan's knee, Christensen getting the ball. A touchdown followed.

The Bruins opened up with a passing attack, but only one out of twenty heaves was completed. Three times the Bruins lost sure touchdowns when the receiver dropped the ball. Wellendorf, who played a bang-up defensive game, let one slide out of his arms while standing on the goal line, and "King" Solomon dropped two when he was clear with no one between him and the goal.

CITY SOCCER RACE RATED AS TOSS-UP

The defeat handed the strong Hollywood soccer football club by the L.A.A.C. Mecuries Sunday leaves the race for the championship of the City League a wide-open affair with four powerful teams in the running. L.A.A.C., Hollywood, Magyars and Vikings are all battling for the lead with the Spanish-Americans close behind.

The Mercuries are the only undefeated team but have been tied twice. Four more good games will be played Sunday. At Loyola Field the Spanish-Americans face Richfield at 1 o'clock and the Sons of St. George tackle the Magyars at 3 o'clock. At Pasadena the Vikings meet the Scots at 1 o'clock and Pasadena A. and C.C. meets Hollwood at 3 o'clock.

RAZOR TRAIL NO LONGER A TRIAL

Double-action Smooths Way to Shaving Comfort

You know the cussedness of a shave that's a tug-of-war with every single hair in your beard. Shaving can be a trial, you'll admit. It can be, that is, if you haven't discovered the double-action shave with Squibb's Shaving Cream.

A double-action shave is different—it's distinctly new. And all because of a unique balm for the skin recently perfected in the Squibb Laboratories. This ingredient has two actions.

Notice first the smooth glide it gives your razor. Off come the hairs, neatly and cleanly clipped. And . . . your whole face is left fresh and sparkling, healthily glowing with a brand-new comfort—a comfort you've never had before.

Because, unlike ordinary soaps which steal the delicate oils essential to the skin, Squibb's leaves your face just as Nature intended it to be . . . with all the vital oils restored. That's what this new ingredient does for shaving. That's why a double-action shave is so brisk and pleasant.

A SPECIALTY

We have a DOLLAR DOWN sales set-up on a popular priced household necessity that means SALES.

As a SALESMAN you are naturally looking for something of merit that will SELL.

Now, answer this question to yourself: If you had two articles of quality that are in GREAT DEMAND and were in a position to sell them for HALF of what any other merchant would dare offer them, how many sales do you feel YOU could make, particularly if you were permitted to take orders right in the prospects own home at a DOLLAR DOWN and a dollar per week.

Now, mind you, we ARRANGE your interview by GETTING YOU INTO THE HOME at your own expense, and pay you on all other purchases that your customer makes.

FRANCE'S SURPLUS

France is finding that a surplus in the national treasury can be embarrassing. The present Cabinet is in the novel position—novel, at least, since the World War—of having to dispose of an income greater than budgetary expense. It is divided in opinion as to how far there should be a reduction in taxation.

The heroic measures taken by Poincare to rehabilitate national finances and stabilize the franc have succeeded beyond expectation. Already there is a surplus of about 4,000,000,000 francs, roughly $160,000,000 in American money. One faction in the government wishes to reduce taxes so as to dispose of about half that sum for next year and to put the rest into a sinking fund for retirement of the internal debt. Another would make a heavier reduction, arguing that it is to the interest of merchants to relieve them of part of the heavy burden they must bear through France's elaborate system of indirect taxation. In other words, there is seeming conflict between holders of government bonds and those who pay most of the taxes.

That is a question of internal policy with which outsiders have little right to interfere. Nevertheless this marked improvement in the financial situation of the French government is cause for general satisfaction throughout the world.—[New York Sun.

HOPEFUL PROMOTER

William C. Schroeder of the Bureau of Fisheries said at a fishermen's dinner in Washington, apropos of a promoter of a cod trust:

"He's like all promoters, too hopeful. They tell a story about him.

"He turned up one day in Chicago and said he'd just made $1,000,000—sold 700,000 acres of rich Texas bottom land and fixed himself for life. No, he hadn't actually got the money yet. It would arrive next week.

"But next week he was discovered trying to leave his hotel with his baggage without paying his bill. A chap who heard him arguing with the hotel clerk said:

"'But how about that Texas land deal? Didn't it work out?'

"'No,' said the promoter, 'I slipped up on two minor technicalities, and now the whole thing's off.'

"'Hard luck. What were the minor technicalities?'

"'Why, the guy that was selling the land couldn't produce the title to it, and the guy that was buying didn't have the money.'"

Blue Vitriol Kills Fish

Thousands of fish have been killed in White Bear Lake, Minnesota, supposedly by blue vitriol or some other powerful chemical, according to George W. McCullough, State Game and Fish Commissioner. The chemical apparently was used to kill vegetation along the shore. Blindness may be caused to persons swimming in the chemical-laden water, Mr. McCullough asserted, although no such cases have been reported yet.

Paul N. Coates, county surveyor, today was ordered to dispose of the fish which line the shores of the lake and also to begin an independent investigation to determine the cause of the wholesale death of the fish and also the person responsible for the use of the chemical, if one was used.

THE AMERICAN "GALLUS"

Something should be done about suspenders, says the New York Herald Tribune. It is disillusioning to realize that the age which has perfected the steam riveter, the airplane, the thermos bottle and the zipper, and beautified the icebox, the umbrella, the filling station, the female stocking and the male knickerbocker, has done but little for that cardinal necessity of male attire, the old-fashioned suspender.

If only the manufacturers would take this matter to heart men not only could but would take off their coats and show their suspenders as proudly as they flaunt their neckties. And that would be the beginning of a sartorial revolution which would mark an epoch in the history of American manners.

Handcuffed to His Burden

Designed to prevent the operations of thieves, a woman has invented a treasure box which is secured to the messenger by means of a handcuff. The hand extends through the top of the strong box with a handle inside and a burglar alarm at finger's end so that the attention of passers may be attracted in case of a hold-up.

They Agree

"Don't be afraid of overalls, grease or grime," is the counsel of Dr. John Martin Thomas, president of Rutgers, to his seniors. That any work is honorable is the first principle of Americanism. Dr. Rogers of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology the spoofer of Harvard, really believes that as thoroughly as does Dr. Thomas.

Forethought

"And was Mrs. Swank surprised when she found out you were leaving her, Cook?"

"Oh, no, ma'am. She knew before I did."—[Bulletin, Sydney.

NAVY FLYERS EXHIBIT SKILL

Ingalls Has First View of Pacific Armada

Total of 180 Planes Put Through Paces

Tactical Exercises Will Continue Today

The battle fleet air squadrons, numbering 180 new type planes, were put through their paces at sea yesterday for David S. Ingalls, Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics, who is on the Coast for his first view of the Pacific armada.

The tactical exercises, continuing today and tomorrow, are being executed by the eight battleships of the dreadnaught squadron, the aircraft carrier Langley, aboard which is Mr. Ingalls, eight destroyers of the plane guard detail and a division of mine sweepers.

The maneuvers, although conducted in honor of the flying Secretary, himself an aviator in the World War, lack the usual scope and magnitude of monthly tactical exercises because of the absence of many units of the fleet.

Both new aircraft carriers, the Saratoga and Lexington, are undergoing annual overhaul at the Puget Sound navy yard, while the thirty-odd units of the destroyer squadrons are in the midst of being decommissioned and replaced by other ships in reserve at San Diego.

Mr. Ingalls, returning to base with the fleet next Thursday, will hop off immediately for San Francisco in the Ford tri-motored transport plane in which he is making his tour of naval establishments.

Accompanied by his aide, Lieutenant-Commander R. P. Molten, and the pilot, Lieut. G. T. Cuddihy, he will proceed north to Seattle and thence across the continent to Washington, where he is due on the 13th inst.

TWO DEAD IN TRAFFIC, ONE DYING

Youth Killed in Crash of Cars, Woman Dies of Hurts, Three Injured

An 18-year-old youth was killed, three pedestrians were near death, and a series of less seriously injured persons were treated by police surgeons in a series of automobile accidents last night, while an elderly woman died from previous crash injuries. Mike Topoian of Turlock, said by police to be the driver of the automobile responsible for the death of Mrs. Hariette Hobein, 60, of 2516 Hillcrest Drive, was booked at the University station on a manslaughter charge.

Two aged pedestrians were injured probably fatally in similar accidents at widely separated points, according to the police records. Henry Scharr, 67, of 1011 Mignonette street, received fractures of both legs and was suffering from shock after being struck by an automobile driven by Dr. Hugh Brown, 1535 Pleasant street, at the corner of Indiana avenue and Fremont streets. Physicians at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital said Scharr might not live.

Henry F. Walbridge, 75, of 5470 West Boulevard, received a crushed leg and probable internal injuries when he was knocked to the pavement by a car driven by Roy T. Weston, 2733 Exposition Place, at the intersection of Fifty-fourth street and Angeles Mesa Drive. Hospital physicians said he might not recover.

James Swearingen, the youth, of 812 Lexington street, died shortly after a collision with a car reported to have been driven by Dr. Earl L. O'Donnell, 410 Pacific Mutual Building, at Ninth and Catalina streets. Dr. O'Donnell was booked at Wilshire station on suspicion of manslaughter. Miss A. Goodwin, 417 3-4 North Serrano street, riding with Swearingen, was not injured.

Henry Lowen, 79, 4519 Gilbert Place, was reported struck down at Third avenue and Washington Boulevard by a car driven by Louis Cottyany, 1734 Sixth avenue. Lowen suffering from a depressed skull fracture last night at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, was given small chance of recovery by police surgeons.

Cottyany was detained pending police investigation.

Lawyer Cited on Contempt

On request of Asst. U. S. Atty. Balter, United States District Judge Pollock yesterday ordered Earl Curtis Peck, an attorney in Los Angeles, to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court.

It was asserted by Balter that Peck owes the government $80 on a c.o.d. package since 1921, that he was notified to appear in court, but said he lacked assets. Later, it is stated in the documents filed yesterday, Peck gave the government a check for $40, which, it is asserted, was not covered by his bank account. Deputy United States Marshal Mangerina yesterday notified Peck to appear in court this morning.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TO SELL BUNGALOWS

On recommendation of its building committee, the Board of Education voted last night to sell eight small bungalows in a court on ground owned by the board as part of the Micheltorena-street school site. Sealed bids for the bungalows will be opened by the building committee at 10:30 p.m. on the 20th inst., in Room 770, Chamber of Commerce Building. Each bid must be made on a form which can be obtained at the office of the secretary of the board. The terms of sale will be cash and no bids will be accepted which are not above a minimum price which has been set for each bungalow, the minimum for two of them being set at $250 and on the other six at $400.

PLANS LAID FOR SCHOOL ENLARGING

College of Chiropractic to Seek $250,000 Fund so It Can be Expanded

Steps toward obtaining a chiropractic hospital, school, clinic and laboratory for Los Angeles were taken yesterday by Dr. Charles H. Wood, president of the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic. To take care of 500 students, the hospital and free clinic will be constructed especially with a view to handling maternity and nerve cases.

Plans for financing the undertaking have been placed by Dr. Wood in the hands of Dr. L. R. Pennington, the school's registrar. Dr. Pennington said a general appeal will be made for $250,000 in endowment scholarships.

It is the plan, according to Dr. Pennington, to sell the school's present site at 918 Venice Boulevard and with the sum thus obtained and the $250,000 endowment to purchase and build on a new location. Later, another $250,000 scholarship endowment, he said, probably will be solicited.

An associate board of regents, Dr. Wood stated, will be named soon. The school's requirements, he declared, will be increased from the present 3600 hours to 6000, comprising five terms, or four calendar years of twelve months each.

STATE WILL ACT ON SAN GABRIEL

Flood Control Commission yesterday.

Supervisor Shaw had introduced the motion that he sponsored last Friday, but which perished in a tie vote when Supervisor Beaty, the odd member, could not be located. This resolution would have rescinded the board's employment of the experts at $100 a day and expenses. Meanwhile E. C. Eaton, engineer of the flood-control district, had asked that he be authorized to go ahead and pay the experts.

WRANGLE BEGINS

So instead of seconding Supervisor Shaw's motion, Supervisor Graves said it would be just as well to vote down the appropriation to pay the experts.

"Yes, it would do just as well for advertising purposes," interposed Supervisor McClellan, with just a touch of sarcasm in his voice.

"Members of this board have the right to do just as they please without listening to any dictation from anybody," replied Supervisor Graves. "I made that remark in good faith, and I have never made a play before this board for advertising."

"And another thing," added Supervisor Graves, "I would like to have the chairman's remarks expunged from the records. I resent his intimation that I have not acted in good faith."

IT'S CALLED DRAW

Supervisor McClellan said there was no use getting excited, and that County Supervisors always must remember to act like gentlemen, and not engage in any unseemly brawls in their sessions.

So then Supervisor Graves said that he always acted like a gentleman, but he didn't think that a real honest-to-goodness gentleman would vote for a high dam that might break and drown a lot of helpless women and children, probably unable to swim, and in case of a big flood, swimming wouldn't do them much good, anyhow.

So everybody grinned, and called it a draw, and Supervisor Shaw said that as long as so many engineers are surveying the San Gabriel site, he has arranged with the United States Geological Survey to make a study of the structural geology in the San Gabriel Canyon. Supervisor Shaw said that unlike some other surveys he could mention, the one he proposes will not cost the county a cent.

MRS. M'PHERSON HELPER HUNTED

ization's affairs. They plan to return Saturday.

The search for the missing financial adviser is being made to ascertain the fact surrounding a mysterious bank account said to have been maintained by Mrs. McPherson under the name of Elizabeth Johnson in a Los Angeles bank.

Mrs. McPherson has said that she had nothing to do with the account, and that it was opened and maintained by the missing man.

In asking for the inquiry Dr. Goben asserted that certain of the Angelus Temple funds had been misused by the woman evangelist.

Mrs. McPherson asserted to Beecher that she is not guilty of any wrongful act, and in fact never has anything to do with handling the church finances.

CIRCUS MAN TO SPEAK

Al Priddy, advance representative of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey combined shows, will be the guest speaker at the Tuesday noon luncheon of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles at the Biltmore. His subject will be "The Other Side of Circus Time." Lesis Weiss of the Mayers company will be chairman of the day. "Safety First" is the topic of Daniel Cougherty, manager of the Better Business Bureau. George Pfaffenberger of the Owl Drug Company will be official host.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR UNION ENDED

Couple Part on Anniversary of Their Wedding and Wife Gets Decree

Just seventeen years from the day of the service that made them man and wife Mr. and Mrs. Maynard L. Armstrong separated. Yesterday the wife, Mrs. Fern F. Armstrong, was granted a decree of divorce by Superior Judge Guerin.

According to the complaint filed by Mrs. Armstrong, the Armstrongs were married at Hastings, Neb., on September 17, 1912. They separated on September 17, last.

ATTACK ON MARKETMAN HOLDS PAIR

Victim of Beating May be Seriously Injured; Police Record Missing

Mrs. Mary Swindel and her husband, Al Swindel, were ordered held for questioning by Dep. Dist.-Atty George Stahlman as a result of an asserted attack upon Haig Postoian, proprietor of a vegetable market at 330 West Ninth street Saturday night.

According to Stahlman, evidence has been obtained indicating that Swindel and his wife severely beat Postoian over the head with a hammer and wrench and he is now confined in Roosevelt Hospital in a serious condition.

The investigation was opened yesterday by Postoian's wife, who appeared at the District Attorney's office and demanded to know why no action had been taken in the affair. It was then found that the records were missing from the files of the Wilshire police division, although Postoian is reported to have been taken to the hospital in a police ambulance.

It is charged that Swindel and his wife took Postoian into a back room adjoining his market and beat him because of asserted improper advances he had made toward Mrs. Swindel.

East Hollywood Plans for High School Outlined

The long campaign of residents of the East Hollywood section for the building of a high school in that area took a step nearer realization at the meeting of the Board of Education last night when Superintendent of Schools Bouelle made an informal report on the matter in which he recommended that a principal for the school, which will be known as John Marshall High School, be named by the board as soon as possible.

He also recommended that an architect be selected to prepare plans for the structure in co-operation with the principal and that the contracts be let as soon as funds are available. He said if this action is taken soon it will be possible to complete the school in time to open it in September, 1931. The opening enrollment, he added, is expected to be between 600 and 700 pupils.

No action was taken by the board on the report because of its informal nature, but President Van Norman requested Supt. Bouelle to incorporate his recommendations in a formal report, which probably will be submitted to the board and adopted within the coming week.

The site for the school already is owned by the board. It is bounded by Griffith Park Boulevard, Monon street, Tracy street and St. George street.

Action Deferred on New School

Pending a report to be made by Superintendent of Schools Bouelle of a survey being made of the West Adams-Culver City-Palms section, the Board of Education voted last night to defer action for one month on communications received from three civic associations requesting the building of a high school to serve that section.

The communications came from the West Adams Woman's Club, the West Adams Taxpayers' Protective League and the Adams-Hauser District Improvement Association.

VETERANS WILL GATHER

Los Angeles Post, No. 10 of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, will meet in Roosevelt Hall, Patriotic Building, 1816 South Figueroa street, this evening at 8 o'clock. Arrangements will be made for taking part in the Armistice Day parade. All ex-service men of any part of the British Empire are invited.

DELAY FOR PORT MEET AGREED TO Long Beach Will Accept Los Angeles' Proposal to Defer Washington Hearing

"Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Consent to the Los Angeles proposal that the hearing before the Army Board of Engineers on the matter of the breakwater extension for Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor be postponed from the 18th to the 26th inst., will be given by Long Beach, city officials declared today.

Arrangements for Long Beach representation at the Washington hearing were completed at a meeting this morning. The delegation from here will include Mayor Hauge, Councilmen Church, Barton and Jones and I. W. Stevens, president of the Chamber of Commerce. They will be joined at Washington by Col. E. N. Johnston, consulting engineer, who has been employed to present Long Beach's case.

AIRPLANE NEWS EXCHANGE

SALT LAKE CITY
WASHINGTON D. C.

(Not all the interesting and out-of-the-ordinary news of the day finds a place on crowded wires or waves. Every evening The Times conducts a news exchange by airplane. By Western Air Express, T.A.T. and Standard lines papers of current and yester date from pivotal cities are received. Washington, D. C., contributes the Star only two days from the press; Indianapolis and Chicago, thirty-six hours; Kansas City, Salt Lake City and Phoenix are just halfway 'round the clock. Today's gleanings range in subject from the discovery in Chicago that most of the passenger steamers on the Great Lakes are around forty years of age, to the report of a bounteous lettuce crop in Arizona.)

PLENTY OF SALAD

Arizona Republican, Nov. 4.

A greatly improved prospect for the coming lettuce harvest is reported by J. E. Foote, chief deputy for the State Inspection and Standardization Service. Two weeks ago the reports ran from 65 to 75 per cent as the expected yield. Now growers expect 80 or 85 per cent, Foote says.

Cooler weather has improved the crop prospects, both because of better growing conditions and because the grasshoppers have passed into history. Last year the first cars were loaded and shipped around November 20. Foote believes weather conditions during the next three weeks will determine the chances of Thanksgiving lettuce this year. It is probable the first cars will go out about December 1, he says.

PASSING SHIPS

Chicago Tribune, Nov. 2.

Five steam passenger ships plying the Great Lakes with Chicago as headquarters were built approximately forty or more years ago. Seven other similar ships are from thirty-five to forty years old. Most of the ships which have Chicago as their home port are more than twenty-five years old.

These figures, released yesterday at the United States hydrographic office in the Federal Building, were pointed to by navigators as bearing on the discussion of the expected life of a vessel. How old are they before they become obsolescent? It was pointed out that the Wisconsin, which sank in a storm early Tuesday morning, was the oldest passenger boat on Lake Michigan, according to the statistics. The Wisconsin was built more than forty-eight years ago.

AH, BUT THE CHASER?

Kansas City Times, Nov. 4.

Gus Simpson, traveling salesman for a patent-medicine concern, who disappeared from his home here April 4, and who was believed murdered after his motor car was found several days later in Kansas City, Kan., returned here yesterday.

He said that on the day of his disappearance he went to a soft-drink place in the north of Baldwin and drank a bottle of soda pop. He said he did not remember anything from the time he drank the pop until he came to himself in New York later in the month.

WOODSHED JUSTICE

Kansas City Star, Nov. 4.

Eighteen boys were taken to the Nineteenth-street police station and given their choice between being spanked or put in jail, when patrolmen surprised them at Thirteenth and Charlotte streets piling tin cans on roofs and moving motor-car bodies.

All of the boys elected to be spanked. In tribute to their good judgments the police released them.

UTAH'S DIANA

Salt Lake Tribune, Nov. 4.

First to report her kill, Mrs. C. L. Sandberg proved the champion deer shooter of her family Sunday when she scored a 2-year-old buck on Mt. Tabby in the Duchesne River region, in competition with her husband, Dr. C. L. Sandberg, and two other hunters. Mrs. Sandberg was the only woman hunter in the party.

BOOTLEGGERS CHEER

Washington (D. C.) Star, Nov. 2.

Those persons arrested after the 1st inst. for violation of the prohibition law and decide to be tried by jury in Police Court will not be arraigned for at least a year, it was announced today. This resulted from a recent decision of the court judges to have violators tried in chronological order instead of in order of importance, as has been the rule in the past.

HERE THEY COME

Albuquerque Journal, Nov. 4.

"The cold weather brings 'em in," commented Night Sergeant Barney Spears as he booked three more "sleepers." For the benefit of the uninitiated, "sleepers" are those individuals who, because of lack of funds or a desire to conserve those they have, apply to the city for a night's lodging.

While their "room" is the "bullpen" or "tank," it is at least a shelter against the cold. There may be no bath, but there is breakfast the next morning. Following the meal, the "guests" are given a free ride across the bridge and started on their way.

GAS TAX EVASION PLOT TO BE TOLD GRAND JURY

Evidence indicating a plot to defraud the State of hundreds of thousands of dollars through evasion of the 3-cent gasoline tax is scheduled to be placed before the county grand jury today, according to Percy Hammon, deputy District-Attorney in charge of grand jury matters.

The investigation was started by Capt. Norris G. Stensland, chief of the Sheriff's burglary investigation detail, more than a month ago when several large oil companies reported the theft of large amounts of fuel from their plants at Signal Hill.

In the inquiry that followed the officers discovered that numerous large California oil corporations had been purchasing gasoline from Los Angeles producers, ostensibly to be shipped out of the State, but which, in reality, was sidetracked and retailed to independent dealers in Southern California.

In this manner, it is charged, the purchasers evaded the State tax of 3 cents per gallon on all gasoline sold.

Keen Competition by Stations for Public Attention

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The eyes of radio, which follow the ball in rapid-fire running reports of football games, are developing a new art, entirely different from that of the stage, the talking films or the rostrum. Locally, the huddles and scrimmages at the Coliseum on Saturday afternoons are creating the keenest competition between broadcast station announcers, bidding for the attention of the listening-in public.

Centered at the top of the south bank of the bleachers, five stations broadcast the California-U.S.C. game last Saturday. Each station has a booth six feet wide, equipped with a bench and a table about three feet wide. They are open both front and back and the announcer has to contend with the unceasing noise of packed-in humanity just below him and the passing back and forth of assistants and technicians behind him.

NOVEL HEADGEAR

Carl Havelin of KFI was perhaps the dean of the announcers who held forth Saturday and it was interesting to watch him work. He has improvised a headgear which holds a small pair of binoculars. The latter can be pulled down from his forehead instantly when he wants a close-up of the play or pile-up on the field far below.

"The more I do the job the better I like it," he said. "I don't feel nervous any more and I have better control. Why, I used to get so excited over some of the plays that my voice ran away with me, but now it is just another game and a deeply interesting study."

Havelin was assisted by Don Wilson.

OTHER ANNOUNCERS

The ajoining booth held Gary Breckner and Lindsay MacHarrie, with Ernest Underwood and Harold Perry as technicians. Then came Glen Rice, announcer of KNX, assisted by Tom Wallace and Dean Garver as radio engineer. KMTR was handled by Harry Bonsall and Frank Bull and KEJK, the Beverly Hills station, featured Morley Drury, assisted by John McIntire, with K. G. Ormiston and Walter McCreery on the technical end.

Knowledge of the individual players is perhaps the most vital requirement in the snappy, acurate broadcast of a football game and it is no easy task to describe the fact plays and in every case credit the man who carries the ball, makes or receives the pass, brings the runner to earth or stops the play.

ACCURATE ESTIMATES

Most of the announcers estimate the yardage of gain or loss with remarkable accuracy, even before the pile unscrambles and the ball actually comes into view, but it is not always best to try to beat the umpire or referee.

Presentations are carefully worked out in advance with charts at hand to give all possible information regarding the players, but after all the success of the announcing depends largely on the personality of the announcer and his ability to interpret each play briefly and vividly.

Often the listener-in receives a more intimate understanding of the procedure of the game than 90 per cent of the onlookers in the grand stand and the unseen audience last Saturday has been conservatively estimated, including chain hook-up, at 5,000,000 people.

Driver Arrested for Intoxication

Harry Toplitzky, 36 years of age, was booked at central police station last night on a charge of driving while intoxicated after his car is asserted to have crashed into the auto of Miss Kathryn Van Schaick at the intersection of Union avenue and Beverly Drive.

Toplitzky was arrested by Officers Kempf and Dykes, who took him to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. After a sobriety test police surgeons pronounced him intoxicated. He was placed in a cell in the City Jail. He gave his address as 6237 Warring Drive.

Miss Van Schaick of 2523 South Coronado street was given first-aid treatment at the police hospital for a head injury, sustained when she hit the back of her head against the car seat.

FAST RECOVERY DUE FOR COLLEEN MOORE

Colleen Moore is expected to recover repidly following an operation Sunday for appendicitis at the Hollywood Hospital, acording to announcement from her husband, John McCormick, film producer. The actress was reported much improved yesterday and will be able within a short time to return to her home. She was rushed to Hollywood from the East when she was stricken several days ago.

GEORGE H. BEATTY'S RELATIVES SOUGHT

Mrs. David R. Covell, acting superintendent of the Midnight Mission, Fourth and Los Angeles streets, yesterday enlisted the aid of the Los Angeles Times in notifying relatives of George H. Beatty, 59-year-old laundryman, who made his home at the institution, that the latter is reported dying in the General Hospital, as a result of injuries received in a traffic accident. She said the injured man often told her he had relatives in Los Angeles, but never made known their address. Beatty was knocked down by an automobile Saturday night while crossing the street on his way to the mission.

What kind of teeth is your baby building?
Will they be hard..sound..straight..even..uncrowded?

Or will they be soft and subject to early decay...menacing his health and detracting from his appearance in later years?

You can help your baby build good teeth for life by seeing now that he gets a plentiful supply of one essential tooth-and-bone-building factor. Vitamin D!

There are two common sources of this protective element. Sunshine and good cod-liver oil.

Sunshine would protect your baby but it is almost impossible to get enough sunshine on the bare skin to be of benefit. Clothing, clouds, fog and smoke prevent it. Even ordinary window glass filters out the protecting ultra-violet rays.

Authorities urge Both sunshine—good cod-liver oil—surest protection. And them insist on Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil.

They prefer Squibb's they know they can depend high vitamin content. It is very rich in Vitamin D, helps to build good bones but also in Vitamin A which promotes growth and increases resistance to many infections.

Your physician knows the importance of good cod-liver oil your baby. Use the vitamin-protected oil—Squibb All good drug stores have Plain and Squibb's Mint-Cod-Liver Oil.

SNUB GIVEN JOHNSON

President Omits Him at Dinner

All Foreign Relations Group Invited But Personal Foe of Hoover

"Wasn't Asked," Says Hiram, Voicing Resentment for Social Blow

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (Exclusive)—Not even the social amenities of official Washington can bridge the chasm which separates President Hoover from Senator Hiram Johnson, fellow-Californian, but his bitter personal and political foe.

This was shown tonight when the President gave a dinner at the White House in honor of Ambassador and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes to which he invited all members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee save Senator Johnson.

The list of guests included such hostile insurgents and coalitionists as Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, Borah of Idaho, and Harrison of Mississippi. They were not only invited, but they accepted.

But the California Senator was excluded.

NAME NOT ON LIST

When the White House guest list was given out this evening and word was passed along with it that the party was for foreign relations committee members, observers at once noted the absence of Senator Johnson's name from the group which the President expected.

It was assumed at first that Senator Johnson had been asked, but had declined, because of his strained relations with the White House. But he was reached later and he resentfully authorized the following statement:

"I was not invited. That is all I care to say."

There was no question of the resentment Johnson felt. It was evident in his voice and even more in the informal remarks which he made, but preferred not be published.

The White House itself offered no explanation, beyond pointing out that the custom is merely to give out the names of guests who are to attend a function and not go into details as to who may or may not have been invited. It also was suggested that President and Mrs. Hoover are privileged to have to dinner those people whom they want, and to pass over those they do not care to entertain.

LIST OF GUESTS

The list of those present at tonight's dinner included:
